SUMMARY

The information set out below is a summary only and should be read in conjunction with the rest of the Prospectus. This summary is intended to convey the essential characteristics and risks associated with the Issuer, and in relation to the Securities and does not purport to be complete. It is taken from, and is qualified in its entirety by, the remainder of this Prospectus. Accordingly, this summary should be read as an introduction to the Prospectus, and any decision to invest in the Securities should be based on consideration of the Prospectus as a whole by the investor.

Prospective investors should be aware that where a claim relating to the information contained in this Prospectus is brought before a court, the investor making the claim might, under the national legislation of the respective EU member state, have to bear the costs of translating the prospectus before the legal proceedings are initiated.

Civil liability attaches to the Issuer who has tabled the summary including the translation thereof and applied for its notification, but only if the summary is misleading, inaccurate or inconsistent when read together with the other parts of the Prospectus.

SUMMARY OF RISK FACTORS

Risk Factors

Issuer Risk Factors

Prospective investors should consider all information provided in the Registration Document and consult with their own professional advisers if they consider it necessary. The following describes risk factors relating to the issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the securities.

Ratings

Ratings assigned to the issuer by certain independent rating agencies are an indicator of the issuer's ability to meet its obligations in a timely manner. The lower the assigned rating is on the respective scale the higher the respective rating agency assesses the risk that obligations will not be met at all or not be met in a timely manner. As of the publication date of this summary, the following ratings were assigned to Deutsche Bank:

Rating Agency	Long-term	Short-term
Standard & Poors (S&P)	AA-	A-1+
Fitch	AA-	F1+

Rating agencies may change their ratings at short notice. A rating's change may reflect the price of securities outstanding.

Rating of Subordinated Obligations

If Deutsche Bank enters into subordinated obligations these obligations may be rated lower. Deutsche Bank will disclose such ratings of subordinated obligations (if any).

Risks relating to the Securities

[- To be inserted for each type of Securities]

An investment in the Securities involves risks. These risks may include, among others, equity market, bond market, foreign exchange, interest rate, market volatility and economic, political and regulatory risks and any combination of these and other risks. Prospective purchasers should be experienced with respect to transactions in instruments such as the Securities and in the underlying asset or other basis of reference for the Securities (the "Underlying"). Prospective purchasers should understand the risks associated with an investment in the Securities and should only reach an investment decision after careful consideration, with their legal, tax, accounting and other advisers, of (i) the suitability of an investment in the Securities in the light of their own particular financial, tax and other circumstances; (ii) the information set out in this document and (iii) the Underlying.

The Securities may decline in value and investors should be prepared to sustain a total loss of their investment in the Securities. The shorter the remaining term of the Securities, the higher the risk of decline in value of the Securities.

An investment in the Securities should only be made after assessing the direction, timing and magnitude of potential future changes in the value of the Underlying, and/or the in the composition or method of calculation of the Underlying, as the return of any such investment will be dependent, inter alia, upon such changes. More than one risk factor may have simultaneous effect with regard to the Securities such that the effect of a particular risk factor may not be predictable. In addition, more than one risk factor may have a compounding effect which may not be predictable. No assurance can be given as to the effect that any combination of risk factors may have on the value of the Securities.

Single Underlying linked Double-Chance Certificates

The Securities represent an investment similar to a direct investment in the Underlying. In contrast to such direct investment, the Securities offer the possibility of increased returns by leveraged participation in the extent to which the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s) exceeds the specified determination level, but subject to a specified maximum value.

Investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term therefore achieve the maximum return on their initial investment when the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified final valuation days is equal to or greater than the specified maximum value. In this case the cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the sum of the specified maximum value of the Underlying and the maximum Differential Amount. If the value or average value of the Underlying on the final valuation day(s) is less than the specified maximum value but above the specified determination level then the cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the sum of the value or average value of the Underlying and the Differential Amount. However, if the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s) is equal to or below the specified determination level, investors will receive no positive return or will make a loss. Such loss can extend to their whole initial investment where the value, as applicable, or average value of the underlying asset is zero at this time.

[Add additional product specific information, if necessary]

Single Underlying linked Best Chance Certificates

The Securities represent an investment similar to a direct investment in the Underlying. In contrast to such direct investment, however, the Securities enable investors to participate in rises in the value or average value of the Underlying on the basis of the lowest of several values of the Underlying during a specified period. For this, however, investors forgo the opportunity to participate in increases in the value or average value of the Underlying above a specified maximum amount. In addition, the basis of calculation for the participation in the performance of the Underlying will be a specified initial amount, which may be less than the purchase price for the Securities; if this happens and, if the difference between the lowest value of the Underlying on any of the specified days and the specified initial amount is relatively small, investors may not fully participate in rises in the value or average value of the Underlying, and may suffer a loss even if the value or average value of the Underlying rises.

Single Underlying linked Parachute Certificates

The Securities represent an investment similar to a direct investment in the Underlying. In contrast to such direct investment, the Securities offer a degree of protection against decreases in the value of the Underlying until one or more specified valuation day(s): If such value falls to no less than a certain level (the parachute threshold), investors will receive the invested capital back; in case of a further decrease, investors do not fully participate in such decrease, but to a lesser extent, which is the specified parachute factor. For that protection, however, investors may forgo the opportunity to participate fully in increases in the value of the Underlying. [If the Securities provide for a maximum amount insert: If the cash amount determined is equal to or exceeds a specified maximum amount, the cash amount payable at settlement will be equal to that specified maximum amount.] [If the Issuer has the right to redeem the Securities early, insert: However, if the Issuer elects to redeem the Securities early, investors will receive a specified early cash settlement amount.]

Single Underlying linked Renewable Opportunity / Express Certificates

The Securities represent an investment similar to a direct investment in the Underlying. In contrast to such direct investment, the Securities will be redeemed automatically and a specified cash amount will be paid, if the value of the Underlying on a specified barrier determination day is greater than the specified barrier level [if barrier level is not fixed, insert: in respect of such day]. The cash amount will be higher, the later such early redemption occurs.

In addition the Securities provide a degree of protection against decrease in the value of the Underlying, as the investor will receive a cash amount at settlement equal to the value of the Underlying at or around issuance of the Securities, if the value of the Underlying [at any time] [on the specified valuation date] [during a specified barrier determination period] has not been lower than a specified determination level.

For that protection investors forgo the opportunity to participate in any further growth in the value of the Underlying beyond the specified barrier level after an early redemption of the Securities as described above.

Single Underlying linked Discount Certificates

The Securities represent an investment linked to in the economic performance of the Underlying. In contrast to a direct investment in the Underlying, the Securities are sold at an issue price which provides for a discount to the value of the Underlying at or around their issuance, which enables investors to participate in rises in the value or average value of the Underlying up to a specified maximum amount, and to receive a return on their initial investment even if the value or average value of the Underlying falls a certain extent from the initial value of the Underlying (depending on the amount of the discount). For this discount, however, investors forgo the opportunity to participate in increases in the value or average value of the Underlying above such specified maximum amount.]

PRODUCT SPECIFIC RISK FACTORS

Single Underlying linked Certificates (Type 1)

The discussion below is intended to describe various risk factors associated with an investment in the certificates (the "Securities"). No investment should be made in the Securities until after careful consideration of all those factors which are relevant in relation to the Securities. The Issuer believes that the factors described below represent the principal risks inherent in investing in the Securities, but the Issuer does not represent that the statements below regarding risks of holding the Securities are exhaustive. Prospective investors should also read the detailed information set out elsewhere in this document and reach their own views prior to making any investment decision.

Prospective investors should also consider carefully the description of the Underlying (as defined below) in the sections "Product Conditions" and "Information relating to the Underlying" and the further information which is available in relation to the Underlying (which may include additional risk factors).

Introduction

An investment in the Securities involves risks. These risks may include, among others, equity market, bond market, foreign exchange, interest rate, market volatility and economic, political and regulatory risks and any combination of these and other risks. Some of these are briefly discussed below. Prospective purchasers should be experienced with respect to transactions in instruments such as the Securities and in the underlying asset or other basis of reference for the Securities (the "Underlying"). Prospective purchasers should understand the risks associated with an investment in the Securities and should only reach an investment decision after careful consideration, with their legal, tax, accounting and other advisers, of (i) the suitability of an investment in the Securities in the light of their own particular financial, tax and other circumstances, (ii) the information set out in this document and (iii) the Underlying.

The Securities may decline in value and investors should be prepared to sustain a total loss of their investment in the Securities. The shorter the remaining term of the Securities is, the higher the risk of decline in value of the Securities.

An investment in the Securities should only be made after assessing the direction, timing and magnitude of potential future changes in the value of the Underlying and/or in the composition or method of calculation of the Underlying, as the case may be, as the return of any such investment will be dependent, inter alia, upon such changes. More than one risk factor may have simultaneous effect with regard to the Securities such that the effect of a particular risk factor may not be predictable. In addition, more than one risk factor may have a compounding effect which may not be predictable. No assurance can be given as to the effect that any combination of risk factors may have on the value of the Securities.

Further Risk Factors are set out under the headings (A) Terms of the Securities, (B) General Risk Factors relating to the Securities and (C) Market Factors. In addition prospective investors should also review the section headed "Material Interests/Conflicts of Interest".

Introduction

An investment in the Securities involves risks. These risks may include, among others, equity market, bond market, foreign exchange, interest rate, market volatility and economic, political and regulatory risks and any combination of these and other risks. Some of these are briefly discussed below. Prospective purchasers should be experienced with respect to transactions in instruments such as the Securities and in the underlying asset or other basis of reference for the Securities (the "Underlying"). Prospective purchasers should understand the risks associated with an investment in the Securities and should only reach an investment decision after careful consideration, with their legal, tax, accounting and other advisers, of (i) the suitability of an investment in the Securities in the light of their own particular financial, tax and other circumstances, (ii) the information set out in this document and (iii) the Underlying.

The Securities may decline in value and investors should be prepared to sustain a total loss of their investment in the Securities. The shorter the remaining term of the Securities is, the higher the risk of decline in value of the Securities.

An investment in the Securities should only be made after assessing the direction, timing and magnitude of potential future changes in the value of the Underlying and/or in the composition or method of calculation of the Underlying, as the case may be, as the return of any such investment will be dependent, inter alia, upon such changes. More than one risk factor may have simultaneous effect with regard to the Securities such that the effect of a particular risk factor may not be predictable. In addition, more than one risk factor may have a compounding effect which may not be predictable. No assurance can be given as to the effect that any combination of risk factors may have on the value of the Securities.

Further Risk Factors are set out under the headings (A) Terms of the Securities, (B) General Risk Factors relating to the Securities and (C) Market Factors. In addition prospective investors should also review the section headed "Material Interests/Conflicts of Interest".

[If Cash Settlement only insert:

The outperformance certificates (the "Securities") represent the right to receive payment of a cash amount at settlement. The cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the value or average value of an underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying") on one or more specified days. If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is greater than a specified determination level, the cash amount payable will reflect the sum of the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) and a specified proportion of the difference between the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) and the specified determination level. If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is equal to or less than the specified determination level, the cash amount payable will reflect only the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s). In each case, the cash amount is subject to deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.]

[If Physical Settlement may apply insert:

The outperformance certificates (the "Securities") represent the right to receive either delivery of specified asset(s) and/or payment of a cash amount at settlement. If the value or average value of the underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying") on one or more specified day(s) is less than a specified determination level, a specified asset [or assets] will be deliverable; if it is equal to or greater than the specified determination level, a cash amount will be payable which will reflect the sum of the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) and a specified proportion of the difference between the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) and the specified determination level.]

[The payment of cash and the delivery of specified asset(s) at settlement is subject to deduction or payment (as the case may be) of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.]

[If Cash Settlement only insert:

Prospective investors should note that the return (if any) on their investment in the Securities will depend on the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s). If such value is less than the value of the Underlying at or about the time of issuance of the Securities, investors that have bought the Securities at their issue date and hold them for their entire term will suffer a loss on their investment. Investors will lose their investment altogether if the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is zero. Accordingly, an investment in the Securities involves a number of risks which may include, without limitation, a similar market risk to a direct investment in the Underlying and investors should take advice accordingly.

[If Physical Settlement may apply insert:

Prospective investors should note that the return (if any) on their investment in the Securities will depend on the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s). If such value is less than the specified determination level, at settlement a holder of a Security will, subject as provided below, receive delivery of the specified asset(s) and from such time holders will be exposed to the risk of losses associated with holding those specified asset(s). In such case, if the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is below the value of the Underlying at or about the time of issuance of the Securities, investors that have bought the Securities at their issue date and hold them for their entire term will suffer a loss on their investment. Investors will lose their investment altogether if the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is zero. Accordingly, an investment in the Securities involves a number of risks which may include, without limitation a similar market risk to a direct investment in the Underlying and investors should take advice accordingly.

The discussion below is intended to describe various risk factors associated with an investment in the warrants (the "Securities"). Prospective investors should also read the detailed information set out elsewhere in this Prospectus and reach their own views prior to making any investment decision.

Prospective investors should also consider carefully the description of the Underlying (as defined below) in the sections "Product Conditions" and "Information relating to the Underlying" and the further information which is available in relation to the Underlying (which may include additional risk factors).

Single Underlying linked Best Chance Certificates

The discussion below is intended to describe various risk factors associated with an investment in the certificates (the "Securities"). No investment should be made in the Securities until after careful consideration of all those factors which are relevant in relation to the Securities. The Issuer believes that the factors described below represent the principal risks inherent in investing in the Securities, but the Issuer does not represent that the statements below regarding risks of holding the Securities are exhaustive. Prospective investors should also read the detailed information set out elsewhere in this Prospectus and reach their own views prior to making any investment decision.

Prospective investors should also consider carefully the description of the Underlying (as defined below) in the sections "Product Conditions" and "Information relating to the Underlying" and the further information which is available in relation to the Underlying (which may include additional risk factors).

Introduction

An investment in the Securities involves risks. These risks may include, among others, equity market, bond market, foreign exchange, interest rate, market volatility and economic, political and regulatory risks and any combination of these and other risks. Some of these are briefly discussed below. Prospective purchasers should be experienced with respect to transactions in instruments such as the Securities and in the underlying asset or other basis of reference for the Securities (the "Underlying"). Prospective purchasers should understand the risks associated with an investment in the Securities and should only reach an investment decision after careful consideration, with their legal, tax, accounting and other advisers, of (i) the suitability of an investment in the Securities in the light of their own particular financial, tax and other circumstances, (ii) the information set out in this Prospectus and (iii) the Underlying.

The Securities may decline in value and investors should be prepared to sustain a total loss of their investment in the Securities. The shorter the remaining term of the Securities is, the higher the risk of decline in value of the Securities.

An investment in the Securities should only be made after assessing the direction, timing and magnitude of potential future changes in the value of the Underlying and/or in the composition or method of calculation of the Underlying, as the case may be, as the return of any such investment will be dependent, inter alia, upon such changes. More than one risk factor may have simultaneous effect with regard to the Securities such that the effect of a particular risk factor may not be predictable. In addition, more than one risk factor may have a compounding effect which may not be predictable. No assurance can be given as to the effect that any combination of risk factors may have on the value of the Securities.

Further Risk Factors are set out under the headings (A) Terms of the Securities, (B) General Risk Factors relating to the Securities and (C) Market Factors. In addition prospective investors should also review the section headed "Material Interests/Conflicts of Interest".

1. Rights under the Securities

The Best Chance Certificates (the "Securities") represent the right to receive payment of a cash amount at settlement. The cash amount will be equal to the value or average value of an underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying") on one or more specified final valuation days, divided by the lowest value of the Underlying during a specified period, which may be one or more days, and then multiplied by a specified initial amount (which will be equal to a proportion of an initial reference value of the Underlying). If the cash amount so determined is equal to or exceeds a specified maximum amount, the actual cash amount payable at settlement will be equal to that specified maximum amount. The payment of cash at settlement is subject to deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.

Prospective investors should note that the return (if any) on their investment in the Securities will depend on the value of the Underlying on the day(s) specified for the determination of the lowest value and the specified final valuation day(s). If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s) is less than such lowest value, investors that have bought the Securities at their issue date and hold them for their entire term will receive a limited return or no return on their investment. If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s) is zero the cash amount would be zero and an investor would lose all of his investment in the Securities. Accordingly, an investment in the Securities involves a number of risks which may include, without limitation, a similar market risk to a direct investment in the Underlying and investors should take advice accordingly.

The benefit of any increase in the value of the Underlying is limited to the specified maximum amount. Therefore the maximum return on an investment in the Securities will occur when the cash amount determined as set out above is equal to or greater than the maximum amount. In this case investors will receive payment of a cash amount which reflects the maximum amount. Investors will not benefit from any increase in the value or average value of the Underlying which would result in a cash amount which is greater than the maximum amount.]

If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is equal to or less than the value or average value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities but is equal to or greater than a specified parachute threshold, a cash amount will be payable at settlement which reflects the product of the value or average value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities and the specified multiplier.

If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is equal to or less than the specified parachute threshold then a cash amount will be payable at settlement which reflects the product of the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s), a specified percentage (the parachute factor) and the specified multiplier.

In all cases the cash amount payable at settlement is subject to deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.

Prospective investors should note that the return they will receive for their investment will depend on the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s). If such value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is less than the specified parachute threshold, investors that have bought the Securities at their issue date and held them for their entire term will suffer a loss with their investment; they may lose their investment altogether if the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is zero. In such case, if the value of the Underlying on the specified valuation date is below the value of the Underlying at or about the time of the issuance of the Securities, investors that have bought the Securities at their issue date and hold them for their entire term will make a loss on their investment. Investors may lose their investment altogether if the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is zero. Accordingly, an investment in the Securities involves a number of risks which may include, without limitation, a similar market risk to a direct investment in the Underlying and investors should take advice accordingly.

In such case, investors will however not participate in rises of the Underlying to a value which would result in a payment being greater than the predefined cash amount specified for such day. The Securities represent the right to receive payments of [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: interest and] a redemption amount at maturity. [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: Payments of interest will reflect a specified rate of interest in relation to the specified nominal amount of the Securities and will be payable on the specified interest payment date(s).] The redemption amount payable at maturity of the Securities will be the sum of the specified nominal amount and an amount reflecting a participation in the performance of an underlying basket of assets (the “Underlying”). The participation in the performance is calculated as the product of the nominal amount, a specified participation factor and the quotient of the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation date(s), and of the Underlying on the specified initial valuation date(s). However, the redemption amount will in no event be less than the specified minimum redemption amount [Insert, if the Securities provide for a maximum redemption amount: or greater than a specified maximum redemption amount].

Any amounts payable in respect of the Securities are subject to the deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.

Prospective investors should note that the return (if any) on their investment in the Securities will depend on the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s). If such value is less than the value of the Underlying at or about the time of issuance of the Securities, investors that have bought the Securities at their issue date and hold them for their entire term will [Insert if Securities provide for a full capital guarantee: receive a limited return or no return on their investment] [Insert if Securities do not provide for a full capital guarantee: suffer a loss.]

[If the Securities provide for a maximum redemption amount insert: The maximum return on an investment in the Securities will occur when the redemption amount determined is equal to or greater than the maximum amount, in which case investors will receive payment of a redemption amount equal to the maximum amount. No investment should be made in the Securities until after careful consideration of all those factors which are relevant in relation to the Securities. The Issuer believes that the factors described below represent the principal risks inherent in investing in the Securities, but the Issuer does not represent that the statements below regarding risks of holding the Securities are exhaustive. Prospective investors should also read the detailed information set out elsewhere in this document and reach their own views prior to making any investment decision.

Prospective investors should also consider carefully the description of the Underlying (as defined below) in the sections "Product Conditions" and "Information relating to the Underlying" and the further information which is available in relation to the Underlying (which may include additional risk factors).

Introduction

An investment in the Securities involves risks. These risks may include, among others, equity market, bond market, foreign exchange, interest rate, market volatility and economic, political and regulatory risks and any combination of these and other risks. Some of these are briefly discussed below. Prospective purchasers should be experienced with respect to transactions in instruments such as the Securities and in the underlying asset or other basis of reference for the Securities (the "Underlying"). Prospective purchasers should understand the risks associated with an investment in the Securities and should only reach an investment decision after careful consideration, with their legal, tax, accounting and other advisers, of (i) the suitability of an investment in the Securities in the light of their own particular financial, tax and other circumstances, (ii) the information set out in this document and (iii) the Underlying.

The Securities may decline in value and investors should note that, whatever their investment in the Securities, [Insert, if the Securities are interest bearing: they may only receive the periodic interest payments (if any) and that] the redemption amount due at maturity may only be the specified minimum redemption amount. The shorter the remaining term of the Securities is, the higher the risk of decline in value of the Securities.

An investment in the Securities should only be made after assessing the direction, timing and magnitude of potential future changes in the value of the Underlying and/or in the composition or method of calculation of the Underlying, as the case may be, as the return of any such investment will be dependent, inter alia, upon such changes. More than one risk factor may have simultaneous effect with regard to the Securities such that the effect of a particular risk factor may not be predictable. In addition, more than one risk factor may have a compounding effect which may not be predictable. No assurance can be given as to the effect that any combination of risk factors may have on the value of the Securities.

Risk Factors are set out under the headings (A) Terms of the Securities, (B) General Risk Factors relating to the Securities and (C) Market Factors. In addition prospective investors should also review the section headed "Conflicts of Interest"

If the Securities are settled in cash, the cash amount payable on settlement will be equal to [Insert if the Securities do not provide for a specified minimum redemption amount:: the specified nominal amount.]

[Insert if the Securities do provide for a specified minimum redemption amount: the specified nominal amount, if the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day or days is greater than the value, or a percentage, as the case may be, of the Underlying on an initial valuation day, and otherwise the specified minimum redemption amount.]

Any amounts payable in respect of the Securities are subject to the deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.

The benefit of any increase in the value of the Underlying is limited to the specified determination level. Therefore the maximum return on an investment in the Securities will occur when the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s) is equal to or greater than such determination level. In this case investors will receive payment of a cash amount which reflects the specified nominal amount. Investors will not benefit from any increase in the value or average value of the Underlying above the determination level.]

1. Rights under the Securities

The bonus certificates (the “Securities”) represent the right to receive payment of a cash amount at settlement. The cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the product of the value of an underlying asset or other basis of reference (the “Underlying”) on a specified final valuation day and a specified multiplier. [If the Securities provide for a geared upside insert: If the value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day exceeds a specified protection reference level, then the cash amount will be increased to reflect a participation in the extent to which the value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day exceeds the specified protection level.] However, if the value of the Underlying has at no time during a specified period been equal to or less than a specified barrier level, then the cash amount payable at settlement will reflect a specified minimum amount. [If the Securities provide for a maximum cash settlement amount insert: If the cash amount so determined is equal to or exceeds a specified maximum amount, the cash amount payable at settlement will be equal to that specified maximum amount.]

In each case, the cash amount is subject to deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.

The Securities represent the right to receive payment of a cash amount at settlement. The cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the product of the value of the Underlying on a specified final valuation day and a specified multiplier. [If the Securities provide for a geared upside insert: If the value of the Underlying on such specified final valuation day exceeds a specified protection reference level, then the cash amount will be increased to reflect a participation in the extent to which the value of the Underlying on such specified final valuation day exceeds the specified protection reference level.] If the value of the Underlying has not on the specified time(s) during a specified period been equal to or less than a specified barrier level, then the cash amount payable at settlement will reflect a specified minimum amount. [If the Securities provide for a maximum cash settlement amount insert: If the cash amount so determined is equal to or exceeds a specified maximum amount, the cash amount payable at settlement will be equal to that specified maximum amount.]

Prospective investors should note that the return (if any) on their investment in the Securities will depend on the value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day and (for a minimum cash amount to be payable at settlement) during the specified period. If the value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day is less than the value of the Underlying at or about the issuance of the Securities, and if the value of the Underlying has not on the specified time(s) during the specified period been equal to or less than the specified barrier level, the cash amount be payable at settlement will not be subject to a minimum, and investors that have bought the Securities at their issue date and hold them for their entire term will receive no return on their investment, and may suffer a loss. If the value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day is zero, and if the minimum cash amount does not apply, the cash amount would be zero and an investor would lose all of his investment in the Securities.

[If the Securities provide for a maximum cash settlement amount insert: Investors will not benefit from any increase in the value of the Underlying above the level which would give rise to a cash amount equal to such maximum amount.]

B. GENERAL RISK FACTORS RELATING TO THE SECURITIES

1. No payments until settlement

[Insert, if the Securities are not interest bearing: Prospective investors should note that no periodic interest payments or other distributions will be made during the term of the Securities.] [Insert, if the Securities are interest bearing Apart from payments of the periodic Interest Amounts, prospective investors should note that no other payments or other distributions will be made.] A realisation in the secondary market of the Securities may be the only return potentially available to the investor prior to settlement of the Securities. However, investors should note the risk factors described under the headings "Market value" and "The Securities may be Illiquid" below in this regard.

2. Early termination for extraordinary reasons, illegality and force majeure

If the Issuer determines that, for reasons beyond its control, the performance of its obligations under the Securities has become illegal or impractical in whole or in part for any reason, or the Issuer determines that, for reasons beyond its control, it is no longer legal or practical for it to maintain its hedging arrangements with respect to the Securities for any reason, the Issuer may at its discretion and without obligation terminate early the Securities. If the Issuer terminates early the Securities, the Issuer will, if and to the extent permitted by applicable law, pay the holder of each such Security an amount determined by the calculation agent to be its fair market value notwithstanding the illegality or impracticality less the cost to the Issuer of unwinding any underlying related hedging arrangements.

3. Market disruption events, adjustments and early termination of the Securities

If so indicated in the Conditions, the Calculation agent may determine that a market disruption event has occurred or exists at a relevant time. Any such determination may delay valuation in respect of the Underlying which may have an effect on the value of the Securities and/or may delay settlement in respect of the Securities.

In addition, if so indicated in the Conditions, the calculation agent may make adjustments to the Conditions to account for relevant adjustments or events in relation to the Underlying including, but not limited to, determining a successor to the Underlying or its issuer or its sponsor, as the case may be. In addition, in certain circumstances, the Issuer may terminate early the Securities following any such event. In this case, in relation to each Security, the Issuer will pay an amount, if any, determined as provided in the Conditions.

Prospective purchasers should review the Conditions to ascertain whether and how such provisions apply to the Securities and what constitutes a market disruption event or relevant adjustment event.

4. Taxation

Potential purchasers and sellers of the Securities should be aware that they may be required to pay stamp taxes or other documentary charges in accordance with the laws and practices of the country where the Securities are transferred. Securityholders are subject to the provisions of General Condition 6 and payment and/or delivery of any amount due in respect of the Securities will be conditional upon the payment of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses as provided in the Product Conditions.

Potential purchasers who are in any doubt as to their tax position should consult their own independent tax advisers. In addition, potential purchasers should be aware that tax regulations and their application by the relevant taxation authorities change from time to time. Accordingly, it is not possible to predict the precise tax treatment which will apply at any given time.

5. Exercise or delivery notice and certifications

If the Securities are subject to provisions concerning delivery of an exercise or delivery notice and such notice is received by either the relevant principal agent with a copy to the clearing agent after the latest time specified in the Conditions, it will not be deemed to be duly delivered until the next following business day. Such deemed delay may in the case of cash settled Securities increase or decrease the cash amount payable at settlement from what it would have been but for such deemed delivery. In the case of Securities which are exercisable on one day only or only during an exercise period, any exercise notice, if not delivered by the latest time specified in the Conditions, shall be void.

The failure to deliver any certifications required by the Conditions could result in the loss or inability to receive amounts or deliveries otherwise due under the Securities. Prospective purchasers should review the Conditions to ascertain whether and how such provisions apply to the Securities.

Securities not exercised in accordance with the Conditions will expire worthless. Prospective purchasers should review the Conditions to ascertain whether the Securities are subject to automatic exercise, and when and how an exercise notice may be validly delivered.]

[Insert, if the Securities are certificates:]

6. Time lag after exercise

Where the Securities are to be settled by a cash payment, then, upon their exercise, there may be a time lag between the time exercise occurs and the time the applicable cash amount relating to such exercise is determined. Any such delay between the time of exercise and the determination of the cash amount will be specified in the Conditions. However, such delay could be significantly longer, particularly in the case of a delay in exercise of such cash settled Securities arising from, as described below, any daily maximum exercise limitation or, as described below, upon the determination by the calculation agent that a market disruption event has occurred at any relevant time. The applicable cash amount could decrease or increase from what it would have been but for such delay.

Prospective purchasers should review the Conditions to ascertain whether and how such provisions apply to the Securities.]

[Insert, if the Securities are certificates:]

7. Maximum exercise amount

If so indicated in the Conditions for any Securities that are exercisable by the holders thereof on more than a single date, the Issuer will have the option to limit the number of Securities exercisable on any date (other than the final exercise date) to the maximum number so specified and, in conjunction with such limitation, to limit the number of Securities exercisable by any person or group of persons (whether or not acting in concert) on such date. In the event that the total number of Securities being exercised on any date (other than the final exercise date) exceeds such maximum number and the Issuer has elected to limit the number of Securities exercisable on such date, a holder of Securities may not be able to exercise on such date all the Securities that it desires to exercise. In any such case, the number of Securities to be exercised on such date will be reduced until the total number of Securities exercised on such date no longer exceeds such maximum (unless the Issuer otherwise elects), such Securities being selected as specified in the Conditions. Securities tendered for exercise but not exercised on such date will be automatically exercised on the next date on which Securities may be exercised, subject to the same daily maximum limitation and delayed exercise provisions.

Prospective purchasers should review the Conditions to ascertain whether and how such provisions apply to the Securities.]

[Insert, if the Securities are certificates:]

8. Minimum exercise amount

If so indicated in the Conditions for any Securities that are exercisable by the holders thereof, a holder of Securities must tender or hold a specified minimum number of the Securities at any one time in order for the Securities to be exercised. Thus holders with fewer than the specified minimum number of such Securities will either have to sell their Securities or purchase additional Securities, incurring transaction costs in each case, in order to realise a return on their investment, and may incur the risk that the trading price of the Securities at that time is different from, in the case of Securities settled in cash, the applicable cash amount and/or, in the case of Securities settled by way of physical delivery, the value of the applicable Underlying, in each case upon exercise.

Prospective purchasers should review the Conditions to ascertain whether and how such provisions apply to the Securities.]

[Insert, if the Securities are certificates:]

9. Option to settle in cash or by physical delivery

If so indicated in the Conditions, the Issuer will have the option to settle in cash or by physical delivery. Prospective purchasers should review the Conditions to ascertain whether and how such provisions apply to the Securities.]

[If Physical Settlement may apply insert:]

10. Settlement Risk

Where the Securities may be settled by physical delivery, if prior to the delivery of any specified asset(s), the calculation agent for the Securities determines that a settlement disruption event (as defined in the Product Conditions, a Settlement Disruption Event) is subsisting, then the obligation to deliver such asset(s) shall be postponed to the first following business day on which no Settlement Disruption Event is subsisting. Prospective investors should note that any such determination may affect the value of the Securities and/or may delay settlement in respect of the Securities.

Prospective investors should note that for so long as any delivery of any part of the specified asset(s) is not practicable by reason of a Settlement Disruption Event, then the Issuer may, in its sole and absolute discretion, satisfy its obligations to deliver such part of the specified asset(s) by payment of a disruption cash settlement price (as defined in the Product Conditions, the Disruption Cash Settlement Price). Prospective investors should note that the Disruption Cash Settlement Price will reflect the fair market value of the Securities less the cost to the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates of unwinding any underlying related hedging arrangements and that any such determination may affect the value of the Securities.]

11. Re-offer Price

The Issuer may enter into distribution agreements with various financial institutions and other intermediaries as determined by the Issuer (collectively the “Selling Agents”). The Selling Agents will agree, subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions, to subscribe for the Securities at a price equivalent to or below the Issue Price. The Selling Agents have agreed to bear certain costs in connection with the issue of the Securities. A periodic fee may be payable to the Selling Agents in respect of all outstanding Securities up to and including the Expiry Date at a rate as determined by the Issuer. Such rate may vary from time to time. The Selling Agents will agree to comply with the selling restrictions set out in the Prospectus as amended and supplemented by the additional selling restrictions set out in the relevant distribution agreements and final terms of the prospectus.

The Issuer has the right to close the offering of the Securities prior to the end of the subscription period in case of adverse market conditions, as determined by the Issuer in its reasonable discretion, including but not limited to increased equity market volatility and increased currency exchange rate volatility.

12. Additional Product Specific Risk Factors

CONSIDERATION OF INCLUSION OF ADDITIONAL RISK FACTORS DUE TO PARTICULAR NATURE OF UNDERLYING OR TERMS OF THE SECURITIES]

13. Risk Factors relating to the Underlying

[Insert if the underlying is or contains hedge funds:

The Underlying reflects the performance of certain selected funds, all of which are “Hedge Funds”.

A Hedge Fund may trade and invest in a broad range of investment interests such as debt and equity securities, commodities, and foreign exchange and may enter into derivative transactions, including without limitation futures and options. A Hedge Fund may often be illiquid and may only be traded on a monthly, quarterly or even less frequent basis. For all these reasons and those described below, investing directly or indirectly in Hedge Funds is generally considered to be risky. If the Index Constituents do not perform the value of the Index will fall and may fall to zero.

The Hedge Funds reflected in the Basket from time to time and their Hedge Fund Trading advisors, as well as the markets and instruments in which they invest, may not be subject to extensive review by governmental authorities, self-regulatory organisations or other supervisory authorities.

The following is a non-exhaustive list of the risks associated with investing in Hedge Funds:

1. Investment Manager

The performance of a hedge fund will depend on the performance of the investments selected by key individuals associated with the day-to-day operations of the investment manager (the "Investment Manager") of the relevant hedge fund and upon the expertise of such key individuals. Any withdrawal or other cessation of investment activities on behalf of the Investment Manager by any of these individuals could result in losses and/or the termination or the dissolution of the relevant hedge fund. The investment strategy, investment restrictions and investment objectives of a hedge fund give its Investment Manager considerable discretion to invest the assets thereof and there can be no guarantee that the Investment Manager's investment decisions will be profitable or will effectively hedge against the risk of market or other conditions causing the value of the relevant hedge fund to decline.

An Investment Manager may receive performance related fees, which may be substantial. The manner of calculating such fees may create an incentive for the Investment Manager to make investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case if such fees were not paid to the Investment Manager. In addition, since the performance fees may be calculated on a basis that includes both unrealised and realised gains on the relevant hedge fund's assets, such fees may be greater than if they were based solely on realised gains. If a hedge fund does not perform or does not perform sufficiently to cover the fees, the value of the relevant hedge fund will fall and may fall to zero.

2. Lack of segregation of assets

A prime broker may be, or may have been, appointed in relation to a hedge fund and will accordingly be responsible for custody, clearing, financing and reporting services with respect to the securities transactions entered into by the relevant Investment Manager. Where investments by a hedge fund are classified by the relevant prime broker as collateral, they may not be segregated by such prime broker from its own investments. As a result, such investments may be available to the creditors of such prime broker in the event of its insolvency and the relevant hedge fund may lose some or all of its interest in such investments.

3. Hedging risks

An Investment Manager may utilise warrants, futures, forward contracts, swaps, options and other derivative instruments involving securities, currencies, interest rates, commodities and other asset categories (and combinations of the foregoing) for the purposes of establishing "market neutral" arbitrage positions as part of its trading strategies and to hedge against movements in the capital markets. Hedging against a decline in the value of a portfolio position does not eliminate fluctuations in the values of portfolio positions or prevent losses if the values of such positions decline, but establishes other positions designed to gain from those same developments, thus moderating the decline in the portfolio positions' value. Such hedging transactions may also limit the opportunity for gain if the value of the portfolio position should increase. Moreover, it may not always be possible for the Investment Manager to execute hedging transactions, or to do so at prices, rates or levels advantageous to the hedge fund. The success of any hedging transactions will be subject to the movements in the direction of securities prices and currency and interest rates, and stability or predictability of pricing relationships. Therefore, while a hedge fund might enter into such transactions to reduce currency exchange rate and interest rate risks, unanticipated changes in currency or interest rates may result in poorer overall performance for the hedge fund than if it had not engaged in any such hedging transactions. In addition, the degree of correlation between price movements of the instruments used in a hedging strategy and price movements in the portfolio position being hedged may vary. Moreover, for a variety of reasons, the Investment Manager may not be able to, or may not seek to, establish a perfect correlation between such hedging instruments and the portfolio holdings being hedged. An imperfect correlation may prevent a hedge fund from achieving the intended hedge or expose a hedge fund to risk of loss.

4. Leverage

Hedge funds may be able to borrow (or employ leverage) without limitation and may utilise various lines of credit and other forms of leverage, including swaps and repurchase agreements. While leverage presents opportunities for increasing a hedge fund's total return, it has the effect of potentially increasing losses as well. If income and appreciation on investments made with borrowed funds are less than the required interest payments on the borrowings, the value of the hedge fund will decrease. Additionally, any event which adversely affects the value of an investment by a hedge fund would be magnified to the extent such hedge fund is leveraged. The cumulative effect of the use of leverage by a hedge fund in a market that moves adversely to such hedge fund's investments could result in a substantial loss to the hedge fund that would be greater than if the hedge fund were not leveraged. Furthermore, any use by the hedge fund of swaps and other derivatives to gain exposure to certain investments may/will leverage the hedge fund's assets, and subject it to the risks described above.

5. Risks associated with the use of margin borrowings

An Investment Manager's anticipated use of short-term margin borrowings will result in certain additional risks to the relevant hedge fund. For example, if securities pledged to brokers to secure a hedge fund's margin accounts decline in value, such hedge fund could be subject to a "margin call", pursuant to which it must either deposit additional funds with the broker or be the subject of mandatory liquidation of the pledged securities to compensate for the decline in value. In the event of a sudden drop in the value of the hedge fund's assets, the Investment Manager might not be able to liquidate assets quickly enough to pay off the margin debt. In such a case, the relevant prime broker may liquidate additional assets of the hedge fund, in its sole discretion, in order to satisfy such margin debt. The premiums for certain options traded on non-US exchanges may be paid for on margin. If the Investment Manager sells an option on a futures contract, it may be required to deposit margin in an amount equal to the margin requirement established for the futures contract underlying the option and, in addition, an amount substantially equal to the premium for the option. The margin requirements imposed on the writing of options, although adjusted to reflect the probability that out-of-the-money options will not be exercised, can in fact be higher than those imposed in dealing in the futures markets directly. Whether any margin deposit will be required for over-the-counter options will depend on the agreement of the parties to the transaction.

6. Low credit quality securities

Hedge funds may make particularly risky investments that also may offer the potential for correspondingly high returns. As a result, a hedge fund may lose all or substantially all of its investment in any particular instance. In addition, there is no minimum credit standard which is a prerequisite to a hedge fund's investment in any security. The debt securities in which a hedge fund is permitted to invest may be rated lower than investment grade and hence may be considered to be "junk bonds" or distressed securities.

7. Distressed securities

Hedge funds may invest in securities of US and non-US issuers in weak financial condition, experiencing poor operating results, having substantial capital needs or negative net worth, facing special competitive or product obsolescence problems, or that are involved in bankruptcy or reorganisation proceedings. Investments of this type may involve substantial financial and business risks that can result in substantial or, at times, even total losses. Among the risks inherent in investments in troubled entities is that it frequently may be difficult to obtain information as to the true condition of such issuers. Such investments also may be adversely affected by laws relating to, among other things, fraudulent transfers and other voidable transfers or payments, lender liability and a court's power to disallow, reduce, subordinate or disenfranchise particular claims. The market prices of such securities are also subject to abrupt and erratic market movements and above-average price volatility, and the spread between the bid and asked prices of such securities may be greater than those prevailing in other securities markets. It may take a number of years for the market price of such securities to reflect their intrinsic value. In corporate reorganisations, there exists the risk that it will not be possible to effect the reorganisation (due to, for example, failure to obtain requisite approvals) and in liquidations (both in and out of bankruptcy) and reorganisations there exists the risk that the liquidation or reorganisation will be delayed (for example, until various liabilities, actual or contingent, have been satisfied) or will result in a distribution to the hedge fund of cash or a new security the value of which will be less than the purchase price of the security in respect of which such distribution was made.

8. Derivatives

Hedge funds may invest in complex derivative instruments which seek to modify or replicate the investment performance of particular securities, commodities, currencies, interest rates, indices or markets on a leveraged or unleveraged basis. These instruments generally have counterparty risk and may not perform in the manner expected, thereby resulting in greater loss or gain to the hedge fund. These investments are all subject to additional risks that can result in a loss of all or part of an investment, in particular, interest rate and credit risk, volatility, world and local market price and demand, and general economic factors and activity. Derivatives may have very high leverage embedded in them that can substantially magnify market movements and result in magnified losses. Hedge funds may also buy or sell options on a variety of underlying assets. The risk of writing (selling) options is unlimited in that the writer of the option must purchase (in the case of a put) or sell (in the case of a call) the underlying security at a certain price upon exercise. There is no limit on the price a hedge fund may have to pay to meet its obligations as an option writer. As assets that can have no value at their expiration, options can introduce a significant additional element of leverage and risk to a hedge fund's market exposure. The use of certain options strategies can subject a hedge fund to investment losses that are significant even in the context of positions for which the relevant Investment Manager has correctly anticipated the direction of market prices or price relationships.

9. Special risks associated with trading in over-the-counter derivatives

Some of the markets in which a hedge fund may effect derivative transactions are "over-the-counter" or "interdealer" markets, which may be illiquid and are sometimes subject to larger spreads than exchange-traded derivative transactions. The participants in such markets are typically not subject to credit evaluation and regulatory oversight, which would be the case with members of "exchange-based" markets. This exposes the hedge fund to the risk that a counterparty will not settle a transaction in accordance with its terms and conditions because of a credit or liquidity problem with the counterparty. Delays in settlement may also result from disputes over the terms of the contract (whether or not bona fide) since such markets may lack the established rules and procedures for swift settlement of disputes among market participants found in "exchange-based" markets. These factors may cause a hedge fund to suffer a loss due to adverse market movements while replacement transactions are executed or otherwise. Such "counterparty risk" is present in all swaps, and is accentuated for contracts with longer maturities where events may intervene to prevent settlement, or where the hedge fund has concentrated its transactions with a single or small group of counterparties. A hedge fund generally is not restricted from dealing with any particular counterparty or from concentrating any or all of its transactions with one counterparty. In addition, if an Investment Manager engages in such over-the-counter transactions, the relevant hedge fund will be exposed to the risk that the counterparty (usually the relevant prime broker) will fail to perform its obligations under the transaction. The valuation of over-the-counter derivative transactions is also subject to greater uncertainty and variation than that of exchange-traded derivatives. The "replacement" value of a derivative transaction may differ from the "liquidation" value of such transaction, and the valuations provided by a hedge fund's counterparty to such transactions may differ from the valuations provided by a third party or the value upon liquidation of the transaction. Under certain circumstances it may not be possible for a hedge fund to obtain market quotations for the value of an over-the-counter derivatives transaction. A hedge fund may also be unable to close out or enter into an offsetting over-the-counter derivative transaction at a time it desires to do so, resulting in significant losses. In particular, the closing-out of an over-the-counter derivative transaction may usually only be effected with the consent of the counterparty to the transaction. If such consent is not obtained, a hedge fund will not be able to close out its obligations and may suffer losses.

10. Illiquid investments

Hedge funds may make investments which are subject to legal or other restrictions on transfer or for which no liquid market exists, such as private placements. The market prices, if any, of such investments tend to be more volatile and it may be impossible to sell such investments when desired or to realise their fair value in the event of a sale. Moreover, securities in which a hedge fund may invest include those that are not listed on a stock exchange or traded in an over-the-counter market. As a result of the absence of a public trading market for these securities, they are likely to be less liquid than publicly traded securities. There may be substantial delays in attempting to sell non-publicly traded securities. Although these securities may be resold in privately negotiated transactions, the prices realised from these sales could be less than those originally paid. Furthermore, companies whose securities are not registered or publicly traded are not subject to the disclosure and other investor protection requirements which would be applicable if their securities were registered or publicly traded. In addition, futures positions may become illiquid because, for example, most US commodity exchanges limit fluctuations in certain futures contract prices during a single day by regulations referred to as "daily price fluctuation limits" or "daily limits". Under such daily limits, no trades may be executed at prices beyond the daily limits. Once the price of a contract for a particular future has increased or decreased by an amount equal to the daily limit, positions can neither be taken nor liquidated unless traders are willing to effect trades at or within the limit. Futures contract prices in various commodities occasionally have exceeded the daily limit for several consecutive days with little or no trading. Similar occurrences could prevent an Investment Manager from promptly liquidating unfavourable positions and subject the relevant hedge fund to substantial losses. In addition, an exchange or regulatory authority may suspend trading in a particular contract, order immediate liquidation and settlement of a particular contract, or order that trading in a particular contract be conducted for liquidation only. The illiquidity of positions may result in significant unanticipated losses.

11. Legal and regulatory risks

Legal and regulatory changes could adversely affect a hedge fund. Regulation of investment vehicles, such as hedge funds and of many of the investments an Investment Manager is permitted to make on behalf of a hedge fund, is still evolving and therefore subject to change. In addition, many governmental agencies, self-regulatory organisations and exchanges are authorised to take extraordinary actions in the event of market emergencies. The effect of any future legal or regulatory change on a hedge fund is impossible to predict, but could be substantial and adverse.

12. Short-selling

A short sale involves the sale of a security that a hedge fund does not own in the hope of purchasing the same security (or a security exchangeable therefor) at a later date at a lower price. To make delivery to the buyer, the hedge fund must borrow the security and is obligated to return the security to the lender, which is accomplished by a later purchase of the security. The hedge fund realises a profit or a loss as a result of a short sale if the price of the security decreases or increases respectively between the date of the short sale and the date on which the hedge fund covers its short position, i.e., purchases the security to replace the borrowed security. A short sale involves the theoretically unlimited risk of an increase in the market price of the security that would result in a theoretically unlimited loss.

13. Commodity Futures

Commodity futures markets are highly volatile. Hedge funds investing in these commodity markets must be able to analyse correctly such markets, which are influenced by, among other things, changing supply and demand relationships, weather, governmental, agricultural, commercial and trade programmes and policies designed to influence commodity prices, world political and economic events, and changes in interest rates. Moreover, investments in futures and options contracts involve additional risks including, without limitation, leverage (margin is usually a percentage of the face value of the contract and exposure can be nearly unlimited). A

Hedge Fund's futures positions may be illiquid because certain commodity exchanges limit fluctuations in certain futures contract prices during a single day by regulations referred to as "daily price fluctuation limits" or "daily limits". Under such daily limits, during a single trading day no trades may be executed at prices beyond the daily limits. Once the price of a contract for a particular future has increased or decreased by an amount equal to the daily limit, positions in the future can neither be taken nor liquidated unless traders are willing to effect trades at or within the limit. This could prevent a Hedge Fund from promptly liquidating unfavourable positions and subject it to substantial losses.

14. Hedge fund compensation

A Hedge Fund typically provides for a performance fee or allocation, over and above a basic advisory fee, to its general partner, Investment Manager or person serving in an equivalent capacity. Performance fees or allocations could create an incentive for an Investment Manager to choose riskier or more speculative underlying investments than would otherwise be the case.

15. "Soft Dollar" payments

In selecting brokers, banks and dealers to effect transactions on behalf a hedge fund, an Investment Manager may consider such factors as price, the ability of the brokers, banks and dealers to effect transactions promptly and reliably, their facilities, the operational efficiency with which transactions are effected, their financial strength, integrity and stability and the competitiveness of commission rates in comparison with other brokers, banks and dealers, as well as the quality, comprehensiveness and frequency of any products or services provided, or expenses paid, by such brokers, banks and dealers. Products and services may include research items used by the Investment Manager in making investment decisions, and expenses so paid may include general overhead expenses of the Investment Manager. Such "soft dollar" benefits may cause a hedge fund manager to execute a transaction with a specific broker, bank, or dealer even though it may not offer the lowest transaction fees. An Investment Manager is not required to (i) obtain the lowest brokerage commission rates or (ii) combine or arrange orders to obtain the lowest brokerage commission rates on its brokerage business. If an Investment Manager determines that the amount of commissions charged by a broker is reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage and research products or services provided by such broker, it may execute transactions for which such broker's commissions are greater than the commissions another broker might charge. Such brokerage commissions may be paid to brokers who execute transactions for the relevant managed account and which supply, pay for or rebate a portion of the hedge fund's brokerage commissions to the hedge fund for payment of the cost of property or services (such as research services, telephone lines, news and quotation equipment, computer facilities and publications) utilised by the relevant Investment Manager or its affiliates. An Investment Manager will have the option to use "soft dollars" generated by its investment activities to pay for the property and services described above. The term "soft dollars" refers to the receipt by an Investment Manager of property and services provided by brokers (or futures commission merchants in connection with futures transactions) without any cash payment by such Investment Manager based on the volume of revenues generated from brokerage commissions for transactions executed for clients of the Investment Manager. An Investment Manager will consider the amount and nature of research services provided by brokers, as well as the extent to which such services are relied upon, and will attempt to allocate a portion of the brokerage business of the relevant managed account on the basis of those considerations.

16. Highly volatile markets

The prices of commodities contracts and derivative instruments, including futures and options, are highly volatile. Price movements of forward contracts, futures contracts, and other derivative contracts in which hedge funds may invest are influenced by, among other things, interest rates, changing supply and demand relationships, trade, fiscal, monetary and exchange control programmes and policies of governments, and US and international political and economic events and policies. In addition, governments from time to time intervene, directly or indirectly and by regulation in certain markets, particularly those in currencies and interest rate related futures and options. Such intervention often is intended directly to influence prices and may, together with other factors, cause all of such markets to move rapidly in the same direction because of, among other things, interest rate fluctuations. The level of interest rates generally and the rates at which a hedge fund can borrow, will affect its returns and therefore the value of the hedge fund. Hedge funds also are subject to the risk of the failure of any of the exchanges on which their positions trade or of their clearing houses.

17. Investments in emerging or developing markets

An Investment Manager may invest in securities of issuers that are not located in, or subject to regulation in, developed countries or securities which are not denominated in the currency of, or are not traded in, developed countries. Such investments involve certain special risks, including risks associated with political and economic uncertainty, adverse governmental policies, restrictions on foreign investment and currency convertibility, currency exchange rate fluctuations, possible lower levels of disclosure and regulation, and uncertainties as to the status, interpretation and application of laws, including, but not limited to, those relating to expropriation, nationalisation and confiscation. Companies not located in developed countries are also not generally subject to uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards, and auditing practices and requirements may not be comparable to those applicable to companies in developed countries. Further, securities not traded in developed countries tend to be less liquid and the prices of such securities more volatile. In addition, settlement of trades in some such markets may be much slower and more subject to failure than in markets in developed countries. An investment in emerging or developing countries could impose additional costs on the relevant managed account. Brokerage commissions generally are higher in emerging or developing countries and currency conversion costs could be incurred when an Investment Manager changes investments from one country to another. Increased custodian costs as well as administrative difficulties (such as the applicability of the laws of the jurisdictions of emerging or developing countries to custodians in such jurisdictions in various circumstances, including bankruptcy, ability to recover lost assets, expropriation, nationalisation and record access) may also arise from the maintenance of assets in such emerging or developing countries.

18. Special risks associated with trading in forward contracts

Hedge funds may engage in forward trading. Forward contracts, unlike futures contracts, are not traded on exchanges and are not standardised, rather, banks and dealers act as principals in these markets, negotiating each transaction on an individual basis. Forward and "cash" trading is substantially unregulated; there is no limitation on daily price movements and speculative position limits are not applicable. The principals who deal in the forward markets are not required to continue to make markets in the currencies or commodities they trade and these markets can experience periods of illiquidity, sometimes of significant duration. There have been periods during which certain participants in these markets have been unable to quote prices for certain currencies or commodities or have quoted prices with an unusually wide spread between the price at which they were prepared to buy and that at which they were prepared to sell. Disruptions can occur in any market traded by the hedge funds due to unusually high trading volume, political intervention or other factors. Market illiquidity or disruption could result in major losses to a hedge fund.

19. Concentration of investments

Although in general a hedge fund will aim to invest in diversified investments, the Investment Manager in respect of a hedge fund may invest such hedge fund's assets in a limited number of investments that may be concentrated in a few countries, industries, sectors of an economy or issuers. As a result, although investments by hedge funds should be diversified, the negative impact on the value of the relevant hedge fund from adverse movements in a particular country, economy or industry or in the value of the securities of a particular issuer could be considerably greater than if such hedge fund were not permitted to concentrate its investments to such an extent.

20. Turnover

Hedge funds may invest on the basis of certain short-term market considerations. As a result, the turnover rate within hedge funds is expected to be significant, potentially involving substantial brokerage commissions, fees and other transaction costs.

21. Operational and human error

The success of a hedge fund depends in part upon the relevant Investment Manager's accurate calculation of price relationships, the communication of precise trading instructions and ongoing position evaluations. In addition, an Investment Manager's strategies may require active and ongoing management of durations and other variables, and dynamic adjustments to a hedge fund's positions. There is the possibility that, through human error, oversight or operational weaknesses, mistakes could occur in this process and lead to significant trading losses and an adverse effect on the relevant net asset value.

22. Reliability of valuations

Hedge funds are valued pursuant to the hedge fund's instrument governing such valuations. As a general matter, the governing instruments of hedge funds provide that any securities or investments which are illiquid, not traded on an exchange or in an established market or for which no value can be readily determined, will be assigned such fair value as the Investment Manager may determine in its judgement based on various factors. Such factors include, but are not limited to, aggregate dealer quotes or independent appraisals. Such valuations may not be indicative of what actual fair market value would be in an active, liquid or established market.

23. Investment strategies

Hedge Funds are a relatively heterogeneous asset class in which the managers may determine their strategies in their sole discretion. As a consequence there is no commonly accepted definition for the strategies employed by Hedge Funds. It can even be impossible to associate certain hedge funds with only one specific definition of a strategy. Furthermore there are various levels on which classifications can be made: any general strategy consists of various sub-strategies which may be very different from each other.]

[Insert any risks relating to the Underlying if required.]

C. MARKET FACTORS

1. Market Factors

1.1 Valuation of the Underlying

An investment in the Securities involves risk regarding the value of the Underlying. The value of the Underlying may vary over time and may increase or decrease by reference to a variety of factors which may include corporate actions, macroeconomic factors and speculation.

1.2 The historical performance of the Underlying is not an indication of future performance

The historical value (if any) of the Underlying does not indicate the future performance of the Underlying. Changes in the value of the Underlying will affect the trading price of the Securities, but it is impossible to predict whether the value of the Underlying will rise or fall.

1.3 The basis of calculating the level of the Underlying may change over time

The basis of calculating the level of the Underlying may from time to time be subject to change (as described in Information relating to the Underlying) which may affect the market value of the Securities at any time and therefore the cash amount payable [Insert, if physical delivery applies: or the assets deliverable, as the case may be,] on settlement.

[If the Underlying is an index or otherwise calculated by reference to constituents insert:

1.4 The value of the constituents of the Underlying will affect its value

The value of the Underlying on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Underlying and factors (including those described in these Risk Factors) which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents will affect the value of the Underlying and therefore may affect the return on an investment in the Securities. Fluctuations in the value of any one constituent may be offset or intensified by fluctuations in the value of other constituents. The historical value (if any) of the constituents does not indicate their future performance. Where the value of the constituents is determined in a different currency to the value of the Underlying, investors may be exposed to exchange rate risk.]

1.5 Exchange rate risk

Prospective investors should be aware that an investment in the Securities may involve exchange rate risks. For example, the settlement currency of the Securities may be different from the currency of an investor's home jurisdiction or the currency in which an investor wishes to receive funds.

Exchange rates between currencies are determined by factors of supply and demand in the international currency markets which are influenced by macroeconomic factors, speculation and central bank and government intervention or other political factors (including the imposition of currency controls and restrictions). Fluctuations in exchange rates may affect the value of the Securities and any amounts payable in respect of the Securities.

1.6 Interest rate risk

An investment in the Securities may involve interest rate risk where there are fluctuations in the interest rate payable on deposits in the settlement currency of the Securities. This may influence the market value of the Securities.

Interest rates are determined by factors of supply and demand in the international money markets which are influenced by macroeconomic factors, speculation and central bank and government intervention or other political factors. Fluctuations in short term and/or long term interest rates may affect the value of the Securities. [Insert if applicable: Since the Underlying [is/includes] a fixed income security, the value of the Securities is expected to be particularly affected by interest rate fluctuations.]

2. Market value

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value and the volatility of the Underlying. The level of market volatility is not purely a measurement of the actual volatility, but is largely determined by the prices for instruments which offer investors protection against such market volatility. The prices of these instruments are determined by forces of supply and demand in the options and derivative markets generally. These forces are, themselves, affected by factors such as actual market volatility, expected volatility, macroeconomic factors and speculation. If the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also fall, subject to any minimum redemption amount. If the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also rise, subject to any maximum redemption amount.

Other factors which may influence the market value of the Securities include interest rates, potential dividend or interest payments in respect of the Underlying changes in the method of calculating the level of the Underlying from time to time and market expectations regarding the future performance of the Underlying and the Securities.

[If the Underlying is an index or otherwise calculated by reference to constituents insert:

The value of the Underlying on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Underlying and factors (including those described in these Risk Factors) which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents, will affect the value of the Underlying and therefore may affect the market value of the Securities. Fluctuations in the value of any one constituent may be offset or intensified by fluctuations in the value of other constituents.]

3. Certain hedging considerations

Certain risks apply to purchasers that acquire the Securities for hedging purposes.

Prospective purchasers intending to purchase the Securities for the purpose of hedging their exposure to the Underlying should recognise the risks of utilising the Securities in such manner. No assurance is or can be given that the value of the Securities will correlate with movements in the value of the Underlying and the composition of the Underlying may change over time. Furthermore, it may not be possible to liquidate the Securities at a price which directly reflects the value of the Underlying. Therefore, there can be no assurance as to the level of any correlation between the return on an investment in the Securities and the return on a direct investment in the Underlying.

Hedging transactions in order to limit the risks associated with the Securities might not be successful.

4. The Securities may be illiquid

It is not possible to predict if and to what extent a secondary market may develop in the Securities or at what price the Securities will trade in the secondary market or whether such market will be liquid or illiquid. If so specified in this document, application has been made to list or quote or admit to trading the Securities on the stock exchange(s) or quotation system(s) specified. If the Securities are so listed or quoted or admitted to trading, no assurance is given that any such listing or quotation or admission to trading will be maintained. The fact that the Securities may be so listed or quoted or admitted to trading does not necessarily lead to greater liquidity than if they were not so listed or quoted or admitted to trading.

If the Securities are not listed or quoted or admitted to trading on any stock exchange or quotation system, pricing information for the Securities may be more difficult to obtain and the liquidity of the Securities may be adversely affected. The liquidity of the Securities may also be affected by restrictions on offers and sales of the Securities in some jurisdictions.

The Issuer may, but is not obliged to, at any time purchase Securities at any price in the open market or by tender or private agreement. Any Securities so purchased may be held or resold or surrendered for cancellation. Since the Issuer may be the only market-maker in the Securities, the secondary market may be limited. The more limited the secondary market is, the more difficult it may be for holders of the Securities to realise value for the Securities prior to settlement of the Securities.

Creditworthiness of the Issuer

The value of the Securities is expected to be affected, in part, by investors' general appraisal of the Issuer's creditworthiness. Any reduction in the creditworthiness of the Issuer could result in a reduction in the value of the Securities. [If a bankruptcy proceeding is commenced in respect to the Issuer, the return to a Securityholder may be limited and any recovery will likely be substantially delayed.]

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

1. Transactions involving the Underlying: The Issuer and its affiliates may from time to time engage in transactions involving the Underlying for their proprietary accounts and for accounts under their management. Such transactions may have a positive or negative effect on the value of the Underlying and consequently upon the value of the Securities.
2. Acting in other capacities: The Issuer and its affiliates may from time to time act in other capacities with regard to the Securities, such as calculation agent, agent and/or index sponsor. Such functions can allow the Issuer to determine the composition of the Underlying or to calculate its value, which could raise conflicts of interest where securities or other assets issued by the Issuer itself or a group company can be chosen to be part of the Underlying, or where the Issuer maintains a business relationship with the issuer of such securities or assets.
3. Issuing of other derivative instruments in respect of the Underlying: The Issuer and its affiliates may issue other derivative instruments in respect of the Underlying and the introduction of such competing products into the marketplace may affect the value of the Securities.
4. Conducting of hedging transactions: The Issuer may use all or some of the proceeds received from the sale of the Securities to enter into hedging transactions. The Issuer believes that such hedging activity will under normal circumstances not have a material impact on the value of the Securities. However, it cannot be assured that the Issuer's hedging activities will not affect such value. The value of the Securities might in particular be affected by the liquidation of all or a portion of the hedging positions (i) at or about the time of the maturity or expiration of the Securities or (ii), if the Securities provide for a knock-out, knock-in or a similar feature, at the time when the price or value of the Underlying approaches the relevant price or level for the knock-out, knock-in or other feature.
5. Issue Price: The issue price charged for the Securities can, in addition to loading charges, management or other fees charged, comprise a premium on the original mathematical ("fair") value of the Securities which is not visible to investors. Such premium is determined by the Issuer in its discretion and can differ from premiums charged by other issuers for comparable securities.
6. Market-Making for the Securities: The Issuer, or an agent on its behalf, may act as market-maker for the Securities. In such market-making, the Issuer or its agent will, to a large extent, determine the price of the Securities itself. The prices quoted by such market-maker will usually not correspond to the prices which would have formed without such market-making and in a liquid market.

Circumstances taken into account by the market-maker when setting the quoted bid-offer prices in the secondary market notably include the Securities' fair value, which, among other things, depends on the value of the Underlying, as well as a certain bid-offer spread targeted by the market-maker. The market-maker will in addition regularly take into account a loading charge originally raised for the Securities and any fees or costs which at maturity of the Securities are to be subtracted from the cash amount (including management, transaction or other fees charged on the basis of the Product Conditions). Furthermore, the prices quoted in the secondary market will be influenced, for example, by a premium on the Securities' original value contained in their issue price (see under 5. above), and by dividends paid or received by the Underlying, or its constituents, or other proceeds which, due to the Securities' design, are economically attributable to the Issuer.

The bid-offer spread for the Securities will be set by the market-maker based on supply and demand for the Securities and certain revenue considerations.

Certain costs, like for example management fees charged on the basis of the Product Conditions, are in many cases not taken out of the quoted prices on a consistent basis over the term of the Securities (pro rata temporis), but are subtracted from the Securities' fair value completely at an earlier point in time, as determined by the market-maker in its discretion. The same applies for a premium contained in the issue price and for dividends and other proceeds of the Underlying which, due to the Securities' design, are economically attributable to the Issuer, which often are not subtracted when the Underlying, or its constituents, are traded "ex dividend", but at an early stage of the Securities' term based on expected dividends for the entire term or a certain time span. The rate at which such costs are subtracted depends, inter alia, on the net flow back of Securities to the market-maker.

Subsequently, the prices quoted by the market-maker can substantially differ from the fair value of the Securities, or the value to be expected economically on the basis of the factors mentioned above, at the relevant time. In addition, the market-maker can at any time alter the methodology used to set the quoted prices, e. g. increase or decrease the bid-offer spread.

7. Market-Making for the Underlying: The Issuer may, in certain cases, act as a market-maker for the Underlying, which might in particular be the case when the Issuer has also issued the Underlying. By such market-making, the Issuer will, to a large extent, determine the price of the Underlying, and consequently influence the value of the Securities itself. The prices quoted by the Issuer in its market-making function will not always correspond to the prices which would have prevailed without such market-making and in a liquid market.
8. Acting as underwriter or otherwise for the issuer of Underlying: The Issuer and its affiliates may also act as underwriter in connection with future offerings of the Underlying or may act as financial adviser to the issuer of an Underlying or in a commercial banking capacity for the issuer of an Underlying. Such activities could present certain conflicts of interest and may affect the value of the Securities.
9. Obtaining of non-public information: The Issuer and/or its affiliates may acquire non-public information with respect to the Underlying, and neither the Issuer nor any of its affiliates undertakes to disclose any such information to any Securityholder. In addition, one or more of the Issuer's affiliates may publish research reports with respect to the Underlying. Such activities could present conflicts of interest and may affect the value of the Securities.

ECONOMIC DESCRIPTION

Single Underlying linked Certificates (Type 1)

The information contained in this section is intended to provide a general description of the Securities. It is qualified by the more detailed explanation set forth in the sections "Product Conditions" and "General Conditions" of this Prospectus, which constitute the legally binding conditions of the Securities as attached to the global security. Prospective investors should read carefully and understand the "Product Conditions" and "General Conditions" before making any decision to invest in the Securities. The Product Conditions specify among other things:

- Whether the Securities will be exercised automatically or not;
- If the Securities are not exercised automatically, the procedure and deadlines for exercising the Securities, and the consequences if the investor does not exercise the Securities in time;
- How and when the value of the Underlying is determined for the purposes of valuation of the Securities; and
- How the cash amount payable or asset(s) deliverable at settlement will be determined (including, without limitation, whether a multiplier will be applied).

Defined terms used in this Economic Description are more fully defined in the section "Product Conditions" of this Prospectus.

[If Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement may apply at the election of the Issuer or the Securityholder, insert:

The certificates (the "Securities") represent the right to receive either payment of a cash amount or delivery of specified asset(s) at settlement. The right to receive either the payment of cash or delivery of a number of specified asset(s) or payment of cash at settlement shall be determined at the election of [If Issuer's option applies: the Issuer][If Securityholder's option applies: the Securityholder.]

If the [Delete as appropriate: [Issuer][Securityholder]] elects for cash settlement, the cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the product of (a) the value or average value of an underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying") to which the Securities are linked on one or more specified final valuation day(s) and (b) a specified multiplier [Delete as appropriate: [, subject to a specified maximum amount][, subject to a specified minimum amount][, subject to specified maximum and minimum amounts]].

The Underlying is [please insert: [index] [share] [other security] [fund share] [commodity] [currency amount] [future].

2. Economic nature of the Securities

The Securities represent an investment similar to a direct investment in the Underlying. Like a direct investment, the Securities offer a participation in the performance of the Underlying up to one or more specified final valuation day(s). [If a maximum Cash Settlement Amount or a minimum Cash Settlement Amount is specified, insert: However, in contrast to a direct investment,] [If a maximum Cash Settlement Amount is specified, insert: if the amount of cash determined is equal to or exceeds a specified maximum amount, the cash amount payable at settlement will be equal to that specified maximum amount] [If a minimum Cash Settlement Amount is specified, insert: [, and] if the amount of cash so determined is equal to or less than a specified minimum amount, the cash amount payable at settlement will be equal to that specified minimum amount.]

Investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term achieve a positive return on their initial investment when the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s) exceeds the value or average value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities. If the value or the average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s) is less than the value or the average value of the Underlying at or about the time of issuance of the Securities, investors that bought the Securities at their issue date and hold them for their entire term will suffer a loss. If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s) is zero an investor would lose all of his investment in the Securities.

The Securities do not provide a guarantee of the right to receive [Delete as appropriate: [payment of a cash amount][or][delivery of a number of specified asset(s)]or for the right to receive repayment of the issue price. As described above, [Delete as appropriate: [the value of any cash amount payable][or][the number of any specified asset(s) deliverable]] to the investor at settlement depends on (a) the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified final valuation day(s) and [Delete as appropriate: [,][and]] (b) the value of the specified multiplier [If the Securities include a Management Fee, insert: and (c) the fees notionally payable in respect of the Securities [If the Securities have a Maximum or Minimum cash amount, insert: and (d) the specified maximum [and/or] minimum amounts.] In particular there are no periodic interest payments or other distributions (e.g. dividends) payable during the term of the Securities. Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if the [Delete as appropriate: [cash amount][or][the number of any specified asset(s)]] received at settlement or after a sale of the Securities in the secondary market during their term exceeds the price originally paid for the Securities. Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of the Underlying and will not have any rights against the issuer of the Underlying, any constituents of the Underlying or the issuer of any such constituents.

[If the Securities are perpetual, insert: The Securities do not provide for a predetermined maturity date. Accordingly, investors will only have the rights set out above following exercise of the Securities, which is only possible at one of the specified exercise dates.]

[If the Securities are perpetual or otherwise provide for a redemption right of the issuer, insert: The Issuer has the right to terminate the Securities at certain dates. Accordingly, investors should not rely on a certain valuation date or valuation dates as the basis for the calculation of their return under the Securities.]

If the Securities are settled by physical settlement and the [Underlying]/[if the Underlying is an index or commodity insert: certificate relating to the underlying asset] [•] is delivered upon settlement of the Securities, investors will be exposed to the benefits and risks associated with the holding of that asset, and benefit from increases, or suffer losses from decreases, in the value of such asset.

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value of the Underlying. If the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will be expected to fall. If the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will be expected to rise.

Other factors which may influence the market value of the Securities include interest rates, potential dividend or interest payments in respect of the Underlying, changes in the method of calculating the level of the Underlying from time to time and market expectations regarding the future performance of the Underlying and the Securities.

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are quanto securities insert:

In addition, each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is deemed to be in the settlement currency, without reference to any exchange rate between the currency of the Underlying and the settlement currency (so-called "quanto securities"). As a result, an investment in the Securities will not involve exchange rate risks. However, the relative interest rate difference between the current interest rate relating to the currency in which each relevant value of the Underlying is deemed to be expressed and the current interest rate relating to the settlement currency of the Securities may influence the price of the Securities.]

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are NOT quanto securities insert:

The currency in which each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is expressed is not the same as the settlement currency of the Securities. Accordingly, an investment in the Securities will involve exchange rate risks.]

[If the Underlying is an index or otherwise calculated by reference to constituents insert:

The value of the Underlying on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Underlying and factors (including those described above) which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents, will affect the value of the Underlying and therefore may affect the return on an investment in the Securities.]

If, following the purchase of any Securities, the market value of the Securities falls below the purchase price paid for such Securities, investors should not expect the market value of the Securities to increase to or above the purchase price paid by the investor during the remainder of the term of the Securities.

The Product Conditions specify among other things:

The Underlying is a basket consisting of [Please insert: [indices] [shares] [other securities] [fund shares] [commodities] [currency amounts] [futures]]. 2. Economic nature of the Securities

The Securities represent an investment similar to a direct investment in the Underlying. Investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term achieve a positive return on their initial investment when the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s) exceeds the value or average value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities. Single Underlying linked Outperformance Certificate

The information contained in this section is intended to provide a general description of the Securities. It is qualified by the more detailed explanation set forth in the sections "Product Conditions" and "General Conditions" of this Prospectus which constitute the legally binding conditions of the Securities as attached to the global security. Prospective investors should read carefully and understand the Product Conditions and General Conditions before making any decision to invest in the Securities. The Product Conditions specify, among other things:

- Whether the Securities will be exercised automatically or not;
- If the Securities are not exercised automatically, the procedure and deadlines for exercising the Securities, and the consequences if the investor does not exercise the Securities in time;
- How and when the value of the Underlying is determined for the purposes of valuation of the Securities; and
- How the cash amount payable, or (as the case may be) the specified assets to be delivered, at settlement will be determined (including, without limitation, whether a multiplier will be applied).

Defined terms used in this Economic Description are more fully defined in the Product Conditions.

1. Rights under the Securities

[If Cash Settlement only insert:

The outperformance certificates (the "Securities") represent the right to receive payment of a cash amount at settlement. The cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the value or average value of an underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying") on one or more specified days. If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is greater than a specified determination level, the cash amount payable will reflect the sum of the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) and a specified proportion of the difference between the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) and the specified determination level. If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is equal to or less than the specified determination level, the cash amount payable will reflect only the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s). In each case, the cash amount is subject to deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.]

[If Physical Settlement may apply insert:

The outperformance certificates (the "Securities") represent the right to receive either delivery of specified asset(s) and/or payment of a cash amount at settlement. If the value or average value of the underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying") on one or more specified day(s) is less than a specified determination level, a specified asset or number of assets will be deliverable; if it is equal to or greater than the specified determination level, a cash amount will be payable which will reflect a specified proportion of the difference between the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) and the specified determination level. The payment of cash and delivery of specified asset(s) at settlement is subject to deduction or payment of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.]

The Underlying is [please insert: index, share, other security, fund share, commodity, currency amount or future].

[If Physical Settlement may apply and if the Underlying is an index or commodity insert: Where the Securities are to be settled by delivery of a specified asset or number of assets, the specified asset will be [the Underlying]/[certificates relating to the underlying index] [•]].

2. Economic nature of the Securities

The Securities represent an investment similar to a direct investment in the Underlying. In contrast to such direct investment, if the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is greater than (outperforms) a specified determination level, investors will receive an amount which represents a leveraged participation in the extent to which the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) exceeds such specified determination level in addition to an amount which reflects the value or average value of the Underlying on the such day(s).

There is no maximum or minimum cash amount payable at settlement.

Investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term therefore achieve the greatest return on their initial investment when the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified days is greater than the specified determination level. However investors will receive no return on their investment, and may suffer a loss, if the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is equal to or less than the level of the Underlying at or about the issuance of the Securities. Such loss can extend to their whole initial investment where the value or average value of the underlying asset is zero on the specified day(s). [If Cash Settlement only insert: If the value or average value of the Underlying on such day(s) is equal to or less than the specified determination level, investors will receive an amount reflecting the value or average value of the Underlying on such day(s).] [If Physical Settlement may apply insert: If the value or average value of the Underlying on such day(s) is equal to the specified determination level, investors will receive an amount reflecting such value or average value. If the value or average value of the Underlying on such day(s) is less than the specified determination level, investors will receive a specified asset or number of assets.]

The Securities do not provide a guarantee of payment of a set amount or for the right to receive repayment of the issue price. As described above, the value of any cash amount payable [Insert for Physical Settlement: or asset(s) deliverable] to the investor at settlement depends on the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified day(s) which, in the worst-case scenario, can result in the total loss of the initial investment. There is no return on the Securities other than the potential cash payment [Insert for Physical Settlement: or delivery of a specified asset or number of assets] at settlement. In particular there are no periodic interest payments or other distributions (e.g. dividends) payable during the term of the Securities. Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if the cash amount [Insert for Physical Settlement: or value of any assets received] at settlement or after a sale of the Securities in the secondary market during their term exceeds the price originally paid for the Securities. Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of the Underlying and will not have any rights against the issuer of the Underlying, any constituents of the Underlying or the issuer of any such constituents.

[If Physical Settlement may apply insert: If the [Underlying]/[If Physical Settlement may apply and if the Underlying is an index or commodity insert: certificate relating to the underlying index] [•] is delivered upon settlement of the Securities, investors will be exposed to the benefits and risks associated with the holding of that asset, and benefit from increases, or suffer losses from decreases, in the value of such asset.]

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value of the Underlying and the volatility of the Underlying. If the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also fall. If the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also rise.

Other factors which may influence the market value of the Securities include interest rates, potential dividend or interest payments in respect of the Underlying, changes in the method of calculating the level of the Underlying from time to time and market expectations regarding the future performance of the Underlying and the Securities.

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are quanto securities insert:

In addition, each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is deemed to be in the settlement currency, without reference to any exchange rate between the currency of the Underlying and the settlement currency (so-called "quanto securities"). As a result, an investment in the Securities will not involve exchange rate risks. However, the relative interest rate difference between the current interest rate relating to the currency in which each relevant value of the Underlying is deemed to be expressed and the current interest rate relating to the settlement currency of the Securities may influence the price of the Securities.]

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are NOT quanto securities insert:

The currency in which each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is expressed is not the same as the settlement currency of the Securities. Accordingly, an investment in the Securities will involve exchange rate risks.]

[If the Underlying is an index or otherwise calculated by reference to constituents insert:

The value of the Underlying on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Underlying and factors (including those described above) which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents, will affect the value of the Underlying and therefore may affect the return on an investment in the Securities.]

If, following the purchase of any Securities, the market value of the Securities falls below the purchase price paid for such Securities, investors should not expect the market value of the Securities to increase to or above the purchase price paid by the investor during the remainder of the term of the Securities.

[If Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement may apply at the election of the Issuer or the Securityholder, insert:

If the [If the issuer has the right to elect between cash and physical settlement, insert: Issuer] [If the investor has the right to elect between cash and physical settlement, insert: Securityholder] elects for cash settlement, and the value or average value of an underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying") on the specified day(s) is [If the Securities are Call Warrants, insert: greater]

If the [If the issuer has the right to elect between cash and physical settlement, insert: Issuer] [If the investor has the right to elect between cash and physical settlement, insert: Securityholder] elects for physical settlement, and the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is

than or equal to the specified strike, no specified asset(s) will be deliverable. The delivery of specified asset(s) at settlement is subject to payment of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.]

2. Economic nature of the Securities

In respect of an investment in warrants, investors will receive
[If Physical Settlement only insert: the specified asset(s)]
[If the Securities are settled in cash only insert: a cash amount]
[If the Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement applies insert: the specified asset(s) or a cash amount] which represents a disproportionate participation in the extent to which the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is
[If the Securities are Call Warrants, insert: greater]
[If the Securities are Put Warrants, insert: less] than such specified strike [If the Securities have a Cap Amount insert: provided that the participation will be limited by the specified maximum amount]. However, if the value or the average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is
[If the Securities are Call Warrants, insert: less]
[If the Securities are Put Warrants, insert: greater] than or equal to the specified strike, investors who hold the Securities will not receive any return on their investment.

Investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term therefore achieve a return if
[If the Securities are settled in cash only insert a cash amount is paid and if such cash amount]
[If Physical Settlement only insert: a specified asset or number of assets are delivered and if the value of such specified asset(s)]
[If the Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement applies insert: a cash amount is paid or a specified asset or number of assets are delivered and if the cash amount or value of such specified asset(s)] exceeds the price paid for the Securities, otherwise they will make a loss.]

The Securities do not provide a guarantee of payment of a set cash amount or delivery of a specified asset or number of assets or for the right to receive repayment of the issue price. As described above,
[If the Securities are settled in cash only insert: the value of any cash amount payable]
[If Physical Settlement only insert: whether any specified asset(s) are deliverable]
[If the Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement applies insert: the value of any cash amount payable or whether any specified asset(s) are deliverable] to the investor at settlement depends on the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified day(s) which, in the worst-case scenario, can result in the total loss of the initial investment. There is no return on the Securities other than

[If Physical Settlement only insert: the potential delivery of specified asset(s)]
[If the Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement applies insert: the potential cash payment or the potential delivery of specified asset(s)] at settlement. In particular there are no periodic interest payments or other distributions (e.g. dividends) payable during the term of the Securities. Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if
[If the Securities are settled in cash only insert: the cash amount]
[If Physical Settlement only insert: the value of the specified asset(s)]
[If the Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement applies insert: the cash amount or the value of the specified asset(s)]

Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of the Underlying and will not have any rights against the issuer of the Underlying, any constituents of the Underlying or the issuer of such constituents.

[If Physical Settlement may apply insert: If the [Underlying]/[If Physical Settlement may apply and if the Underlying is an index or commodity insert: certificate relating to the underlying index] [•] is delivered upon settlement of the Securities, investors will be exposed to the benefits and risks associated with the holding of that asset, and benefit from increases, or suffer losses from decreases, in the value of such asset.]

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

[If the Securities are Call Warrants, insert:

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value of the Underlying and the volatility of the Underlying. If the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also fall. If the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also rise. Increases or decreases in the value of the Underlying usually will have a disproportionately higher effect on the market value of the Security. The market value of the Securities can change even if no change in the value of the Underlying occurs, as the value of the Securities depend on additional pricing criteria which are time sensitive. The market value of the Securities is likely to fall to zero, if the market perception is that the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) will be below the strike.]

2. Economic nature of the Securities

In respect of an investment in warrants, investors will receive
[If Physical Settlement only insert: the specified asset(s)]
[If the Securities are settled in cash only insert: a cash amount]

exceeds the price paid for the Securities, otherwise they will make a loss.]

The Securities do not provide a guarantee of payment of a set cash amount or delivery of a specified asset or number of assets or for the right to receive repayment of the issue price. As described above,

[If the Securities are settled in cash only insert: the value of any cash amount payable]

[If Physical Settlement only insert: whether any specified asset(s) are deliverable]

[If Physical Settlement only insert: the potential delivery of specified asset(s)]

[If the Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement applies insert: the potential cash payment or the potential delivery of specified asset(s)] at settlement. In particular there are no periodic interest payments or other distributions (e.g. dividends) payable during the term of the Securities. Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if

[If the Securities are settled in cash only insert: the cash amount]

[If Physical Settlement only insert: the value of the specified asset(s)]

[If the Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement applies insert: the cash amount or the value of the specified asset(s)]

received at settlement or after a sale of the Securities in the secondary market during their term exceeds the price originally paid for the Securities. Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of the Underlying and will not have any rights against the issuer of the Underlying, any constituents of the Underlying or the issuer of such constituents.

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

[If the Securities are Call Warrants, insert:

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value of the Underlying and the volatility of the Underlying. If the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also fall. If the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also rise. Increases or decreases in the value of the Underlying usually will have a disproportionately higher effect on the market value of the Security. The market value of the Security can change even if no change in the value of the Underlying occurs, as the value of the Security is dependent on additional pricing criteria which are time sensitive. The market value of the Securities is likely to fall to zero, if the market perception is that the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) will be below the strike.]

Single Underlying linked Knock-out Warrants (WAVES)

The information contained in this section is intended to provide a general description of the Securities. It is qualified by the more detailed explanation set forth in the sections "Product Conditions" and "General Conditions" of this Prospectus, which constitute the legally binding conditions of the Securities as attached to the global security. Prospective investors should read carefully and understand the "Product Conditions" and "General Conditions" before making any decision to invest in the Securities. The Product Conditions specify, amongst other things:

- Whether the Securities will be exercised automatically or not;
- If the Securities are not exercised automatically, the procedure and deadlines for exercising the Securities, and the consequences if the investor does not exercise the Securities in time;
- How and when the value of the Underlying is determined for the purposes of valuation of the Securities; and
- How the cash amount payable or asset(s) deliverable at settlement will be determined (including, without limitation, whether a multiplier will be applied).

Defined terms used in this Economic Description are more fully defined in the section "Product Conditions" of this Prospectus.

1. Rights under the Securities

[If the Securities are settled in cash only insert:

The warrants (the "Securities") represent the right to receive payment of a cash amount at settlement. Such cash amount will reflect the product of the amount by which the value of an underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying") is [Insert if Type Call: greater] [Insert if Type Put: less] than a specified strike, and a specified multiplier; if the value of the Underlying is [Insert if Type Call: less] [Insert if Type Put: greater] than or equal to the specified strike no such cash amount will be payable.]

However, the right to payment of such cash amount will expire, if the value of the Underlying at any time during a specified period is [Insert if Type Call: less] [Insert if Type Put: greater] or equal to a specified barrier level. [If the Securities are not (a) WAVES Return or (b) WAVES XXL, insert: In such case, the Securities will become worthless and no cash amount will be payable at settlement.]

[If the Securities are WAVES XXL or WAVE Returns, insert:

In such case, the Securities will be redeemed by payment of an amount which reflects the amount by which the value of the Underlying at a time during a specified subsequent period chosen by the Issuer in its discretion is [Insert if Type Call: greater] [Insert if Type Put: less] than the specified strike. If such amount is [If the Type is Call, insert: less][If the Type is Put, insert: greater] than or equal to the strike, the Securities will become worthless and no cash amount will be payable.]

[If the Securities are WAVES XXL, insert: As the Securities do not provide for a fixed maturity date, the strike will be adjusted continuously on a daily basis during the life of the Securities to reflect certain funding costs determined by the calculation agent. [If a

Dividend Factor is used to determine the Strike, insert: Further, if the issuer of the Underlying issues a dividend notice, the strike will be reduced (subject to a minimum of zero) by an amount in order to reflect the corresponding change in the Underlying's value. In addition to the adjustment of the strike, the barrier level will be adjusted [If Type is Call, insert: upwards][If Type is Put, insert: downwards] to an amount which reflects the then current strike multiplied with an adjustment factor. The amount of the adjustment factor equals a specified number on the issue date and is adjusted subsequently on the basis of the prevailing market conditions.]

The payment of cash at settlement is subject to deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.]

2. Economic nature of the Securities

In respect of an investment in WAVES, investors will receive

[If Physical Settlement only insert: the specified asset(s)

[If the Securities are settled in cash only insert: a cash amount

[If the Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement applies insert: the specified asset(s) or a cash amount] which represents a disproportionate participation in the extent to which the value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is

[If the Securities are Call Warrants, insert: greater]

[If the Securities are Put Warrants, insert: less] than such specified strike. However, [If Securities are cash settled only, insert: no cash amount will be payable at settlement,] if the value of the Underlying on the specified day is

[If the Securities are Call Warrants, insert: less]

[If the Securities are Put Warrants, insert: greater]

than or equal to the specified strike, or if the value of the Underlying has been [Insert if Type Call: less] [Insert if Type Put: greater] or equal to the specified barrier level during a specified period. [If the Securities are not (a) WAVES Return or (b) WAVES XXL, insert: In the latter case, the Securities will expire worthless.]

[If the Securities are WAVES XXL or WAVE Returns, insert:

In the latter case, the Securities will be redeemed, and investors will receive payment of the amount by which the value of the Underlying at a time during a specified subsequent period chosen by the Issuer in its discretion is [Insert if Type Call: greater]

[Insert if Type Put: less] than the specified strike. If such amount is [If the Type is Call, insert: less][If the Type is Put, insert: greater] than or equal to the strike, the Securities will expire worthless.]

Investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term therefore achieve a return, if a cash amount is paid and if such cash amount exceeds the price paid for the Securities; otherwise they will make a loss.

The Securities do not provide a guarantee of payment of a set amount or delivery of a set amount of specified asset(s) or for the right to receive repayment of the issue price. As described above, the value of any cash amount payable to the investor at settlement depends on (a) whether the value of the Underlying is less, equal or greater than the specified barrier level during a specified period (b) the value of the Underlying on one specified day which, in the worst-case scenario, can result in the total loss of the initial investment. There is no return on the Securities other than the potential cash payment at settlement. In particular there are no periodic interest payments or other distributions (e.g. dividends) payable during the term of the Securities. Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if the cash amount received at settlement or after a sale of the Securities in the secondary market during their term exceeds the price originally paid for the Securities. Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of the Underlying and will not have any rights against such constituents or the issuer of such constituents.

[If the Securities are WAVES XXL, insert: The Securities do not provide for a predetermined maturity date. Accordingly, investors will only have the rights set out above following exercise of the Securities, which is only possible at one of the specified exercise dates.]

[If the Securities are WAVES XXL, insert: The Issuer has the right to terminate the Securities at certain dates. Accordingly, investors should not rely on a certain valuation date as the basis for the calculation of their return under the Securities.]

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

If the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the Securities or that the value of the Underlying is likely to be greater or equal to the specified barrier level during the specified period, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also rise.]

- How the cash amount payable, or (as the case may be) the specified assets to be delivered, at settlement will be determined (including, without limitation, whether a multiplier will be applied).

Defined terms used in this Economic Description are more fully defined in the Product Conditions of this Prospectus.

1. Rights under the Securities

[If Cash Settlement only insert:

The Double Chance Certificates (the "Securities") represent the right to receive payment of a cash amount at settlement. The cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the value or average value of an underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying") on one or more specified final valuation days. The cash amount will be composed of the sum of two elements [If there is a Multiplier insert., and then multiplied by the specified multiplier]. One element will be equal to the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s), subject to a specified maximum value. The other element will be equal to a multiple of the extent (if any) that the value or average value of the Underlying exceeds a specified determination level (subject to a maximum amount equal to a multiple of the difference between the specified maximum value and the specified determination level). In each case, the cash amount payable at settlement is subject to deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.]

[If Physical Settlement may apply insert:

The Double Chance Certificates (the "Securities") represent the right to receive either delivery of specified asset(s) or payment of a cash amount at settlement. If the value or average value of the underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying") on one or more specified final valuation day(s) is equal to or less than a specified determination level, a specified asset or number of assets will be deliverable; if it is greater than the specified determination level, a cash amount will be payable. If a cash amount is payable at settlement it will be comprised of the sum of two elements [If there is a Multiplier insert., and then multiplied by the specified multiplier]. One element will be equal to the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s), subject to a specified maximum value. The other element will be equal to a multiple of the extent (if any) that the value, or average value of the Underlying exceeds a specified determination level (subject to a maximum amount equal to a multiple of the difference between the specified maximum value and the specified determination level). The payment of cash and the delivery of specified assets at settlement is subject to the payment or deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.]

The Underlying is [please insert: index, share, other security, fund share, commodity, currency amount or future].

[If Physical Settlement may apply and if the Underlying is an index or commodity insert: Where the Securities are to be settled by delivery of a specified asset or assets, the specified asset will be [the Underlying]/[certificates relating to the underlying index] [•].

2. Economic nature of the Securities

The Securities represent an investment similar to a direct investment in the Underlying. In contrast to such direct investment, the Securities offer the possibility of increased returns by leveraged participation in the extent to which the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s) exceeds the specified determination level, but subject to a specified maximum value.

Investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term therefore achieve the maximum return on their initial investment when the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified final valuation days is equal to or greater than the specified maximum value. In this case the cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the sum of the specified maximum value of the Underlying and a multiple of the extent (if any) that the value, or average value of the Underlying exceeds a specified determination level (subject to a maximum amount equal to a multiple of the difference between the specified maximum value and the specified determination level). If the value or average value of the Underlying on the final valuation day(s) is less than the specified maximum value but above the specified determination level then the cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the sum of the value or average value of the Underlying and a multiple of the extent (if any) that the value, or average value of the Underlying exceeds a specified determination level (subject to a maximum amount equal to a multiple of the difference between the specified maximum value and the specified determination level). However, if the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s) is equal to or below the specified determination level, investors will receive no positive return or will make a loss. Such loss can extend to their whole initial investment where the value, as applicable, or average value of the underlying asset is zero at this time.

The Securities do not provide a guarantee of payment of a set amount or for the right to receive repayment of the issue price. As described above, the value of any cash amount payable [Insert for Physical Settlement: or specified asset or number of assets deliverable] to the investor at settlement depends on the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified final valuation day(s), which, in the worst-case scenario, can result in the total loss of the initial investment. There is no return on the Securities other than the potential cash payment [Insert for Physical Settlement: or delivery of a specified asset or number of assets] at settlement. In particular there are no periodic interest payments or other distributions (e.g. dividends) payable during the term of the Securities. Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if the cash amount [if Physical Settlement, insert: or the value of any specified assets] received at settlement or after a sale of the Securities in the secondary market during their term exceeds the price originally paid for the Securities. Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of the Underlying and will not have any rights against the issuer of the Underlying, any constituents of the Underlying or the issuer of such constituents.

[If Physical Settlement may apply insert: If the [Underlying]/[If Physical Settlement may apply and if the Underlying is an index or commodity insert: certificate relating to the underlying index] [•] is delivered upon settlement of the Securities, investors will be exposed to the benefits and risks associated with the holding of that asset, and benefit from increases, or suffer losses from decreases in the value of such asset.]

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value of the Underlying and the volatility of the Underlying. If the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also fall. If the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also rise, provided that, in relation to the settlement of the Securities, where the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified final valuation day(s) exceeds the specified maximum value there will not be any corresponding rise in the value of the Securities.

Other factors which may influence the market value of the Securities include interest rates, potential dividend or interest payments, as applicable, in respect of the Underlying, changes in the constituents, or in the method of calculating the level of, the Underlying from time to time and market expectations regarding the future performance of the Underlying and the Securities.

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are quanto securities insert:

In addition, each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is deemed to be in the settlement currency, without reference to any exchange rate between the currency of the Underlying and the settlement currency (so-called "quanto securities"). As a result, an investment in the Securities will not involve exchange rate risks. However, the relative interest rate difference between the current interest rate relating to the currency in which each relevant value of the Underlying is deemed to be expressed and the current interest rate relating to the settlement currency of the Securities may influence the price of the Securities.]

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are NOT quanto securities insert:

The currency in which each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is expressed is not the same as the settlement currency of the Securities. Accordingly, an investment in the Securities will involve exchange rate risks.]

[If the Underlying is an index or otherwise calculated by reference to constituents insert:

The value of the Underlying on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Underlying and factors (including those described above) which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents, will affect the value of the Underlying and therefore may affect the return on an investment in the Securities.]

If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) lies between the specified determination level and the specified maximum amount, an increase in the value or average value of the Underlying generally does not result in a price increase of the Securities [twice][•] as high; on the contrary, the price increase of the Securities will proportionally often be lower than the increase in the value or average value of the Underlying.

If, following the purchase of any Securities, the market value of the Securities falls below the purchase price paid for such Securities, investors should not expect the market value of the Securities to increase to or above the purchase price paid by the investor during the remainder of the term of the Securities.

Single Underlying linked Best Chance Certificate

The information contained in this section is intended to provide a general description of the Securities. It is qualified by the more detailed explanation set forth in the sections "Product Conditions" and "General Conditions" of this Prospectus, which constitute the legally binding conditions of the Securities as attached to the global security. Prospective investors should read carefully and understand the Product Conditions and General Conditions before making any decision to invest in the Securities. The Product Conditions specify, among other things:

- How and when the value of the Underlying is determined for the purposes of valuation of the Securities; and
- How the cash amount payable, or (as the case may be) the specified assets to be delivered, at settlement will be determined (including, without limitation, whether a multiplier will be applied).

Defined terms used in this Economic Description are more fully defined in the Product Conditions of this Prospectus.

1. Rights under the Securities

The Best Chance Certificates (the "Securities") represent the right to receive payment of a cash amount at settlement. The cash amount will be equal to the value or average value of an underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying") on one or more specified final valuation days, divided by the lowest value of the Underlying during a specified period, which may be one or more days, and then multiplied by a specified initial amount (which will be equal to a proportion of an initial reference value or average value of the Underlying). If the cash amount so determined is equal to or exceeds a specified maximum amount, the actual cash amount payable at settlement will be equal to that specified maximum amount. The payment of cash at settlement is subject to deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.

The Underlying is [please insert: [index] [share] [other security] [fund share] [commodity] [currency amount] [future].

2. Economic nature of the Securities

The Securities represent an investment similar to a direct investment in the Underlying. In contrast to such direct investment, however, the Securities enable investors to participate in an appreciation in the value or average value of the Underlying on the basis of the lowest of several values of the Underlying at certain times during a specified period. However, as the cash amount payable at settlement is capped, investors forgo the opportunity to participate in increases in the value or average value of the Underlying above a specified maximum amount. In addition, the basis of calculation for the participation in the performance of the Underlying will be a specified initial amount, which may be less than the purchase price for the Securities; if this happens and, if the difference between the lowest value of the Underlying on any of the specified days and the specified initial amount is relatively small, investors may not fully participate in rises in the value or average value of the Underlying, and may suffer a loss even if the value or average value of the Underlying rises.

Investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term achieve the greatest return on their initial investment when the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s) exceeds the lowest value of the Underlying during the specified period by a proportion which gives rise to a cash amount at settlement which is equal to the maximum amount. Investors will receive a positive return on their initial investment if the proportion between the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s) and the lowest value of the Underlying during the specified period is greater than the proportion between the purchase price of the Securities and the specified initial amount. If the second proportion is higher than the first-mentioned, investors will suffer a loss. Such loss will be greater if the value or average value of the Underlying on the final valuation day(s) is less than the lowest value of the Underlying during the relevant period, and can extend to their whole initial investment where the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day(s) is zero at this time.

The Securities do not provide a guarantee of payment of a set amount or for the right to receive repayment of the issue price. As described above, the value of any cash amount payable to the investor on settlement depends on the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified final valuation days and the (lowest) value of the Underlying during a specified period, and on the factors described below.

There is no return on the Securities other than the potential cash payment at settlement. In particular there are no periodic interest payments or other distributions (e.g. dividends) payable during the term of the Securities. Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if the cash amount received on settlement or after a sale of the Securities in the secondary market during their term exceeds the price originally paid for the Securities. Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of the Underlying and will not have any rights against the issuer of the Underlying, any constituents of the Underlying or the issuer of such constituents.

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value and the volatility of the Underlying. Once the lowest value of the Underlying during the specified period has been determined (or at least one relevant valuation date has occurred), then under normal conditions and all other factors being equal, if the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the securities, the market value of the Securities will also rise, subject to the maximum amount. Conversely, if the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall during the remaining life of the securities, the market value of the Securities will also fall.

Other factors which may influence the market value of the Securities include interest rates, potential dividend or interest payments, as applicable, in respect of the Underlying, changes in the constituents, or in the method of calculating the level of, the Underlying from time to time and market expectations regarding the future performance of the Underlying and the Securities.

As a result, an investment in the Securities will not involve exchange rate risks. However, the relative interest rate difference between the current interest rate relating to the currency in which each relevant value of the Underlying is deemed to be expressed and the current interest rate relating to the settlement currency of the Securities may influence the price of the Securities.]

The value of the Underlying on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Underlying and factors (including those described above) which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents, will affect the value of the Underlying and therefore may affect the return on an investment in the Securities.]

If, following the purchase of any Securities, the market value of the Securities falls below the purchase price paid for such Securities, investors should not expect the market value of the Securities to increase to or above the purchase price paid by the investor during the remainder of the term of the Securities.

Single Underlying linked Parachute Certificates

The information contained in this section is intended to provide a general description of the Securities. It is qualified by the more detailed explanation set forth in the Sections "Product Conditions" and "General Conditions" of this Prospectus, which constitute the legally binding conditions of the Securities as attached to the global security. Prospective investors should read carefully and understand the sections "Product Conditions" and "General Conditions" of this Prospectus before making any decision to invest in the Securities. The Product Conditions specify among other things:

- Whether the Securities will be exercised automatically or not;
- If the Securities are not exercised automatically, the procedure and deadlines for exercising the Securities, and the consequences if the investor does not exercise the Securities in time;
- How and when the value of the Underlying is determined for the purposes of valuation of the Securities; and
- How the cash amount payable, or (as the case may be) the specified assets to be delivered, at settlement will be determined (including, without limitation, whether a multiplier will be applied).

Defined terms used in this Economic Description are more fully defined in the section "Product Conditions" of this Prospectus.

1. Rights under the Securities

The parachute certificates (the "Securities") represent the right to receive payment of a cash amount at settlement. [If the Issuer has the right to redeem the Securities early, insert: Save where the Issuer elects to redeem the Securities early, the] / [The] cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the values or average value of an underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying") on one or more specified days. If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is equal to or exceeds the value or average value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities, a cash amount will be payable at settlement which reflects the product of (a) a specified multiplier and (b) the sum of the value or average value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities and a specified proportion (the participation factor) of the difference between the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) and the value or average value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities. [If the Issuer has the right to redeem the Securities early, insert: If the Issuer elects to redeem the Securities early, the cash amount payable at settlement will be a specified early cash settlement amount.]

If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is equal to or less than the value or average value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities but is equal to or greater than a specified parachute threshold, a cash amount will be payable at settlement which reflects the product of the value or average value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities and the specified multiplier.

If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is equal to or less than the specified parachute threshold then a cash amount will be payable at settlement which reflects the product of the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s), a specified percentage (the parachute factor) and the specified multiplier.

[If the Securities provide for a maximum amount insert: If the cash amount so determined is equal to or exceeds a specified maximum amount, the cash amount payable at settlement will be equal to that specified maximum amount.]

The cash amount payable at settlement is subject to deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.

The Underlying is [please insert: [index] [share] [other security] [fund share] [commodity] [currency amount] [future].

2. Economic nature of the Securities

The Securities represent an investment similar to a direct investment in the Underlying. In contrast to such direct investment, the Securities offer a degree of protection against decreases in the value of the Underlying until one or more specified valuation day(s): If such value falls to no less than a certain level (the parachute threshold), investors will receive the invested capital back; if the value of the Underlying falls below the parachute threshold, investors still have a degree of protection and are only partially exposed to such decreases in the value of the Underlying, but to a lesser extent, which is the specified parachute factor. For that protection, however, investors may forgo the opportunity to participate fully in increases in the value of the Underlying. [If the Securities provide for a maximum amount insert: If the cash amount determined is equal to or exceeds a specified maximum amount, the cash amount payable at settlement will be equal to that specified maximum amount.] [If the Issuer has the right to redeem the Securities early, insert: However, if the Issuer elects to redeem the Securities early, investors will receive a specified early cash settlement amount.]

Investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term achieve a positive return on their initial investment when the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) exceeds the value or average value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities. They will receive no positive return, but will receive their invested capital back, where the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is less than the value or average value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities, but equal to or greater than the specified parachute threshold.

Investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term will suffer a loss where the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is less than the specified parachute threshold. If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is zero the cash amount would be zero and an investor would lose all of his investment in the Securities.

The Securities do not provide a guarantee of payment of a set amount or for the right to receive repayment of the issue price. As described above, the value of any cash amount payable to the investor at settlement depends on the difference between the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) and the value or average value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities, which, in the worst-case scenario, can result in the total loss of the initial investment. There is no return on the Securities other than the potential cash payment at settlement. In particular there are no periodic interest payments or other distributions (e.g. dividends) payable during the term of the Securities. Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if the cash amount or value of any assets received on settlement or after a sale of the Securities in the secondary market during their term exceeds the price originally paid for the Securities. Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of the Underlying and will not have any rights against the issuer of the Underlying, any constituents of the Underlying or the issuer of such constituents.

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value and volatility of the Underlying. If the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will be expected to fall. If the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will be expected to rise [If the Securities provide for a maximum amount, or if the Issuer has the right to redeem the Securities insert: , provided that the market value of the Securities will not exceed [If the Securities provide for a maximum amount insert: the specified maximum cash amount payable at settlement] [If the Issuer has the right to redeem the Securities early, insert: [or] the relevant early cash settlement amount, if the Issuer elects to redeem the Securities early].]

Other factors which may influence the market value of the Securities include interest rates, potential dividend or interest payments in respect of the Underlying , changes in the method of calculating the level of the Underlying from time to time and market expectations regarding the future performance of the Underlying and the Securities.

However, the relative interest rate difference between the current interest rate relating to the currency in which each relevant value of the Underlying is deemed to be expressed and the current interest rate relating to the settlement currency of the Securities may influence the price of the Securities.]

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are NOT quanto securities insert:

[If the Underlying is an index or otherwise calculated by reference to constituents insert:

The value of the Underlying on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Underlying and factors (including those described above) which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents, will affect the value of the Underlying and therefore may affect the return on an investment in the Securities.]

If, following the purchase of any Securities, the market value of the Securities falls below the purchase price paid for such Securities, investors should not expect the market value of the Securities to increase to or above the purchase price paid by the investor during the remainder of the term of the Securities.

- How and when the value of the Underlying is determined for the purposes of valuation of the Securities; and
- How the cash amount payable or asset(s) deliverable at settlement will be determined (including, without limitation, whether a multiplier will be applied).

Defined terms used in this Economic Description are more fully defined in the section "Product Conditions" of this Prospectus.

1. Rights under the Securities

[If Cash Settlement only insert:

The certificates (the "Securities") represent the right to receive payment of a cash amount at settlement. The cash amount payable at settlement will depend on whether or not the value of the Underlying [at any time] [on the specified valuation date] [during a specified barrier determination period] was lower than a specified determination level. If the value of the Underlying [at any time] [on the specified valuation date] [during a specified barrier determination period] was not lower than the specified determination level then the cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities [If a Multiplier is used, insert: subject to the specified multiplier], otherwise the cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the value of the Underlying on the specified valuation date [If a Multiplier is used, insert: subject to the specified multiplier] divided by the [Delete as applicable: specified determination level / the value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities].

However, if the value of the Underlying on a specified barrier determination day is greater than or equal to the specified barrier level [If barrier level is not fixed, insert: in respect of such day], the Securities will be redeemed under payment of an amount specified for the occurrence of such case at the respective time.

The payment of cash at settlement is subject to deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.]

[If Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement may apply, insert:

The certificates (the "Securities") represent the right to receive either payment of a cash amount or the delivery of specified asset(s) at settlement.

If the value of the Underlying [at any time] [on the specified valuation date] [during a specified barrier determination period] has not been lower than a specified determination level, a specified cash amount will be payable at settlement [If a Multiplier is used, insert: subject to a specified multiplier]; otherwise the specified asset(s) will be deliverable at settlement.

However, if the value of the Underlying on a specified barrier determination day is greater than or equal to the specified barrier level [If barrier level is not fixed, insert: in respect of such day], the Securities will be redeemed under payment of an amount specified for the occurrence of such case at the respective time.

The payment of cash and the delivery of specified asset(s) at settlement are subject to deduction or payment (as the case may be) of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.]

2. Economic nature of the Securities

The Securities represent an investment similar to a direct investment in the Underlying.

In contrast to such direct investment, the Securities will be redeemed automatically and a specified cash amount will be paid, if the value of the Underlying on a specified barrier determination day is greater than the specified barrier level [If barrier level is not fixed, insert: in respect of such day]. The cash amount will be higher, the later such early redemption occurs.

In addition the Securities provide a degree of protection against decrease in the value of the Underlying, as the investor will receive a cash amount at settlement equal to the value of the Underlying at or around issuance of the Securities, if the value of the Underlying [at any time] [on the specified valuation date] [during a specified barrier determination period] has not been lower than a specified determination level.

For that protection investors forgo the opportunity to participate in any further growth in the value of the Underlying beyond the specified barrier level after an early redemption of the Securities as described above.

If the value of the Underlying on a specified barrier determination day is greater than or equal to the specified barrier level [If barrier level is not fixed, insert: in respect of such day], the Securities will be redeemed under payment of an amount specified for the occurrence of such case at the respective time; in this case, investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term will receive a return on the initial investment, which will be the higher the later such early redemption occurs. Accordingly, investors will profit the more from an investment in the Securities, the later during the term of the Securities the value of the Underlying rises compared to its value at or around issuance of the Securities.

Otherwise, investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term will receive cash amount at settlement reflecting the value of the Underlying at or around settlement, and will thus not achieve a return on the initial investment, but avoid a loss, unless the value of the Underlying [at any time] [on the specified valuation date] [during a specified barrier determination period] has been lower than a specified determination level.. In the latter case, investors will receive [If Cash Settlement only insert: a cash amount at settlement reflecting the value of the Underlying on the specified valuation date [If a Multiplier is used, insert: subject to the specified multiplier] divided by the [Delete as applicable: specified determination level / the value of the Underlying at or about the date of issuance of the Securities] [If Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement may apply insert: the specified asset(s) at settlement].

The Securities do not provide a guarantee of payment of a set amount [If Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement may apply insert: or delivery of a set amount of specified asset(s)] or for the right to receive repayment of the issue price. As described above, [Delete as appropriate: [the value of any cash amount payable][or][the amount of any specified asset(s) deliverable]] to the investor at settlement depends on (a) whether the value of the Underlying on a specified barrier determination day is greater than or equal to the specified barrier level [If barrier level is not fixed, insert: in respect of such day], (b) whether the value of the Underlying [at any time] [on the specified valuation date] [during a specified barrier determination period] has been lower than the specified determination level and (c) the value of the Underlying on the specified valuation date which, in the worst-case scenario, can result in the total loss of the initial investment. There is no return on the Securities other than [Delete as appropriate: [the potential cash payment][or][the potential delivery of specified asset(s)]] at settlement. In particular there are no periodic interest payments or other distributions (e.g. dividends) payable during the term of the Securities. Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if the [Delete as appropriate: [cash amount][or][the amount of any specified asset(s)]] received at settlement or after a sale of the Securities in the secondary market during their term exceeds the price originally paid for the Securities. Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of the Underlying and will not have any rights against the issuer of the Underlying, any constituents of the Underlying or the issuer of any such constituents.

[If Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement may apply insert: If the Securities are settled by physical settlement and the [Underlying]/[if the Underlying is an index or commodity insert: certificate relating to the underlying asset] [•] is delivered upon settlement of the Securities, investors will be exposed to the benefits and risks associated with the holding of that asset, and benefit from increases, or suffer losses from decreases, in the value of such asset.]

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value and volatility of the Underlying during the life of the Securities.

In general, if the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall or that the value of the Underlying on a specified barrier determination day is greater than or equal to the specified barrier level [If barrier level is not fixed, insert: in respect of such day], is not likely to occur during the remaining life of the Securities, the market value of the Securities will be expected to fall. On the same basis, if the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise or that the value of the Underlying on a specified barrier determination day is greater than or equal to the specified barrier level [If barrier level is not fixed, insert: in respect of such day], is likely to occur during the remaining life of the Securities, the market value of the Securities will be expected to rise.]

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are quanto securities insert:

In addition, each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is deemed to be in the settlement currency, without reference to any exchange rate between the currency of the Underlying and the settlement currency (so-called "quanto securities"). As a result, the relative interest rate difference between the current interest rate relating to the currency in which each relevant value of the Underlying is deemed to be expressed and the current interest rate relating to the settlement currency of the Securities may influence the price of the Securities.]

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are NOT quanto securities insert:

The currency in which each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is expressed is not the same as the settlement currency of the Securities. Accordingly, an investment in the Securities will involve exchange rate risks.]

[If the Underlying is an index or otherwise calculated by reference to constituents insert:

The value of the Underlying on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Underlying and factors (including those described above) which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents, will affect the value of the Underlying and therefore may affect the return on an investment in the Securities.]

Other factors which may influence the market value of the Securities include interest rates, potential dividend or interest payments in respect of the Underlying, or in the method of calculating the value of the Underlying, from time to time and market expectations regarding the future performance of the Underlying, its composition and the Securities.

If the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is equal to or exceeds a specified maximum amount, an amount which reflects this maximum amount will be payable; if it is less than the specified maximum amount, the cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s). The payment of cash at settlement is subject to deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.]

[If Physical Settlement may apply and the Securities do NOT include a knock-in feature insert:

The payment of cash and the delivery of specified asset(s) at settlement is subject to the payment or deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.]

[If Physical Settlement may apply to the Securities and the Securities include a knock-in feature insert:

Otherwise, a cash amount will be payable, which will reflect the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s), subject to a specified maximum amount. The payment of cash and delivery of specified asset(s) is subject to the payment or deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.]

The Underlying is [please insert: [index] [share] [other security] [fund share] [commodity] [currency amount] [future].

[If Physical Settlement may apply and if the Underlying is an index or commodity insert: Where the Securities are to be settled by delivery of a specified asset or number of assets, the specified asset(s) will be [the Underlying] [certificates relating to the underlying index] [•].

2. Economic nature of the Securities

The Securities represent an investment similar to a direct investment in the Underlying. In contrast to such direct investment, the Securities are sold at an issue price which reflects a discount to the value of the Underlying at or around their issuance, which enables investors to participate in rises in the value or average value of the Underlying up to a specified maximum amount, and to receive a return on their initial investment even if the value or average value of the Underlying falls a certain extent from the initial value of the Underlying (depending on the amount of the discount). For this discount, however, investors forgo the opportunity to participate in increases in the value or average value of the Underlying above such specified maximum amount. A further difference from a direct investment in the Underlying is that investors will forgo the right to receive any dividends, interest or similar amounts paid in respect of the Underlying.

Investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term therefore achieve the maximum return on their initial investment when the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified days is equal to or greater than the specified maximum amount. If the value or average value of the Underlying on such day(s) is less than the specified maximum amount but above the discounted value of the Underlying at or about the time of issuance of the Securities, investors will receive a positive return on their initial investment. However, if the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified day(s) is equal to or below the discounted value of the Underlying at or about the time of issuance of the Securities, investors will receive no positive return or will make a loss. Such loss can extend to their whole initial investment where the value or average value of the Underlying is zero at this time.

The Securities do not provide a guarantee of payment of a set amount or for the right to receive repayment of the issue price. As described above, the value of any cash amount payable [Insert for Physical Settlement: or asset(s) deliverable] to the investor on settlement depends on the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified day(s) [insert if the Securities include a Knock-In Feature: and whether, at any time during a specified period, the value of the Underlying has been equal to or less than the barrier determination level], which, in the worst-case scenario, can result in the total loss of the initial investment. There is no return on the Securities other than the potential cash payment [Insert for Physical Settlement: or delivery of a specified asset or number of assets] at settlement. In particular there are no periodic interest payments or other distributions (e.g. dividends) payable during the term of the Securities. Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if the cash amount or value of any assets received on settlement or after a sale of the Securities in the secondary market during their term exceeds the price originally paid for the Securities. Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of the Underlying and will not have any rights against the issuer of the Underlying, any constituents of the Underlying or the issuer of such constituents.

[If Physical Settlement may apply insert: If the [Underlying] [If Physical Settlement may apply and if the Underlying is an index or commodity insert: certificate relating to the underlying index] [•] is delivered upon settlement of the Securities, investors will be exposed to the benefits and risks associated with the holding of that asset, and benefit from increases, or suffer losses from decreases in the value of such asset.]

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value and volatility of the Underlying. If the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also fall. If the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also rise, subject to the specified maximum amount.

Other factors which may influence the market value of the Securities include interest rates, potential dividend or interest payments in respect of the Underlying, changes in the method of calculating the level of the Underlying from time to time and market expectations regarding the future performance of the Underlying and the Securities.

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are quanto securities insert:

In addition, each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is deemed to be in the settlement currency, without reference to any exchange rate between the currency of the Underlying and the settlement currency

(so-called "quanto securities"). As a result, an investment in the Securities will not involve exchange rate risks. However, the relative interest rate difference between the current interest rate relating to the currency in which each relevant value of the Underlying is deemed to be expressed and the current interest rate relating to the settlement currency of the Securities may influence the price of the Securities.]

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are NOT quanto securities insert:

The currency in which each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is expressed is not the same as the settlement currency of the Securities. Accordingly, an investment in the Securities will involve exchange rate risks.]

[If the Underlying is an index or otherwise calculated by reference to constituents insert:

The value of the Underlying on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Underlying and factors (including those described above) which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents, will affect the value of the Underlying and therefore may affect the return on an investment in the Securities.]

Due to the product structure, the Securities are usually traded at an amount representing a discount to the current value of the Underlying. The discount can vary over the course of time and moves in the direction of zero towards the end of the term of the Securities. If, following the purchase of any Securities, the market value of the Securities falls below the purchase price paid for such Securities, investors should not expect the market value of the Securities to increase to or above the purchase price paid by the investor during the remainder of the term of the Securities.

2. Economic nature of the Securities

The Securities enable holders [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: to receive payments of interest and] to participate, at a rate expressed by the specified participation factor, in any rise in the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation date(s) compared to its value or average value at or around issuance of the Securities. [Insert if the Securities provide for a maximum redemption amount: However, to the extent that such participation would result in a redemption amount being equal to or greater than the specified maximum redemption amount, investors will not receive a corresponding rise in the value or average value of the Underlying.] In the case of a decline of the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation date(s) compared to its value or average value at or around issuance of the Securities, [Insert if Securities provide for a full capital guarantee: investors who have bought the Securities on their issue date will receive a redemption amount equal to [or greater than] the invested capital.] [Insert if Securities provide for a minimum redemption amount greater than the Issue Price: investors who have bought the Securities on their issue date will receive a [return] at least equal to the difference between the minimum redemption amount and the invested capital.] [Insert if Securities do not provide for a full capital guarantee: any redemption amount will be decreased at a rate expressed by the participation factor, provided that investors will not receive less than the specified minimum redemption amount. Therefore, investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold them for the entire term achieve a positive return on their initial investment when the final value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation date(s) is greater than its value or average value at or around issuance of the Securities.]

The Securities provide for a specified minimum redemption amount [Insert if the Securities provide for a maximum redemption amount: and a specified maximum redemption amount]. As described above, the redemption amount payable on maturity depends on the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified final valuation day(s) compared to the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified initial valuation day or days.

[Insert if the Securities are not interest bearing: Prospective investors should note that no periodic interest payments or other distributions will be made during the term of the Securities.] [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: Apart from payments of the periodic interest amounts, prospective investors should note that no other payments or other distributions will be made.] Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: the sum of any interest amounts and] the redemption amount payable on settlement or the sum received after a sale on the secondary market during their term exceeds the price originally paid for the Securities. Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of the Underlying and will not have any rights against the Underlying or the issuer of the Underlying.

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value and the volatility of the Underlying and the level of interest rates for instruments of comparable maturities.

If the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also fall, subject to any minimum redemption amount. If the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also rise, subject to any maximum redemption amount. Other factors which may influence the market value of the Securities include interest rates, potential dividend or interest payments in respect of the Underlying, changes in the method of calculating the level of the Underlying from time to time and market expectations regarding the future performance of the Underlying and the Securities.

Interest rate changes generally have the same impact on the value of the Securities as for fixed rate bonds: Rising interest rates will under normal conditions result in a lower, falling interest rates in a higher value of the Securities.

The value of the Securities during their term will under normal market conditions not fall below the value of a [If there is not a minimum coupon amount insert: zero coupon] bond with comparable maturity [If there is a minimum coupon amount insert: providing for the payment of interest equal to the specified interest amounts].

[If the Underlying is an index or otherwise calculated by reference to constituents insert:

The value of the Underlying on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Underlying and factors (including those described above) which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents, will affect the value of the Underlying and therefore may affect the return on an investment in the Securities.]

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are quanto securities insert:

In addition, each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is deemed to be in the settlement currency, without reference to any exchange rate between the currency of the Underlying and the settlement currency (so-called "quanto securities"). As a result, an investment in the Securities will not involve exchange rate risks. However, the relative interest rate difference between the current interest rate relating to the currency in which each relevant value of the Underlying is deemed to be expressed and the current interest rate relating to the settlement currency of the Securities may influence the price of the Securities. However, investors in the Securities will not be influenced in differences in the exchange rate between the settlement currency and the currency of the Underlying, if different.]

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are NOT quanto securities insert:

The currency in which each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is expressed is not the same as the settlement currency of the Securities. Accordingly, an investment in the Securities will involve exchange rate risks.]

If, following the purchase of any Securities, the market value of the Securities falls below the purchase price paid for such Securities, investors should not expect the market value of the Securities to increase to or above the purchase price paid by the investor during the remainder of the term of the Securities.]

The information contained in this section is intended to provide a general description of the Securities. It is qualified by the more detailed explanation set forth in the sections "Product Conditions" and "General Conditions" of this Prospectus, which constitute the legally binding conditions of the Securities as attached to the global security. Prospective investors should read carefully and understand the Product Conditions and General Conditions before making any decision to invest in the Securities. The Product Conditions specify, among other things:

- How and when the value of the Underlying is determined for the purposes of valuation of the Securities; and
- How the cash amount payable, or (as the case may be) the specified assets to be delivered, on settlement will be determined (including, without limitation, whether a multiplier will be applied).

Defined terms used in this Economic Description are more fully defined in the Product Conditions of this Prospectus.

1. Rights under the Securities

The Securities represent the right to receive payments of [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: interest and] a redemption amount at maturity. [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: Payments of interest will reflect a specified rate of interest in relation to the specified nominal amount of the Securities and will be payable on the specified interest payment date(s).] The redemption amount payable at maturity of the Securities will be the sum of the specified nominal amount and an amount reflecting a participation in the performance of an underlying basket of assets (the "Underlying"). The participation in the performance is calculated as the product of the nominal amount, a specified participation factor and the quotient of the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation date(s), and of the Underlying on the specified initial valuation date(s). However, the redemption amount will in no event be less than the specified minimum redemption amount [Insert, if the Securities provide for a maximum redemption amount: or greater than a specified maximum redemption amount].

The Underlying is a basket consisting of [Please insert: [indices] [shares] [other securities] [fund shares] [commodities] [currency amounts] [futures]]. 3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value and the volatility of the Underlying and the level of interest rates for instruments of comparable maturities.

If the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also fall, subject to any minimum redemption amount. If the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also rise, subject to any maximum redemption amount. Single Underlying linked Reverse Convertible Notes

The information contained in this section is intended to provide a general description of the Securities. It is qualified by the more detailed explanation set forth in the sections "Product Conditions" and "General Conditions" of this Prospectus, which constitute the legally binding conditions of the Securities as attached to the global security. Prospective investors should read carefully and understand the Product Conditions and General Conditions before making any decision to invest in the Securities. The Product Conditions specify, among other things:

- How and when the value of the Underlying is determined for the purposes of valuation of the Securities; and

Defined terms used in this Economic Description are more fully defined in the Product Conditions of this Prospectus.

1. Rights under the Securities

The reverse convertible notes (the "Securities") represent the right to receive [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: payments of interest and].

[Insert if the Securities provide for discretion of the Issuer::

at the discretion of the Issuer, either delivery of specified asset(s) or payment of a cash amount at maturity, provided that the Issuer may only exercise its right to redeem by delivery of specified asset(s) if the value or average value of the underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying")

[Insert if the Securities do not provide for discretion of the Issuer:

at maturity either delivery of specified asset(s) if the value or average value of the underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying") on the specified final valuation date(s) is less than a specified determination level otherwise, the Securities will be settled by payment of a cash amount.]]

If the Securities are settled in cash, the cash amount payable on settlement will be equal to [Insert if the Securities do not provide for a specified minimum redemption amount: the specified nominal amount.]

[Insert if the Securities do provide for a specified minimum redemption amount: the specified nominal amount, if the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day or days is greater than the value, or a percentage, as the case may be, of the Underlying on an initial valuation day, and otherwise the specified minimum redemption amount.]

Any amounts payable in respect of the Securities are subject to the deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.

The Underlying is [Please insert: [index] [share] [other security] [fund share] [commodity], [currency amount] [future].

[If Physical Settlement may apply and if the Underlying is an index or commodity insert: Where the Securities are to be settled by delivery of a specified asset or assets, the specified asset will be [the Underlying]/[certificates relating to the underlying index] [•].

2. Economic nature of the Securities

The Securities represent an investment similar to a direct investment in the Underlying. In contrast to such direct investment, the Securities [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: provide for the payment of interest, with a rate which is higher than market rates at or around their issuance] [and] [Insert if the Securities are non-interest bearing: are sold at an issue price which reflects a discount to the value of the Underlying at or around issuance], which enables investors to achieve a positive return on their investment even if the value or average value of the Underlying, compared to its initial value, remains unchanged or falls to a certain extent.] For this, however, investors forgo the opportunity to participate in increases in the value or average value of the Underlying above [Insert if the Securities do not provide for discretion of the Issuer: the specified determination level.] [Insert if the Securities provide for discretion of the Issuer: the level below which delivery of the specified asset(s) will be cheaper for the Issuer than payment of the nominal amount.]

Investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term therefore achieve the maximum return on their initial investment when the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation date(s) is equal to or greater than [Insert if the Securities do not provide for discretion of the Issuer: the specified determination level] [Insert if the Securities provide for discretion of the Issuer: the level below which delivery of the specified asset(s) will be cheaper for the Issuer than payment of the nominal amount], or if [Insert if the Securities do not provide for a Minimum Redemption Amount but provide for an up-and-out feature: the value of the Underlying on the specified time or times during the specified determination period, has not been equal to or greater than a specified barrier amount] [Insert if the Securities do not provide for a Minimum Redemption Amount but provide for a down-and-in feature: the value of the Underlying on the specified time or times during the specified determination period, has been equal to or less than a specified barrier amount].

[Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: Otherwise, investors will still receive a positive return on their initial investment if the difference between the issue price of the Securities and the value of the asset(s) delivered at maturity is offset by interest payments received under the Securities. Where the value of the asset(s) delivered at maturity and the interest payments are equal to or less than the issue price, investors will receive no positive return or will make a loss, respectively. [Insert if the Securities do not provide for a minimum redemption amount : Such loss can extend to investors' whole initial investment where the value or average value of the underlying asset is zero at this time.]]

The Securities do not provide [Insert if the Securities do not provide for a Minimum Redemption Amount: a guarantee of payment of a set amount or] for the right to receive repayment of the issue price. As described above, the value of any cash amount payable or asset deliverable to the investor on settlement depends on the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified final valuation day(s) [Insert if the Securities do not provide for a Minimum Redemption Amount but provide for an up-and-out feature:, and whether the value of the Underlying on the specified time or times during the specified determination period, has not been equal to or greater than a specified barrier amount] [Insert if the Securities do not provide for a Minimum Redemption Amount but provide for a down-and-in feature:, and whether the value of the Underlying on the specified time or times during the specified determination period, has been equal to or less than a specified barrier amount].

Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of the Underlying and will not have any rights against the Underlying or the issuer of the Underlying.

[If Physical Settlement may apply insert: If the [Underlying][If Physical Settlement may apply and if the Underlying is an index or commodity insert: certificate relating to the Underlying] is delivered upon settlement of the Securities, investors will be exposed to the benefits and risks associated with the holding of that asset, and benefit from increases, or suffer losses from decreases in the value of such asset.]

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value and the volatility of the Underlying and the level of interest rates for instruments of comparable maturities.

If the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall during the remaining life of the securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also fall, subject to any minimum redemption amount. If the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also rise subject to the specified nominal amount. Other factors which may influence the market value of the Securities include interest rates, potential dividend or interest payments in respect of the Underlying, changes in the method of calculating the level of the Underlying from time to time and market expectations regarding the future performance of the Underlying and the Securities.]

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are quanto securities insert:

In addition, each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is deemed to be in the settlement currency, without reference to any exchange rate between the currency of the Underlying and the settlement currency (so-called "quanto securities"). As a result, an investment in the Securities will not involve exchange rate risks. However, the relative interest rate difference between the current interest rate relating to the currency in which each relevant value of the Underlying is deemed to be expressed and the current interest rate relating to the settlement currency of the Securities may influence the price of the Securities.

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are NOT quanto securities insert:

The currency in which each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is expressed is not the same as the settlement currency of the Securities. Accordingly, an investment in the Securities will involve exchange rate risks.]

[If the Underlying is an index or otherwise calculated by reference to constituents insert:

The value of the Underlying on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Underlying and factors (including those described above) which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents, will affect the value of the Underlying and therefore may affect the return on an investment in the Securities.]

If, following the purchase of any Securities, the market value of the Securities falls below the purchase price paid for such Securities, investors should not expect the market value of the Securities to increase to or above the purchase price paid by the investor during the remainder of the term of the Securities.

Single Underlying linked Callable Notes

The information contained in this section is intended to provide a general description of the Securities. It is qualified by the more detailed explanation set forth in the sections "Product Conditions" and "General Conditions" of this Prospectus, which constitute the legally binding conditions of the Securities as attached to the global security. Prospective investors should read carefully and understand the Product Conditions and General Conditions before making any decision to invest in the Securities. The Product Conditions specify, among other things:

- How and when the value of the Underlying is determined for the purposes of valuation of the Securities; and
- How the cash amount payable, or (as the case may be) the specified assets to be delivered, on settlement will be determined (including, without limitation, whether a multiplier will be applied).

Defined terms used in this Economic Description are more fully defined in the Product Conditions of this Prospectus.

1. Rights under the Securities

The Securities represent the right to receive payments of [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: interest and] a redemption amount at maturity. [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: Payments of interest will reflect a specified rate of interest in relation to the specified nominal amount of the Securities and will be payable on the specified interest payment date(s).]

If the Issuer exercises its option to redeem all the Securities prior to the maturity date, [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: [no interest shall be payable thereafter; however] a specified fixed amount will be payable on such redemption.

Otherwise, the redemption amount payable at maturity of the Securities will be the sum of the specified nominal amount and an amount reflecting a participation in the performance of the underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying"). The participation in the performance is calculated as the product of the nominal amount, a specified participation factor and the quotient of the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation date(s), and of the Underlying on the specified initial valuation date(s). However, the redemption amount will in no event be less than the specified minimum redemption amount [Insert, if the Securities provide for a maximum redemption amount: or greater than a specified maximum redemption amount].

Any amounts payable in respect of the Securities are subject to the deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.

The Underlying is [Please insert: [index] [share] [other security] [fund share] [commodity] [currency amount] [future]].

2. Economic nature of the Securities

The Securities provide for two different payout scenarios, depending on whether the Issuer exercises its option to redeem the Securities prior to their maturity date. The Issuer will typically exercise its redemption right if it believes, on the date that the redemption right can be exercised, that the amount to be paid on early redemption is less than it would be at maturity.

If the Issuer decides to redeem the Securities early, investors will receive a fixed amount specified for the relevant redemption date. [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: However, no interest will be payable thereafter].

If the Issuer decides not to exercise its redemption right, investors will [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: receive payments of interest and] participate, at a rate expressed by the specified participation factor, in any rise in the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation date(s) compared to its value or average value at or around issuance of the Securities. [Insert if the Securities provide for a maximum redemption amount: However, to the extent that such participation would result in a redemption amount being equal to or greater than the specified maximum redemption amount, investors will not receive a corresponding rise in the value or average value of the Underlying.] In the case of a decline of the value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation date(s) compared to its value or average value at or around issuance of the Securities, [Insert if Securities provide for a full capital guarantee: investors who have bought the Securities on their issue date will receive a redemption amount equal to [or greater than] the invested capital.] [Insert if Securities provide for a minimum redemption amount greater than the Issue Price: investors who have bought the Securities on their issue date will receive a [return] at least equal to the difference between the minimum redemption amount and their invested capital.] [Insert if Securities do not provide for a full capital guarantee: any redemption amount will be decreased at a rate expressed by the participation factor, provided that investors will not receive less than the specified minimum redemption amount. Therefore, investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold them for the entire term achieve a positive return on the initial investment when the final value or average value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation date(s) is greater than its value or average value at or around issuance of the Securities.]

If the Issuer decides to redeem the Securities early, investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold them for the entire term always achieve a positive return on their initial investment. They will however not participate in rises in the Underlying to a value at the specified final valuation date(s) which would result in a payment at maturity greater than the predefined early redemption amount.

The Securities provide for a specified minimum redemption amount [Insert if the Securities provide for a maximum redemption amount: and a specified maximum redemption amount]. As described above, the redemption amount payable on maturity depends on the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified final valuation day(s) compared to the value or average value of the Underlying on one or more specified initial valuation day or days.

[Insert if the Securities are not interest bearing: Prospective investors should note that no periodic interest payments or other distributions will be made during the term of the Securities.] [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: Apart from payments of the periodic interest amounts, prospective investors should note that no other payments or other distributions will be made.] Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if [Insert if the Securities are interest bearing: the sum of any interest amounts and] the redemption amount payable on settlement or the sum received after a sale on the secondary market during their term exceeds the price originally paid for the Securities. Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of the Underlying and will not have any rights against the Underlying or the issuer of the Underlying.

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value and the volatility of the Underlying and the level of interest rates for instruments of comparable maturities.

If the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also fall, subject to any minimum redemption amount. If the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also rise, subject to any maximum redemption amount. Other factors which may influence the market value of the Securities include interest rates, potential dividend or interest payments in respect of the Underlying, changes in the method of calculating the level of the Underlying from time to time and market expectations regarding the future performance of the Underlying and the Securities.

In addition, the market value of the Securities will be affected by the right of the Issuer to redeem the Securities prior to their maturity date and the payment amount specified for such early redemption dates. As a consequence, if the market value of the Securities would, but for the redemption right, be greater than the early payment amount specified for the next early redemption date, the market value of the Securities will get closer to the specified early payment amount the nearer it is to the next exercise date for early redemption.

Interest rate changes generally have the same impact on the value of the Securities as for fixed rate bonds: Rising interest rates will under normal conditions result in a lower, falling interest rates in a higher value of the Securities.

The value of the Securities during their term will under normal market conditions not fall below the value of a [If there is not a minimum coupon amount insert: zero coupon] bond with comparable maturity [If there is a minimum coupon amount insert: providing for the payment of interest equal to the specified interest amounts].

[If the Underlying is an index or otherwise calculated by reference to constituents insert:

The value of the Underlying on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Underlying and factors (including those described above) which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents, will affect the value of the Underlying and therefore may affect the return on an investment in the Securities.]

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are quanto securities insert:

Basket Linked Conditional Coupon Notes

The information contained in this section is intended to provide a general description of the Securities. It is qualified by the more detailed explanation set forth in the sections "Product Conditions" and "General Conditions" of this Prospectus, which constitute the legally binding conditions of the Securities as attached to the global security. Prospective investors should read carefully and understand the Product Conditions and General Conditions before making any decision to invest in the Securities. The Product Conditions specify, among other things:

- How and when the value of the Underlying is determined for the purposes of valuation of the Securities; and
- How the cash amount payable, or (as the case may be) the specified assets to be delivered, on settlement will be determined (including, without limitation, whether a multiplier will be applied).

Defined terms used in this Economic Description are more fully defined in the Product Conditions of this Prospectus.

1. Rights under the Securities

The Securities represent the right to receive payment of a redemption amount at maturity and, on each specified coupon payment date, a variable amount of interest [if the Securities do not provide for a best of feature insert:, which may be zero]. The redemption amount payable at maturity of the Securities will be [insert if the Securities do not provide for full capital protection: a proportion of] the specified nominal amount. The amount of interest payable on a coupon payment date [If Coupon Amount is fixed for some Observation Periods insert: is fixed for a part of the life of the Securities. After this period, interest] will be determined by reference to the relative change in the value of any constituent of an underlying basket consisting of assets or other bases of reference (the "Underlying") to which the Securities are linked. The relative change in value of a basket constituent is [If Coupon Reference Level is to be reset, insert calculated in respect of successive observation periods, each commencing on and including one specified reset date (or in the case of the first observation period, the specified initial valuation date falling on or about the date of issuance of the Securities) and ending on but excluding the next following specified reset date] [If Coupon Reference Level is not to be reset, insert:, based on the initial value of each basket constituent].

[If Coupon Reference Level is to be reset, insert: On each specified reset date, the value of each basket constituent is determined and multiplied by a specified percentage to give a coupon reference level for that basket constituent and the observation period which begins on such reset date.] [If Coupon Reference Level is not to be reset, insert: At or about the date of issuance of the Securities, the value of each Basket Constituent is determined, and multiplied by a specified percentage to give a coupon reference level for that basket constituent.] The amount of interest payable [If Coupon Reference Level is to be reset, insert: in respect of the next observation period] will depend on whether the value of [each basket constituent] [a specified number of baskets constituents] on each trading day [If Coupon Reference Level is to be reset, insert: in such observation period] has been equal to or greater than the coupon reference level for such basket constituent [If Coupon Amount is fixed for some Observation Periods insert:], unless a fixed amount is specified for such observation period]. [If the Securities provide for a best of feature insert: If the basket constituents have not performed as described, the amount of interest payable will reflect a certain minimum level.]

[If basket constituents can be eliminated, insert: In addition, in respect of each reset date and each basket constituent, a performance factor will be determined which reflects the value of the basket constituent on such day and the value of the basket constituent on the immediately preceding specified reset day. The basket constituent which has the lowest performance factor will be removed from the basket with effect from the relevant reset date and will not be taken into account for the purposes of determining the interest amount payable in respect of the observation period commencing on the relevant reset date, or any subsequent observation period.]

Any amounts payable in respect of the Securities are subject to the deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.

The Underlying is a basket consisting of [Please insert: [indices] [shares] [other securities] [fund shares] [commodities] [currency amounts] [futures]].

2. Economic nature of the Securities

The Securities represent a [insert if the Securities do not provide for full capital protection: partly] principal-protected investment that provides holders with interest payments which are [If Coupon Amount is fixed for some Observation Periods insert: partly fixed and partly] depend on the number of constituents of the underlying basket that [If Coupon Reference Level is to be reset, insert: during the observation periods prior to the specified coupon payments dates,] have at no time, on any trading day, fallen below a certain percentage of their initial level [If the Securities provide for a best of feature insert: while still guaranteeing a certain minimum coupon level].

Investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term therefore achieve the maximum return on their initial investment when at least the specified number of basket constituents has, on each trading day [If Coupon Reference Level is to be reset, insert: in an observation period], a value higher than the corresponding coupon reference level in respect of such basket constituent [If Coupon Reference Level is to be reset, insert: and such observation period]. As a result, the probability that interest payments will be made, and the amount of such payments, depends mainly on the correlation in the performance of the basket constituents, and their implied volatility. The lower the correlation between the basket constituents, and the lower their volatility, the more likely are payments of interest.

Apart from payments of variable interest amounts on the specified coupon payment dates, prospective investors should note that no other payments or other distributions will be made. Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if the sum of any interest amounts received by such investors and the redemption amount payable on settlement or the sum received after a sale on the secondary market during their term exceeds the price originally paid for the Securities. Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of any basket constituent and will not have any rights against any basket constituent or the issuer of any basket constituent.

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value and volatility of each constituent of the underlying basket [If Coupon Reference Level is to be reset, insert: during the specified observation periods] and the level of interest rates for instruments of comparable maturities.

The interest amount payable on each coupon payment date reflects the number of basket constituents which have [If Coupon Reference Level is to be reset, insert:, during the preceding observation period,] at no time on any trading day, fallen below a certain percentage of their initial level. Accordingly, the market value of the Securities will, all other factors being equal, fall if the volatility among the constituents of the underlying basket increases, and rise if their volatility decreases.

The risk of a substantial decrease in the value of the Securities during their term is higher the larger the movements of constituents of the underlying basket (positive or negative) [If Coupon Reference Level is to be reset, insert: within an observation period].

Other factors which may influence the market value of the Securities include interest rates, including, where the currency in which constituents of the underlying basket are expressed is different to the settlement currency of the Securities, the relative interest rate difference between such currencies, potential dividend or interest payments in respect of any basket constituent, and market expectations regarding the future performance of each basket constituent and the Securities.

Interest rate changes generally have the same impact on the value of the Securities as for fixed rate bonds: Rising interest rates will under normal conditions result in a lower value, falling interest rates in a higher value of the Securities.

The value of the Securities during their term will under normal market conditions not fall below the value of a [If the Securities do not provide for a best of feature insert: zero coupon] bond with comparable maturity and redemption amount.

Basket linked Swing Notes

The information contained in this section is intended to provide a general description of the Securities. It is qualified by the more detailed explanation set forth in the sections "Product Conditions" and "General Conditions" of this Prospectus, which constitute the legally binding conditions of the Securities as attached to the global security. Prospective investors should read carefully and understand the Product Conditions and General Conditions before making any decision to invest in the Securities. The Product Conditions specify, among other things:

- How and when the value of the Underlying is determined for the purposes of valuation of the Securities; and
- How the cash amount payable, or (as the case may be) the specified assets to be delivered, on settlement will be determined (including, without limitation, whether a multiplier will be applied).

Defined terms used in this Economic Description are more fully defined in the Product Conditions of this Prospectus.

1. Rights under the Securities

The Securities represent the right to receive payment of a redemption amount at maturity and, on each specified coupon payment date, a variable amount of interest [If there is a minimum coupon amount insert:, subject to a specified minimum coupon amount specified in the Product Conditions] [If there is not a minimum coupon amount insert:, which may be zero]. The redemption amount payable at maturity of the Securities will be [Insert if the Securities do not provide for full capital protection: a proportion of] the specified nominal amount. The amount of interest payable on a coupon payment date will be determined by reference to the relative change in the value of any constituent of an underlying basket consisting of assets or other bases of reference (the "Underlying") to which the Securities is linked on specified observation dates. On each observation date, the proportion (the performance factor) by which the value of each Basket Constituent on that observation date is different from the value of that Basket Constituent on the immediately preceding observation date is determined. The amount of interest payable on the coupon payment date immediately following that observation date will reflect the product of (a) the lowest performance factor of any Basket Constituent on that observation date and (b) a specified participation factor. [If there is a minimum coupon amount insert: , subject to the specified minimum coupon amount.]

Any amounts payable in respect of the Securities are subject to the deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.

The Underlying is a basket consisting of [Please insert: [indices] [shares] [other securities] [fund shares] [commodities] [currency amounts] [futures]].

2. Economic nature of the Securities

The Securities represent a [Insert if the Securities do not provide for full capital protection: partly] principal-protected investment that enables holders, by way of interest payments, to profit from rises and falls in the values of the constituents of the underlying basket on the specified observation dates [If there is a minimum coupon amount insert: , whilst still guaranteeing a minimum level of interest payment on each coupon payment date].

The return of investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term on their initial investment therefore is the higher the larger the movements of all of the constituents of the underlying basket (positive or negative) from one observation date to the next, since this will increase the interest amount payable on coupon payment dates. As a result, the probability that interest payments will be made, and the amount of such payments, mainly depends on the correlation in the performance of the basket constituents, and their implied volatility. The higher the correlation between the basket constituents, and the higher their volatility, the more likely are payments of interest, and the higher such payments should be. Investors should note specifically that a small movement, or the lack of any movement, of just one of the basket constituents from one observation date to the next will result in a reduced [If there is not a minimum coupon amount insert: , or the absence of an,] interest payment.

The Securities provide for a fixed redemption amount equal to [Insert if the Securities do not provide for full capital protection: a proportion of] the specified nominal amount. As described above, the interest amount payable on each coupon payment date will reflect the change in value between the corresponding observation date and the immediately preceding observation date (or specified initial valuation date) of the constituents of the underlying basket which has experienced the smallest relative change in value between such dates. The relative change in value of the other basket constituents will be disregarded when determining the interest amount payable on such coupon payment date.

Apart from payments of variable interest amounts on the specified coupon payment dates, prospective investors should note that no other payments or other distributions will be made. Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if the sum of any interest amounts received by such investors and the redemption amount payable on settlement or the sum received after a sale on the secondary market during their term exceeds the price originally paid for the Securities. Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of any Basket Constituent and will not have any rights against any Basket Constituent or the issuer of any Basket Constituent.

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the relative changes in value of each constituent of the underlying basket between one observation date or the specified initial valuation date and the next observation date, which in turn is influenced by the degree of correlation between the basket constituents, the volatility of the basket constituents, and the level of interest rates for instruments of comparable maturities.

The interest amount payable on each coupon payment date reflects the volatility of the least volatile constituent of the underlying basket as at the corresponding observation date. Accordingly, the market value of the Securities will, all other factors being equal, rise if the correlation between the constituents of the underlying basket, or their volatility, increases, and fall if their correlation or volatility decreases.

The risk of a substantial decrease in the value of the Securities during their term is the higher the lower the movements of constituents of the underlying basket (positive or negative) from one observation date to the next (movements of the basket constituents before the immediately preceding observation date, on the other hand, do not impact the value of the Securities).

Other factors which may influence the market value of the Securities include interest rates, including, where the currency in which constituents of the underlying basket are expressed is different to the settlement currency of the Securities, the relative interest rate difference between such currencies, potential dividend or interest payments in respect of any basket constituent, and market expectations regarding the future performance of each basket constituent and the Securities.

Interest rate changes generally have the same impact on the value of the Securities as for fixed rate bonds: Rising interest rates will under normal conditions result in a lower, falling interest rates in a higher value of the Securities.

The value of the Securities during their term will under normal market conditions not fall below the value of a [If there is not a minimum coupon amount insert: zero coupon] bond with comparable maturity [If there is a minimum coupon amount insert: providing for the payment of interest equal to the specified coupon amounts].

[If the Underlying is an index or otherwise calculated by reference to constituents insert:

The value of the Underlying on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Underlying and factors (including those described above) which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents, will affect the value of the Underlying and therefore may affect the return on an investment in the Securities. Fluctuations in the value of any one constituent may be offset or intensified by fluctuations in the value of other constituents.]

Single Underlying linked Bonus Certificates

The information contained in this section is intended to provide a general description of the Securities. It is qualified by the more detailed explanation set forth in the sections "Product Conditions" and "General Conditions" of this Prospectus, which constitute the legally binding conditions of the Securities as attached to the global security. Prospective investors should read carefully and understand the Product Conditions and General Conditions before making any decision to invest in the Securities. The Product Conditions specify, among other things:

- Whether the Securities will be exercised automatically or not;
- If the Securities are not exercised automatically, the procedure and deadlines for exercising the Securities, and the consequences if the investor does not exercise the Securities in time;
- How and when the value of the Underlying is determined for the purposes of valuation of the Securities; and
- How the cash amount payable, or (as the case may be) the specified assets to be delivered, at settlement will be determined (including, without limitation, whether a multiplier will be applied).

Defined terms used in this Economic Description are more fully defined in the Product Conditions of this Prospectus.

1. Rights under the Securities

The bonus certificates (the "Securities") represent the right to receive payment of a cash amount at settlement. The cash amount payable at settlement will reflect the product of the value of an underlying asset or other basis of reference (the "Underlying") on a specified final valuation day and a specified multiplier. [If the Securities provide for a geared upside insert: If the value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day exceeds a specified protection reference level, then the cash amount will be increased to reflect a participation in the extent to which the value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day exceeds the specified protection level.] However, if the value of the Underlying has at certain time(s) been equal to or less than a specified barrier level, then the cash amount payable at settlement will reflect a specified minimum amount. [If the Securities provide for a maximum cash settlement amount insert: If the cash amount so determined is equal to or exceeds a specified maximum amount, the cash amount payable at settlement will be equal to that specified maximum amount.]

In each case, the cash amount is subject to deduction of certain taxes, duties and/or expenses.

The Underlying is [please insert: index, share, other security, fund share, commodity, currency amount or future].

2. Economic nature of the Securities

The Bonus Certificates represent an investment similar to a direct investment in the Underlying. In contrast to such direct investment, the Securities will provide for a bonus at settlement, if the value of the Underlying has not on the specified time(s) during a specified period been equal to or less than a specified barrier level. The bonus, which might become payable, is reflected as a specified minimum amount, which is set above the value of the Underlying at or around issuance. The specified barrier level is set below the value of the underlying at or around issuance of the Securities. If the value of the Underlying has on the specified time(s) during a specified period been equal to or less than a specified barrier level, the cash amount payable at settlement will correspond to a direct investment in the Underlying.

[If the Securities provide for a geared upside insert: In addition to the bonus feature, the Securities provide for a disproportionate participation in any increase of the Underlying, if the value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day exceeds a specified protection reference level, which is set above the specified barrier level. The cash amount payable at settlement will be increased to reflect a participation in the extent to which the value of the Underlying on such specified final valuation day exceeds the specified protection reference level, provided that such increased amount is greater than the specified minimum amount, if applicable]. [If the Securities provide for a maximum cash settlement amount insert: If the cash amount so determined is equal to or exceeds a specified maximum amount, the cash amount payable at settlement will be equal to that specified maximum amount.]

For this benefit, however investors forgo the opportunity to participate in any distributions paid by or in respect of the Underlying (e.g. dividends), which the investor might have received, if he were a direct investor in the Underlying.

Investors that buy the Securities at their issue date and hold the Securities for the entire term achieve a return on their initial investment if the value of the Underlying has not on the specified time(s) during the specified period been equal to or less than the specified barrier level, and otherwise, when the value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day exceeds the value of the Underlying at or around issuance [If the Securities provide for a maximum cash settlement amount insert:, subject to a maximum amount].

Investors will receive no return on their investment, and may suffer a loss, if the value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day is less than the value of the Underlying at or about the issuance of the Securities, and if the value of the Underlying has on the specified time(s) during the specified period been equal to or less than the specified barrier level. If the value of the Underlying on the specified final valuation day is zero, and if the minimum cash amount does not apply, the cash amount would be zero and an investor would lose all of his investment in the Securities.

The Securities do not provide a guarantee of payment of a set amount or for the right to receive repayment of the issue price. As described above, the value of any cash amount payable to the investor at settlement depends on the value of the Underlying on a specified final valuation day and (for a minimum cash amount to be payable at settlement) whether, at any time during the specified barrier determination period, the value of the Underlying has been equal to or less than the barrier level, which, in the worst-case scenario, can result in the total loss of the initial investment. There is no return on the Securities other than the potential cash payment at settlement. In particular there are no periodic interest payments or other distributions (e.g. dividends) payable during the term of the Securities. Accordingly, investors may only receive a positive return on their initial investment if the cash amount received on settlement or after a sale of the Securities in the secondary market during their term exceeds the price originally paid for the Securities. Investors will not receive any amounts paid by way of interest or other distributions (e.g. dividends) from time to time paid by or in respect of the Underlying and will not have any rights against such constituents or the issuer of such constituents.

3. Market Value of the Securities during their term

The market value of the Securities during their term depends primarily on the value of the Underlying and, [If the Securities do not provide for a geared upside, insert: unless the value of the Underlying has on the specified time(s) during the specified period been equal to or less than the specified barrier level,] the volatility of the Underlying. If the value of the Underlying falls and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to fall during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also fall. If the value of the Underlying rises and/or there is a market perception that the value of the Underlying is likely to rise during the remaining life of the Securities, all other factors being equal, the market value of the Securities will under normal conditions also rise [If the Securities provide for a maximum cash settlement amount insert: , provided that the market value of the Securities will not exceed the specified maximum cash amount payable at settlement]. Such fall or rise will under normal conditions not fully correspond to the fall or rise in the value of the Underlying, unless the value of the Underlying has on the specified time(s) during the specified period been equal to or less than the specified barrier level.

Other factors which may influence the market value of the Securities include interest rates, potential dividend or interest payments in respect of the Underlying or in the method of calculating the level of the Underlying, from time to time and market expectations regarding the future performance of the Underlying, its composition and the Securities.

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are quanto securities insert:

In addition, each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is deemed to be in the settlement currency, without reference to any exchange rate between the currency of the Underlying and the settlement currency (so-called "quanto securities"). As a result, the relative interest rate difference between the current interest rate relating to the currency in which each relevant value of the Underlying is deemed to be expressed and the current interest rate relating to the settlement currency of the Securities may influence the price of the Securities. However, investors in the Securities will not be influenced in differences in the exchange rate between the settlement currency and the currency of the Underlying, if different.]

[If the Settlement Currency is not the same as the Reference Currency and the Securities are NOT quanto securities insert:

The currency in which each value of the Underlying relevant for the determination of the cash amount is expressed is not the same as the settlement currency of the Securities. Accordingly, an investment in the Securities will involve exchange rate risks.]

[If the Underlying is an index or otherwise calculated by reference to constituents insert:

The value of the Underlying on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Underlying and factors (including those described above) which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents, will affect the value of the Underlying and therefore may affect the return on an investment in the Securities.]

If, following the purchase of any Securities, the market value of the Securities falls below the purchase price paid for such Securities, investors should not expect the market value of the Securities to increase to or above the purchase price paid by the investor during the remainder of the term of the Securities.

GENERAL INFORMATION

General Taxation Information

1. General

Purchasers and/or sellers of Securities may be required to pay stamp taxes and other charges in accordance with the laws and practices of the country of transfer in addition to the issue price or purchase price (if different) of the Securities.

Transactions involving the Securities (including purchases, transfers, exercise or non-exercise or redemption), the accrual or receipt of any interest payable on the Securities and the death of a holder of any Securities may have tax consequences for holders and potential purchasers which may depend, amongst other things, upon the tax status of the holder or potential purchaser and may relate to – amongst other taxes and duties - stamp duty, stamp duty reserve tax, income tax, corporation tax, trade tax, capital gains tax, withholding tax, solidarity surcharge and inheritance tax.

For more specific information on the tax consequences please see the appropriate Country Specific Information.

General Condition 6 (Taxation) in the General Conditions should also be considered carefully by all potential purchasers of any Securities.

Potential purchasers of Securities are advised to consult their own tax advisors as to the tax consequences of transactions involving the Securities.

2. Luxembourg Taxation

Under Luxembourg tax law, there is currently no withholding tax on payments of principal, premium or interest, nor on accrued but unpaid interest, in respect of the Notes, nor is any Luxembourg withholding tax payable upon redemption or repurchase of the Notes. As from 1 July 2005 Luxembourg will levy withholding tax on interest payments made by a Luxembourg paying agent to individual beneficial owners who are tax resident of (i) another EU Member State, pursuant to the Council Directive 2003/48/EC of 3 June 2003 on taxation of savings income in the form of interest payments, or (ii) of certain non-EU countries and territories which have agreed to adopt similar measures than those provided for under the Council Directive 2003/48/EC (see section on EU Savings Directive below). Responsibility for the withholding of such tax will be assumed by the Luxembourg paying agent and not by the Issuer.

3. Stamp Duty and Withholding Tax in Germany

The following paragraphs, which are intended as a general guide on stamp duty and withholding tax only, are based on current legislation and German tax authority practice. They summarise certain aspects of German taxation only which may be applicable to the Securities but do not purport to be a comprehensive description of all tax considerations which may be relevant to a decision to purchase, hold, transfer or redeem the Securities. In particular, this general summary does not consider any specific facts or circumstances that may apply to a particular purchaser. Potential purchasers of the Securities who are in any doubt about their tax position on purchase, ownership, transfer or exercise or non-exercise or redemption, as the case may be, of any Security should consult their own tax advisers.

The purchase or sale of a Security is not subject to stamp, value added or similar taxes or charges in Germany, regardless of the place of issuance, execution and delivery of the Security.

Payments in respect of interest (if any) made in respect of a Security to its holder if made by an Agent having its specified office in Germany or any other financial institution in Germany or if made by the Issuer from Germany may be subject to withholding tax. For a more detailed description of the German withholding tax position the appropriate Country Specific Information should be considered carefully.

4. Stamp Duty and Withholding Tax in the United Kingdom

The following paragraphs, which are intended as a general guide on stamp duty and withholding tax only, are based on current legislation and United Kingdom Inland Revenue practice. They summarise certain aspects of United Kingdom taxation only which may be applicable to the Securities but do not purport to be a comprehensive description of all tax considerations which may be relevant to a decision to purchase, hold, transfer or redeem the Securities. In particular, this general summary does not consider any specific facts or circumstances that may apply to a particular purchaser. Potential purchasers of the Securities who are in any doubt about their tax position on purchase, ownership, transfer or exercise or non-exercise or redemption, as the case may be, of any Security should consult their own tax advisers.

A purchaser of a Security may be required to pay stamp taxes and other charges in accordance with the laws and practices of the country of purchase in addition to the purchase price of such Security.

Potential purchasers of the Securities should note that the Global Security may constitute an instrument which is subject to United Kingdom stamp duty on issue by reference to the amount of the consideration paid or the value of the Security. However, the Global Security will be executed and delivered outside the United Kingdom and should not be brought into the United Kingdom save for the purposes of enforcement. So long as the Global Security is held outside the United Kingdom, it will not be necessary to pay United Kingdom stamp duty or interest or penalties in connection therewith. However, if the Global Security were brought into the United Kingdom (for example, for enforcement purposes), United Kingdom stamp duty may be required to be paid on the Global Security (subject to the availability of exemptions and reliefs). In addition, where the Global Security is executed outside the United Kingdom is subsequently brought into the United Kingdom and stamped, interest on the amount of the unpaid stamp duty will be payable in addition to the stamp duty in respect of the period from the expiry of 30 days from the date of execution of the Global Security to the date of stamping, unless the Global Security is stamped within 30 days of execution, in which case no interest is payable. No penalties are payable where the Global Security is executed outside the United Kingdom and subsequently brought into the United Kingdom and stamped, provided the Global Security is stamped within 30 days of being brought into the United Kingdom. If the Global Security is subject to United Kingdom stamp duty, it would be inadmissible in evidence in civil (as opposed to criminal) proceedings in an English court unless duly stamped.

The comments above relate to United Kingdom stamp duty on issue only.

Any interest payable on the Securities, any original issue discount in respect of the Securities and/or any proceeds on redemption or exercise of the Securities will not be subject to United Kingdom withholding tax.

These General Conditions relate to the Securities and must be read in conjunction with, and are subject to, the Product Conditions set out in Section I of this document. The Product Conditions and the General Conditions together constitute the Conditions of the Securities and will be attached to the Global Security representing the Securities.

2. United States of America

The Securities have not been, and will not be, registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), and trading in the Securities has not been approved by the United States Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the “CFTC”) under the United States Commodity Exchange Act (the “Commodity Exchange Act”). VA = Valuation Amount on the Valuation Date

PVA = Valuation Amount on the immediately preceding Valuation Date

The Valuation Amount will be rounded to the nearest two decimal places in the Settlement Currency, 0.005 being rounded downwards. Terms with initial capital letters which are not defined in these Product Conditions shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the General Conditions.

2. Form

Insert Product Condition 2

3. Exercise Rights and Exercise Procedure

3.1. Exercise

Subject to the provisions of Product Condition 3.2 and subject to the Securities not having expired worthless in accordance with Product Condition 5, the Securities are only exercisable with respect to a Valuation Date on the Exercise Date relating to that Valuation Date, subject to the Redemption Right.

If an Exercise Notice has not been delivered with respect to a Security in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.5 at or prior to [10.00 a.m. (Central European Time)] [●] on the final Exercise Date then the Securities will be void and expire worthless.

The Issuer has the irrevocable right (the "Redemption Right"), upon delivery of the Redemption Notice (as defined below) by the Issuer, to redeem the Securities in whole, but not in part, on the Redemption Settlement Date provided that the Issuer can exercise such Redemption Right if the number of the outstanding Securities, excluding the ones held by the Issuer on any day is below 25,000.

"Redemption Notice" means the irrevocable notice given by the Issuer to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4.1 that the Issuer will exercise its Redemption Right, which notice shall specify the Valuation Date, in relation to which the Redemption Cash Settlement Amount will be paid.

Subject to Product Condition 3.8, the exercise by the Issuer of the Redemption Right shall not preclude Securityholders from exercising Securities on any Exercise Date up to and including the Final Exercise Date or from selling or transferring Securities which sale or transfer, as the case may be, is effective on any day up to but excluding the Valuation Date specified in the Redemption Notice.

Where the Issuer has exercised the Redemption Right, it shall give notice to the Securityholders not more than 30 days and not less than 10 days before the Valuation Date specified in the Redemption Notice reminding Securityholders of such exercise of the Redemption Right and the requirement to deliver a Settlement Notice as provided herein.

SINGLE UNDERLYING LINKED CERTIFICATES (Type 4)

If the Issuer exercises its Redemption Right, each Security, upon due delivery of a duly completed Settlement Notice by the Securityholder (which notice shall include certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership) to the Principal Agent with a copy to the Clearing Agent in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.5 at or prior to 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Valuation Date specified in the Redemption Notice, entitles its holder to receive from the Issuer on the Redemption Settlement Date the Redemption Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses.

If a duly completed Settlement Notice is not delivered and copied in accordance with Product Condition 3.4 by 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Valuation Date specified in the Redemption Notice, then the Redemption Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses will, subject as provided below, be paid as soon as practicable after the original Redemption Settlement Date (and such date of payment shall be deemed to be, for such Securities, the Redemption Settlement Date). If a Settlement Notice has not been delivered and copied with respect to a Security in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 at or prior to 10.00 a.m. (Central European Time) on the thirtieth calendar day after the Valuation Date specified in the Redemption Notice, then the holder of such Security shall have no right to receive the Redemption Cash Settlement Amount in respect of such Security and the Issuer's obligations in respect of such Security shall be cancelled.

For the avoidance of doubt, in circumstances where either (i) payment of the Redemption Cash Settlement Amount as provided above is made after the original Redemption Settlement Date due to the delivery and/or copying of a Settlement Notice after 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Redemption Date as provided above or (ii) the Issuer's obligations are cancelled as provided above, the relevant Securityholder(s) shall not be entitled to any payment, whether interest or otherwise, as a result thereof.

3.2. Maximum Monthly Exercise Amount prior to final Exercise Date

With respect to each Exercise Date other than the final Exercise Date, if the Clearing Agent determines in accordance with its procedures from time to time that Securities have been properly exercised in accordance with Product Condition 3.5 in respect of Securities equal to the Maximum Monthly Exercise Amount then all Securities exercised thereafter shall be deemed to have been exercised on the next following Exercise Date (subject to the Maximum Monthly Exercise Amount having already been reached on that Exercise Date in which case the next following Exercise Date and so on until their Securities have been exercised without the Maximum Monthly Exercise Amount being reached or the third Exercise Date following their first purported exercise, whichever is the earliest).

In these circumstances a Securityholder attempting to exercise on one Exercise Date could find that its exercise is only effective with effect from the first, second or third Exercise Date after the original date which, but for the operation of these provisions, would have otherwise been the Exercise Date. The Cash Settlement Amount with respect to the postponed Exercise Date may be substantially different from the Cash Settlement Amount which would have otherwise been payable with respect to the original date which, but for the operation of these provisions, would otherwise have been the Exercise Date.

SINGLE UNDERLYING LINKED CERTIFICATES (Type 4)

In any case if the Issuer exercises its Redemption Right, the Securityholders will receive either the Redemption Cash Settlement Amount or the Cash Settlement Amount, whichever is first.

3.3. Cash Settlement

Each Security upon due exercise and subject to certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership entitles its holder to receive from the Issuer on the Settlement Date the Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses.

3.4. General

In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, none of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent and any Agent shall have any responsibility for any errors or omissions in the calculation of any Cash Settlement Amount.

3.5. Exercise Notice

Securities may only be exercised with respect to a Valuation Date by the delivery of a duly completed Exercise Notice to the Principal Agent, with a copy to the relevant Clearing Agent, at or prior to [10.00 a.m. (Central European Time)] [●] on the relevant Exercise Date. The form of the Exercise Notice may be obtained during normal business hours from the specified office of each Agent.

If the Issuer exercises its Redemption Right, for each Security in respect of which a duly completed Exercise Notice has been delivered and such Exercise Notice specifies the Exercise Date falling after the Final Exercise Date, such Final Exercise Date shall be deemed to be the applicable Exercise Date. Any Exercise Notice delivered to the Principal Agent, or copied to the Clearing Agent, in each case after 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Final Exercise Date shall be void.

If the Issuer exercises its Redemption Right, the Securityholder must deliver a duly completed Settlement Notice to the Principal Agent with a copy to a Clearing Agent as provided in Product Condition 3.1.

The form of the Exercise Notice or Settlement Notice, as the case may be, may be obtained during normal business hours from the specified office of each Agent.

In respect of each Exercise Notice, the relevant Securityholder must provide evidence reasonably satisfactory to the Principal Agent of its holding of such Securities.

3.6. Determinations

Failure properly to complete and deliver an Exercise Notice, including a copy thereof, as provided above, may result in such notice being treated as null and void. Any determination as to whether an Exercise Notice has been properly completed and delivered, including a copy thereof, shall be made by the Principal Agent and shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer and the relevant Securityholder. Subject as set out below, any Exercise Notice so determined to be incomplete or not in proper form or not delivered to the Principal Agent and which is not copied to the relevant Clearing Agent as provided in the Conditions shall be void.

If such Exercise Notice is subsequently corrected to the satisfaction of the Principal Agent, it shall be deemed to be a new Exercise Notice submitted at the time such correction is delivered to the Principal Agent and copied to such Clearing Agent.

In any case where more than the Quota of Securities are exercised on the same day by Securityholder(s), the determination of the chronological order of settlement in respect of such Securities shall be at the sole discretion of the Issuer.

For so long as delivery of all or any part of the Physical Settlement Units is not practicable by reason of a Settlement Disruption Event, then in lieu of physical settlement in respect of such part of the Physical Settlement Units and notwithstanding any other provision hereof the Issuer may elect in its sole discretion to satisfy its obligations in respect of the relevant Security by payment of the Disruption Cash Settlement Price not later than on the third Business Day following the date that notice of such election is given to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4. Payment of the Disruption Cash Settlement Price will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4. Any such Distribution to be paid shall be paid to the Clearing Agent for distribution to the Securityholders.

3.13. Settlement Risk

Clause 3 Warrants & Certificates Cash&Phys, Non-European Type, Automatic Exercise, Issuer Redemption Right

Type: Non-European (i.e. American & Bermudan)

Exercise: Automatic

3. Exercise and Redemption

3.1. Exercise and Redemption

The Securities are exercisable on any Exercise Date. Any Security with respect to which an Exercise Notice has been delivered after 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on any day shall be deemed to have been exercised on the next following Exercise Date, if any. Any Security with respect to which no Exercise Notice has been delivered in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 at or prior to 10.00 am Central European Time on the last occurring Exercise Date will be deemed exercised automatically on such Exercise Date and the provisions of Product Condition 3.2 shall apply. The expressions "exercise", "due exercise" and related expressions shall be construed to apply to any Securities which are automatically exercised on the last occurring Exercise Date in accordance with this provision.

The Issuer has the unconditional and irrevocable right (the "Redemption Right"), upon delivery of the Redemption Notice (as defined below) by the Issuer, to redeem the Securities in whole, but not in part.

"Redemption Notice" means the irrevocable notice given by the Issuer to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4.1 that the Issuer will exercise its Redemption Right, which notice shall specify the Redemption Date.

Subject to Product Condition 3.8, the exercise by the Issuer of the Redemption Right shall not preclude Securityholders from exercising Securities on any Exercise Date up to and excluding the Redemption Date or from selling or transferring Securities which sale or transfer, as the case may be, is effective on any day up to but excluding the Redemption Date. In such case, any Exercise Notice delivered to the Principal Agent, or copied to the Clearing Agent, in each case after 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the last Exercise Date prior to the Redemption Date shall be void.

3.2. Settlement

Each Security entitles its holder to receive from the Issuer, on the Settlement Date

3.2.1. if and to the extent Settlement means Physical Settlement, the Physical Settlement Amount (and if applicable, any Adjustment Amount) subject to payment of [insert for warrants: the Strike, if any, and] any Securityholder Expenses on or prior to the Settlement Date, or

3.2.2. if and to the extent Settlement means Cash Settlement, the Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses.

If the Issuer exercises its Redemption Right, each Security entitles its holder to receive from the Issuer, on the Settlement Date

3.2.3. if and to the extent Settlement means Physical Settlement, the Physical Settlement Amount (and if applicable, any Adjustment Amount) subject to payment of [insert for warrants: the Strike, if any, and] any Securityholder Expenses on or prior to the Settlement Date,

3.2.4. if and to the extent Settlement means Cash Settlement, the Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses.

[If the Issuer has the right to select either Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement insert:]

The Issuer will give notice to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4 not less than the Notice Period prior to the Settlement Date stating whether Cash Settlement and/or Physical Settlement applies, provided that if the Issuer fails to give such notice the Securities shall be redeemed by payment of the Cash Settlement Amount in accordance with 3.2.2 above.]

The Issuer will be discharged of its payment and/or delivery obligations by payment and/or delivery, as the case may be, to, or to the order of, the relevant Clearing Agent in respect of the amount so paid or delivered. Each of the persons shown in the records of a Clearing Agent as the holder of a particular number of the Securities must look solely to the relevant Clearing Agent for his share of each such payment and/or delivery, as applicable, so made by the Issuer to, or to the order of, the relevant Clearing Agent.

All payments and/or deliveries will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment and/or delivery, as the case may be, and subject to the provisions of General Conditions 6.

If a payment of any amount to be paid to a Securityholder, according to the rules of the relevant Clearing Agent, cannot be made in the Settlement Currency, such payment shall be made in the currency principally used by the relevant Clearing Agent for payments to securityholders holding accounts with such Clearing Agent, following a conversion of the relevant amount from the Settlement Currency, using the rate of exchange determined by the Calculation Agent by reference to such sources as the Calculation Agent may reasonably determine to be appropriate.

3.3. General

In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, none of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent and any Agent shall have any responsibility for any errors or omissions in the calculation of any amount payable hereunder or in any other determination pursuant to the provisions hereof.

Where the Physical Settlement Units are shares, the purchase of Securities does not confer on any holder of such Securities any rights (whether in respect of voting, distributions or otherwise) attached to such shares.

3.4. Exercise Notice

Securities may only be exercised by the delivery of a duly completed Exercise Notice to the Principal Agent, with a copy to the relevant Clearing Agent. The form of the Exercise Notice may be obtained during normal business hours from the specified office of each Agent.

An Exercise Notice shall:

- (10) specify the number of Securities being exercised;
- (11) specify the number of the account with the relevant Clearing Agent to be debited with the Securities being exercised;
- (12) irrevocably instruct and authorise the relevant Clearing Agent to debit on or before the Settlement Date such account with such Securities and authorise the Principal Agent to so direct the relevant Clearing Agent on behalf of the relevant Securityholder;
- (13) in the case of Physical Settlement, irrevocably instruct the relevant Clearing Agent to debit on the Exercise Date a specified account with the relevant Clearing Agent with the aggregate amount of the Strikes, if any, in respect of such Securities (together with any other amounts payable);
- (14) specify the number of the account with the relevant Clearing Agent to be credited with (i) any Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder

- (15) authorise the production of such notice in any applicable administrative or legal proceedings;
- (16) include an undertaking to pay all Securityholder Expenses and an authority to the relevant Clearing Agent to deduct an amount in respect thereof from any Cash Settlement Amount due to such Securityholder in the case of Cash Settlement and/or to debit a specified account with the relevant Clearing Agent in respect thereof and to pay such Securityholder Expenses and authorise the Principal Agent to so direct the relevant Clearing Agent on behalf of the relevant Securityholder;
- (17) include the account details at the Clearing Agent ("Delivery Details") in the case of Physical Settlement;
- (18) certify that neither the person exercising the Security nor any person on whose behalf the Security is being exercised is a U.S. person or a person within the United States. As used herein, "U.S. person" means (i) an individual who is a resident or a citizen of the United States; (ii) a corporation, partnership or other entity organised in or under the laws of the United States or any political subdivision thereof or which has its principal place of business in the United States; (iii) any estate or trust which is subject to United States federal income taxation regardless of the source of its income; (iv) any trust if a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and if one or more United States trustees have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust; (v) a pension plan for the employees, officers or principals of a corporation, partnership or other entity described in (ii) above; (vi) any entity organised principally for passive investment, 10 per cent. or more of the beneficial interests in which are held by persons described in (i) to (v) above if such entity was formed principally for the purpose of investment by such persons in a commodity pool the operator of which is exempt from certain requirements of Part 4 of the United States Commodity Futures Trading Commission's regulations by virtue of its participants being non-U.S. persons; or (vii) any other "U.S. person" as such term may be defined in Regulation S under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or in regulations adopted under the United States Commodity Exchange Act.

[If the Securityholder has the right to select Physical Settlement instead of Cash Settlement insert:

The Security shall be settled by payment of the Cash Settlement Amount in accordance with 3.2.2 above unless the Securityholder has duly delivered an Exercise Notice stating Physical Settlement.]

3.5. Verification

In respect of each Exercise Notice, the relevant Securityholder must provide evidence reasonably satisfactory to the Principal Agent of its holding of such Securities.

3.6. Settlement Details

3.6.1 If Cash Settlement applies, the Cash Settlement Amount shall be transferred to the relevant Clearing Agent for distribution to the Securityholders.

(b) 3.6.2. If Physical Settlement applies, the delivery of the Physical Settlement Amount shall be made at the risk of the relevant Securityholder and shall be transferred to the Clearing Agent for delivery to the relevant Securityholder.

PROVIDED THAT where the Issuer determines in its sole discretion that delivery of all or any of the Physical Settlement is impractical, illegal or unduly onerous to the Issuer, then the Issuer shall have the option to deliver the relevant Physical Settlement Units in such other commercially reasonable manner as the Issuer shall determine to be appropriate for such delivery and shall notify to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4. The Physical Settlement Amount shall be evidenced in such manner as the Issuer determines to be customary for the relevant Physical Settlement Units. The Issuer shall be under no obligation to register or procure the registration of any Securityholder or any other person as the registered holder in respect of the Physical Settlement Units in any register of holders of such Units, including, but not limited to, a register of members of a share company.

3.7. Determinations

Failure properly to complete and deliver an Exercise Notice, including a copy thereof, as provided above, may result in such notice being treated as null and void. Any determination as to whether an Exercise Notice has been properly completed and delivered, including a copy thereof, shall be made by the Principal Agent and shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer and the relevant Securityholder. Subject as set out below, any Exercise Notice so determined to be incomplete or not in proper form or not delivered to the Principal Agent and which is not copied to the relevant Clearing Agent as provided in the Conditions shall be void.

If such Exercise Notice is subsequently corrected to the satisfaction of the Principal Agent, it shall be deemed to be a new Exercise Notice submitted at the time such correction is delivered to the Principal Agent and copied to such Clearing Agent.

The Principal Agent shall use all reasonable endeavours promptly to notify the relevant Securityholder if it has determined that an Exercise Notice is incomplete or not in proper form. In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, neither the Issuer nor the Principal Agent shall be liable to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in connection with such determination or the notification of such determination to a Securityholder.

3.8. Delivery of an Exercise Notice

Delivery of an Exercise Notice shall constitute an irrevocable election by the relevant Securityholder to exercise the Securities specified and no Exercise Notice may be withdrawn after receipt by the Principal Agent as provided above. After the delivery of an Exercise Notice the Securities which are the subject of such notice may not be transferred.

3.9. Securityholder Expenses

In respect of each Security, all Securityholder Expenses in respect thereof shall be for the account of the relevant Securityholder and (1) where any Cash Settlement Amount and/or other amount in respect of a Security is payable no payment shall be made until all Securityholder Expenses in respect thereof have been paid to the satisfaction of the Issuer or (2) where any Physical Settlement Amount in respect of a Security is deliverable it shall not be made until all Securityholder Expenses in respect thereof have been paid to the satisfaction of the Issuer.

3.10. Settlement Disruption

If and to the extent Physical Settlement applies and prior to delivery in accordance with this Condition of a Physical Settlement Unit in respect of any Security, in the opinion of the Calculation Agent, a Settlement Disruption Event is subsisting, then the Settlement Date for such Physical Settlement Unit shall be postponed to the first following Business Day on which no Settlement Disruption Event is subsisting.

For so long as delivery of all or any part of the Physical Settlement Units is not practicable by reason of a Settlement Disruption Event, then in lieu of physical settlement in respect of such part of the Physical Settlement Units and notwithstanding any other provision hereof the Issuer may elect in its sole discretion to satisfy its obligations in respect of the relevant Security by payment of the Disruption Cash Settlement Price not later than on the third Business Day following the date that notice of such election is given to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4. Payment of the Disruption Cash Settlement Price will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4. The Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4 that a Settlement Disruption Event has occurred.

No Securityholder or any other person shall be entitled to any payment in respect of a Security in the event of any delay in the delivery of any Physical Settlement Unit due to the occurrence of a Settlement Disruption Event and no liability in respect thereof shall attach to the Issuer.

3.11. Intervening Period

If and to the extent Physical Settlement applies, for such period of time after the Exercise Date or Termination Date, as applicable, as the Issuer or any person on behalf of the Issuer shall continue to be the legal owner of Physical Settlement Units (the "Intervening Period"), neither the Issuer nor any other such person shall (i) be under any obligation to deliver or procure delivery to the relevant Securityholder or any subsequent beneficial owner of such Physical Settlement Units or any other person any letter, certificate, notice, circular or any other document or payment whatsoever received by that person in its capacity as the holder of such Physical Settlement Units; (ii) be under any obligation to exercise or procure exercise of any or all rights (including voting rights) attaching to such Physical Settlement Units during the Intervening Period; or (iii) be under any liability to the relevant Securityholder or any subsequent beneficial owner of such Physical Settlement Units or any other person in respect of any loss or damage which the relevant Securityholder or subsequent beneficial owner or any other person may sustain or suffer as a result, whether directly or indirectly, of the Issuer or any other such person being the legal owner of such Physical Settlement Units during such Intervening Period.

3.12. Distribution

Any dividend, coupon, interest or similar payment or distribution (each, a "Distribution") in respect of any Physical Settlement Unit to be delivered will be payable to the party that would receive such Distribution according to market practice for a sale of the relevant Physical Settlement Unit executed on the Exercise Date and to be delivered in the same manner as such Physical Settlement Unit. Any such Distribution to be paid to a Securityholder shall be paid to the Clearing Agent for distribution to the Securityholders.

3.13. Exercise and Settlement Risk

Exercise and settlement of the Securities is subject to all applicable laws, regulations and practices in force at all relevant times, and neither the Issuer nor any Agent shall incur any liability whatsoever if it is unable to effect the transactions contemplated, after using all reasonable efforts, as a result of any such laws, regulations or practices. Neither the Issuer nor the Agents shall under any circumstances be liable for any acts or defaults of any Clearing Agent in relation to the performance of its duties in relation to the Securities.

3.14. Minimum Exercise Amount

Where a Minimum Exercise Amount has been specified in Product Condition 1, the number of Securities exercised on any Exercise Date, as determined by the Calculation Agent, must not be less than the Minimum Exercise Amount or, if a number in excess of the Minimum Exercise Amount and if an Integral Exercise Amount has been specified in Product Condition 1, an integral multiple of the Integral Exercise Amount. Any purported exercise of Securities in breach of this provision shall be void and of no effect.

3.15. Maximum Exercise Amount

Where a Maximum Exercise Amount has been specified in Product Condition 1, if the Calculation Agent determines that the number of Securities being exercised on any Exercise Date by any Securityholder or a group of Securityholders (whether or not acting in concert) exceeds the Maximum Exercise Amount (a number equal to the Maximum Exercise Amount being the "Quota"), the Issuer may deem the Exercise Date for the first Quota of such Securities, selected on the basis of the chronological order in which the relevant Exercise Notices have been delivered, to be such day and the Exercise Date for each additional Quota of such Securities (and any remaining number thereof), selected in the same way as above, to be each of the succeeding Exercise Dates until all such Securities have been attributed with an Exercise Date, provided, however, that for any such Securities for which the Exercise Date would thereby fall after the last occurring Exercise Date, such last occurring Exercise Date shall be deemed to be the Exercise Date. In any case where more than the Quota of Securities are exercised on the same day by Securityholder(s), the determination of the chronological order of settlement in respect of such Securities shall be at the sole discretion of the Issuer.

Clause 3 Warrants & Certificates Cash&Phys, European Type, Non-Automatic Exercise, Issuer Redemption Right

Type: European

Exercise: Non-Automatic

3. Exercise and Redemption

3.1. Exercise and Redemption

The Securities are only exercisable on the Exercise Date. Any Security with respect to which no Exercise Notice has been delivered in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 at or prior to 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Exercise Date shall be void. Any Exercise Notice delivered in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 prior to the Exercise Date shall be deemed to have been validly deferred on the Exercise Date.

The Issuer has the unconditional and irrevocable right (the “Redemption Right”), upon delivery of the Redemption Notice (as defined below) by the Issuer, to redeem the Securities in whole, but not in part.

“Redemption Notice” means the irrevocable notice given by the Issuer to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4.1 that the Issuer will exercise its Redemption Right, which notice shall specify the Redemption Date.

3.2. Settlement

Each Security upon due exercise entitles its holder to receive from the Issuer, on the Settlement Date

3.2.1. if and to the extent Settlement means Physical Settlement, the Physical Settlement Amount (and if applicable, any Adjustment Amount) subject to payment of [insert for warrants: the Strike, if any, and] any Securityholder Expenses on or prior to the Settlement Date, or

3.2.2. if and to the extent Settlement means Cash Settlement, the Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses.

If the Issuer exercises its Redemption Right, each Security, upon due delivery of a duly completed Settlement Notice by the Securityholder to the Principal Agent with a copy to the Clearing Agent in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 for Exercise Notices at or prior to 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Redemption Date, entitles its holder to receive from the Issuer, on the Settlement Date

3.2.3. if and to the extent Settlement means Physical Settlement, the Physical Settlement Amount (and if applicable, any Adjustment Amount) subject to payment of [insert for warrants: the Strike, if any, and] any Securityholder Expenses on or prior to the Settlement Date,

3.2.4. if and to the extent Settlement means Cash Settlement, the Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses.

[If the Issuer has the right to select either Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement insert:

The Issuer will give notice to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4 not less than the Notice Period prior to the Settlement Date stating whether Cash Settlement and/or Physical Settlement applies, provided that if the Issuer fails to give such notice the Securities shall be redeemed by payment of the Cash Settlement Amount in accordance with 3.2.2 above.]

The Settlement Notice shall contain the same specifications as set out in Product Condition 3.4 for an Exercise Notice.

In case of an exercise by the Issuer of its Redemption Right, all references to an “Exercise Notice” in any Product Condition, shall be deemed also to apply for a “Settlement Notice”.

If a duly completed Settlement Notice is not delivered and copied in accordance with Product Condition 3.4 by 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Redemption Date, then the Cash Settlement Amount or Physical Settlement Amount, as applicable, will, subject as provided below, be paid or delivered as soon as practicable after the original Settlement Date (and such date of payment shall be deemed to be, for such Securities, the Settlement Date). If a Settlement Notice has not been delivered and copied with respect to a Security in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 at or prior to 10.00 a.m. (Central European Time) on the thirtieth calendar day after the Redemption Date, then the holder of such Security shall have no right to receive the Cash Settlement Amount or Physical Settlement Amount, as applicable, in respect of such Security and the Issuer’s obligations in respect of such Security shall be cancelled.

For the avoidance of doubt, in circumstances where either (i) payment of the Cash Settlement Amount or delivery of the Physical Settlement Amount, as applicable, is made after the original Settlement Date due to the delivery and/or copying of a Settlement Notice after 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Redemption Date as provided above or (ii) the Issuer’s obligations are cancelled as provided above, the relevant Securityholder(s) shall not be entitled to any payment, whether interest or otherwise, as a result thereof.

[If a notice period of more than six months is to be observed, as provided for under the definition of “Redemption Date”, insert:

Where the Issuer has exercised the Redemption Right, it shall give notice to the Securityholders not more than 60 days and not less than 30 days before the Redemption Date reminding Securityholders of such exercise of the Redemption Right and the requirement to deliver a Settlement Notice as provided herein.]

The Issuer will be discharged of its payment and/or delivery obligations by payment and/or delivery, as the case may be, to, or to the order of, the relevant Clearing Agent in respect of the amount so paid or delivered. Each of the persons shown in the records of a Clearing Agent as the holder of a particular number of the Securities must look solely to the relevant Clearing Agent for his share of each such payment and/or delivery, as applicable, so made by the Issuer to, or to the order of, the relevant Clearing Agent.

All payments and/or deliveries will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment and/or delivery, as the case may be, and subject to the provisions of General Conditions 6.

If a payment of any amount to be paid to a Securityholder, according to the rules of the relevant Clearing Agent, cannot be made in the Settlement Currency, such payment shall be made in the currency principally used by the relevant Clearing Agent for payments to securityholders holding accounts with such Clearing Agent, following a conversion of the relevant amount from the Settlement Currency, using the rate of exchange determined by the Calculation Agent by reference to such sources as the Calculation Agent may reasonably determine to be appropriate.

3.3. General

In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, none of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent and any Agent shall have any responsibility for any errors or omissions in the calculation of any amount payable hereunder or in any other determination pursuant to the provisions hereof. Where the Physical Settlement Units are shares, the purchase of Securities does not confer on any holder of such

- (17) include the account details at the Clearing Agent ("Delivery Details") in the case of Physical Settlement;

PROVIDED THAT where the Issuer determines in its sole discretion that delivery of all or any of the Physical Settlement Units is impractical, illegal or unduly onerous to the Issuer, then the Issuer shall have the option to deliver the relevant Physical Settlement Units in such other commercially reasonable manner as the Issuer shall determine to be appropriate for such delivery and shall notify to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4. The Physical Settlement Amount shall be evidenced in such manner as the Issuer determines to be customary for the relevant Physical Settlement Units. The Issuer shall be under no obligation to register or procure the registration of any Securityholder or any other person as the registered holder in respect of the Physical Settlement Units in any register of holders of such Units, including, but not limited to, a register of members of a share company.

3.7. Determinations

Failure properly to complete and deliver an Exercise Notice, including a copy thereof, as provided above, may result in such notice being treated as null and void. Any determination as to whether an Exercise Notice has been properly completed and delivered, including a copy thereof, shall be made by the Principal Agent and shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer and the relevant Securityholder. Subject as set out below, any Exercise Notice so determined to be incomplete or not in proper form or not delivered to the Principal Agent and which is not copied to the relevant Clearing Agent as provided in the Conditions shall be void.

For so long as delivery of all or any part of the Physical Settlement Units is not practicable by reason of a Settlement Disruption Event, then in lieu of physical settlement in respect of such part of the Physical Settlement Units and notwithstanding any other provision hereof the Issuer may elect in its sole discretion to satisfy its obligations in respect of the relevant Security by payment of the Disruption Cash Settlement Price not later than on the third Business Day following the date that notice of such election is given to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4. Any Security with respect to which an Exercise Notice has been delivered after 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on any day shall be deemed to have been exercised on the next following Exercise Date, if any. Any Security with respect to which no Exercise Notice has been delivered in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 at or prior to 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the last occurring Exercise Date shall be void.

The Issuer has the unconditional and irrevocable right (the “Redemption Right”), upon delivery of the Redemption Notice (as defined below) by the Issuer, to redeem the Securities in whole, but not in part.

“Redemption Notice” means the irrevocable notice given by the Issuer to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4.1 that the Issuer will exercise its Redemption Right, which notice shall specify the Redemption Date.

Subject to Product Condition 3.8, the exercise by the Issuer of the Redemption Right shall not preclude Securityholders from exercising Securities on any Exercise Date up to and excluding the Redemption Date or from selling or transferring Securities which sale or transfer, as the case may be, is effective on any day up to but excluding the Redemption Date. In such case, any Exercise Notice delivered to the Principal Agent, or copied to the Clearing Agent, in each case after 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the last Exercise Date prior to the Redemption Date shall be void.

3.2. Settlement

Each Security upon due exercise entitles its holder to receive from the Issuer, on the Settlement Date

3.2.1. if and to the extent Settlement means Physical Settlement, the Physical Settlement Amount (and if applicable, any Adjustment Amount) subject to payment of [insert for warrants: the Strike, if any, and] any Securityholder Expenses on or prior to the Settlement Date, or

3.2.2. if and to the extent Settlement means Cash Settlement, the Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses.

If the Issuer exercises its Redemption Right, each Security, upon due delivery of a duly completed Settlement Notice by the Securityholder to the Principal Agent with a copy to the Clearing Agent in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 for Exercise Notices at or prior to 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Redemption Date, entitles its holder to receive from the Issuer, on the Settlement Date

3.2.3. if and to the extent Settlement means Physical Settlement, the Physical Settlement Amount (and if applicable, any Adjustment Amount) subject to payment of [insert for warrants: the Strike, if any, and] any Securityholder Expenses on or prior to the Settlement Date,

3.2.4. if and to the extent Settlement means Cash Settlement, the Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses.

[If the Issuer has the right to select either Cash Settlement or Physical Settlement insert:

The Issuer will give notice to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4 not less than the Notice Period prior to the Settlement Date stating whether Cash Settlement and/or Physical Settlement applies, provided that if the Issuer fails to give such notice the Securities shall be redeemed by payment of the Cash Settlement Amount in accordance with 3.2.2 above.]

The Settlement Notice shall contain the same specifications as set out in Product Condition 3.4 for an Exercise Notice.

In case of an exercise by the Issuer of its Redemption Right, all references to an “Exercise Notice” in any Product Condition, shall be deemed also to apply for a “Settlement Notice”.

If a duly completed Settlement Notice is not delivered and copied in accordance with Product Condition 3.4 by 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Redemption Date, then the Cash Settlement Amount or Physical Settlement Amount, as applicable, will, subject as provided below, be paid or delivered as soon as practicable after the original Settlement Date (and such date of payment shall be deemed to be, for such Securities, the Settlement Date). If a Settlement Notice has not been delivered and copied with respect to a Security in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 at or prior to 10.00 a.m. (Central European Time) on the thirtieth calendar day after the Redemption Date, then the holder of such Security shall have no right to receive the Cash Settlement Amount or Physical Settlement Amount, as applicable, in respect of such Security and the Issuer’s obligations in respect of such Security shall be cancelled.

For the avoidance of doubt, in circumstances where either (i) payment of the Cash Settlement Amount or delivery of the Physical Settlement Amount, as applicable, is made after the original Settlement Date due to the delivery and/or copying of a Settlement Notice after 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Redemption Date as provided above or (ii) the Issuer’s obligations are cancelled as provided above, the relevant Securityholder(s) shall not be entitled to any payment, whether interest or otherwise, as a result thereof.

[If a notice period of more than six months is to be observed, as provided for under the definition of “Redemption Date”, insert:

Where the Issuer has exercised the Redemption Right, it shall give notice to the Securityholders not more than 60 days and not less than 30 days before the Redemption Date reminding Securityholders of such exercise of the Redemption Right and the requirement to deliver a Settlement Notice as provided herein.]

The Issuer will be discharged of its payment and/or delivery obligations by payment and/or delivery, as the case may be, to, or to the order of, the relevant Clearing Agent in respect of the amount so paid or delivered. Each of the persons shown in the records of a Clearing Agent as the holder of a particular number of the Securities must look solely to the relevant Clearing Agent for his share of each such payment and/or delivery, as applicable, so made by the Issuer to, or to the order of, the relevant Clearing Agent.

All payments and/or deliveries will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment and/or delivery, as the case may be, and subject to the provisions of General Conditions 6.

If a payment of any amount to be paid to a Securityholder, according to the rules of the relevant Clearing Agent, cannot be made in the Settlement Currency, such payment shall be made in the currency principally used by the relevant Clearing Agent for payments to securityholders holding accounts with such Clearing Agent, following a conversion of the relevant amount from the Settlement Currency, using the rate of exchange determined by the Calculation Agent by reference to such sources as the Calculation Agent may reasonably determine to be appropriate.

3.3. General

In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, none of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent and any Agent shall have any responsibility for any errors or omissions in the calculation of any amount payable hereunder or in any other determination pursuant to the provisions hereof. Where the Physical Settlement Units are shares, the purchase of Securities does not confer on any holder of such Securities any rights (whether in respect of voting, distributions or otherwise) attached to such shares.

3.4. Exercise Notice

Securities may only be exercised by the delivery of a duly completed Exercise Notice to the Principal Agent, with a copy to the relevant Clearing Agent. The form of the Exercise Notice may be obtained during normal business hours from the specified office of each Agent.

An Exercise Notice shall:

- (10) specify the number of Securities being exercised;
- (11) specify the number of the account with the relevant Clearing Agent to be debited with the Securities being exercised;
- (12) irrevocably instruct and authorise the relevant Clearing Agent to debit on or before the Settlement Date such account with such Securities and authorise the Principal Agent to so direct the relevant Clearing Agent on behalf of the relevant Securityholder;

- (15) authorise the production of such notice in any applicable administrative or legal proceedings;
- (16) include an undertaking to pay all Securityholder Expenses and an authority to the relevant Clearing Agent to deduct an amount in respect thereof from any Cash Settlement Amount due to such Securityholder in the case of Cash Settlement and/or to debit a specified account with the relevant Clearing Agent in respect thereof and to pay such Securityholder Expenses and authorise the Principal Agent to so direct the relevant Clearing Agent on behalf of the relevant Securityholder;
- (17) include the account details at the Clearing Agent ("Delivery Details") in the case of Physical Settlement;
- (18) certify that neither the person exercising the Security nor any person on whose behalf the Security is being exercised is a U.S. person or a person within the United States. As used herein, "U.S. person" means (i) an individual who is a resident or a citizen of the United States; (ii) a corporation, partnership or other entity organised in or under the laws of the United States or any political subdivision thereof or which has its principal place of business in the United States; (iii) any estate or trust which is subject to United States federal income taxation regardless of the source of its income; (iv) any trust if a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and if one or more United States trustees have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust; (v) a pension plan for the employees, officers or principals of a corporation, partnership or other entity described in (ii) above; (vi) any entity organised principally for passive investment, 10 per cent. or more of the beneficial interests in which are held by persons described in (i) to (v) above if such entity was formed principally for the purpose of investment by such persons in a commodity pool the operator of which is exempt from certain requirements of Part 4 of the United States Commodity Futures Trading Commission's regulations by virtue of its participants being non-U.S. persons; or (vii) any other "U.S. person" as such term may be defined in Regulation S under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or in regulations adopted under the United States Commodity Exchange Act.

[If the Securityholder has the right to select Physical Settlement instead of Cash Settlement insert:

The Security shall be settled by payment of the Cash Settlement Amount in accordance with 3.2.2 above, if the Securityholder has duly exercised the Security by delivery of an Exercise Notice and if he has not determined Physical Settlement in such Exercise Notice.]

3.5. Verification

In respect of each Exercise Notice, the relevant Securityholder must provide evidence reasonably satisfactory to the Principal Agent of its holding of such Securities.

3.6. Settlement Details

3.6.1. If Cash Settlement applies and if the Security has been duly exercised by delivery of an Exercise Notice, the Cash Settlement Amount shall be transferred to the relevant Clearing Agent for distribution to the Securityholders.

(a) 3.6.2. If Physical Settlement applies and if the Security has been duly exercised by delivery of an Exercise Notice, the delivery of the Physical Settlement Amount shall be made at the risk of the relevant Securityholder and shall be transferred to the Clearing Agent for delivery to the relevant Securityholder.

PROVIDED THAT where the Issuer determines in its sole discretion that delivery of all or any of the Physical Settlement Units is impractical, illegal or unduly onerous to the Issuer, then the Issuer shall have the option to deliver the relevant Physical Settlement Units in such other commercially reasonable manner as the Issuer shall determine to be appropriate for such delivery and shall notify to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4. The Physical Settlement Amount shall be evidenced in such manner as the Issuer determines to be customary for the relevant Physical Settlement Units. The Issuer shall be under no obligation to register or procure the registration of any Securityholder or any other person as the registered holder in respect of the Physical Settlement Units in any register of holders of such Units, including, but not limited to, a register of members of a share company.

3.7. Determinations

Failure properly to complete and deliver an Exercise Notice, including a copy thereof, as provided above, may result in such notice being treated as null and void. Any determination as to whether an Exercise Notice has been properly completed and delivered, including a copy thereof, shall be made by the Principal Agent and shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer and the relevant Securityholder. Subject as set out below, any Exercise Notice so determined to be incomplete or not in proper form or not delivered to the Principal Agent and which is not copied to the relevant Clearing Agent as provided in the Conditions shall be void.

If such Exercise Notice is subsequently corrected to the satisfaction of the Principal Agent, it shall be deemed to be a new Exercise Notice submitted at the time such correction is delivered to the Principal Agent and copied to such Clearing Agent.

The Principal Agent shall use all reasonable endeavours promptly to notify the relevant Securityholder if it has determined that an Exercise Notice is incomplete or not in proper form. In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, neither the Issuer nor the Principal Agent shall be liable to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in connection with such determination or the notification of such determination to a Securityholder.

3.8. Delivery of an Exercise Notice

Delivery of an Exercise Notice shall constitute an irrevocable election by the relevant Securityholder to exercise the Securities specified and no Exercise Notice may be withdrawn after receipt by the Principal Agent as provided above. After the delivery of an Exercise Notice the Securities which are the subject of such notice may not be transferred.

3.9. Securityholder Expenses

In respect of each Security, all Securityholder Expenses in respect thereof shall be for the account of the relevant Securityholder and (1) where any Cash Settlement Amount and/or other amount in respect of a Security is payable no payment shall be made until all Securityholder Expenses in respect thereof have been paid to the satisfaction of the Issuer or (2) where any Physical Settlement Amount in respect of a Security is deliverable it shall not be made until all Securityholder Expenses in respect thereof have been paid to the satisfaction of the Issuer.

3.10. Settlement Disruption

If and to the extent Physical Settlement applies and prior to delivery in accordance with this Condition of a Physical Settlement Unit in respect of any Security, in the opinion of the Calculation Agent, a Settlement Disruption Event is subsisting, then the Settlement Date for such Physical Settlement Unit shall be postponed to the first following Business Day on which no Settlement Disruption Event is subsisting.

For so long as delivery of all or any part of the Physical Settlement Units is not practicable by reason of a Settlement Disruption Event, then in lieu of physical settlement in respect of such part of the Physical Settlement Units and notwithstanding any other provision hereof the Issuer may elect in its sole discretion to satisfy its obligations in respect of the relevant Security by payment of the Disruption Cash Settlement Price not later than on the third Business Day following the date that notice of such election is given to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4. Payment of the Disruption Cash Settlement Price will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4. The Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4 that a Settlement Disruption Event has occurred.

No Securityholder or any other person shall be entitled to any payment in respect of a Security in the event of any delay in the delivery of any Physical Settlement Unit due to the occurrence of a Settlement Disruption Event and no liability in respect thereof shall attach to the Issuer.

3.11. Intervening Period

If and to the extent Physical Settlement applies, for such period of time after the Exercise Date or Termination Date, as applicable, as the Issuer or any person on behalf of the Issuer shall continue to be the legal owner of Physical Settlement Units

(the "Intervening Period"), neither the Issuer nor any other such person shall (i) be under any obligation to deliver or procure delivery to the relevant Securityholder or any subsequent beneficial owner of such Physical Settlement Units or any other person any letter, certificate, notice, circular or any other document or payment whatsoever received by that person in its capacity as the holder of such Physical Settlement Units; (ii) be under any obligation to exercise or procure exercise of any or all rights (including voting rights) attaching to such Physical Settlement Units during the Intervening Period; or (iii) be under any liability to the relevant Securityholder or any subsequent beneficial owner of such Physical Settlement Units or any other person in respect of any loss or damage which the relevant Securityholder or subsequent beneficial owner or any other person may sustain or suffer as a result, whether directly or indirectly, of the Issuer or any other such person being the legal owner of such Physical Settlement Units during such Intervening Period.

3.12. Distribution

Any dividend, coupon, interest or similar payment or distribution (each, a "Distribution") in respect of any Physical Settlement Unit to be delivered will be payable to the party that would receive such Distribution according to market practice for a sale of the relevant Physical Settlement Unit executed on the Valuation Date and to be delivered in the same manner as such Physical Settlement Unit. Any such Distribution to be paid to a Securityholder shall be paid to the Clearing Agent for distribution to the Securityholders, if the Security has been duly exercised.

3.13. Exercise and Settlement Risk

Exercise and settlement of the Securities is subject to all applicable laws, regulations and practices in force at all relevant times, and neither the Issuer nor any Agent shall incur any liability whatsoever if it is unable to effect the transactions contemplated, after using all reasonable efforts, as a result of any such laws, regulations or practices. Neither the Issuer nor the Agents shall under any circumstances be liable for any acts or defaults of any Clearing Agent in relation to the performance of its duties in relation to the Securities.

3.14. Minimum Exercise Amount

Where a Minimum Exercise Amount has been specified in Product Condition 1, the number of Securities exercised on any Exercise Date, as determined by the Calculation Agent, must not be less than the Minimum Exercise Amount or, if a number in excess of the Minimum Exercise Amount and if an Integral Exercise Amount has been specified in Product Condition 1, an integral multiple of the Integral Exercise Amount. Any purported exercise of Securities in breach of this provision shall be void and of no effect.

3.15. Maximum Exercise Amount

Where a Maximum Exercise Amount has been specified in Product Condition 1, if the Calculation Agent determines that the number of Securities being exercised on any Exercise Date by any Securityholder or a group of Securityholders (whether or not acting in concert) exceeds the Maximum Exercise Amount (a number equal to the Maximum Exercise Amount being the "Quota"), the Issuer may deem the Exercise Date for the first Quota of such Securities, selected on the basis of the chronological order in which the relevant Exercise Notices have been delivered, to be such day and the Exercise Date for each additional Quota of such Securities (and any remaining number thereof), selected in the same way as above, to be each of the succeeding Exercise Dates until all such Securities have been attributed with an Exercise Date, provided, however, that for any such Securities for which the Exercise Date would thereby fall after the last occurring Exercise Date, such last occurring Exercise Date shall be deemed to be the Exercise Date. In any case where more than the Quota of Securities are exercised on the same day by Securityholder(s), the determination of the chronological order of settlement in respect of such Securities shall be at the sole discretion of the Issuer.

All payments will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment and subject to the provisions of General Conditions 6.

If a payment of any amount to be paid to a Securityholder, according to the rules of the relevant Clearing Agent, cannot be made in Settlement Currency, such payment shall be made in the currency principally used by the relevant Clearing Agent for payments to securityholders holding accounts with such Clearing Agent, following a conversion of the relevant amount from the Settlement Currency, using the rate of exchange determined by the Calculation Agent by reference to such sources as the Calculation Agent may reasonably determine to be appropriate.

3.3. General

In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, none of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent and any Agent shall have any responsibility for any errors or omissions in the calculation of any amount payable hereunder or in any other determination pursuant to the provisions hereof. The purchase and/or holding of Securities does not confer on any holder of any Securities any rights (whether in respect of voting, distributions or otherwise) in relation to the Underlying or any asset of any kind whatsoever by reference to which the Cash Settlement Amount is calculated.

3.4. Securityholder Expenses

3.3. General

In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, none of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent and any Agent shall have any responsibility for any errors or omissions in the calculation of any amount payable hereunder or in any other determination pursuant to the provisions hereof. 3.5. Verification

In respect of each Exercise Notice, the relevant Securityholder must provide evidence reasonably satisfactory to the Principal Agent of its holding of such Securities.

3.6. Determinations

Failure properly to complete and deliver an Exercise Notice, including a copy thereof, as provided above, may result in such notice being treated as null and void. Any determination as to whether an Exercise Notice has been properly completed and delivered, including a copy thereof, shall be made by the Principal Agent and shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer and the relevant Securityholder. Subject as set out below, any Exercise Notice so determined to be incomplete or not in proper form or not delivered to the Principal Agent and which is not copied to the relevant Clearing Agent as provided in the Conditions shall be void.

If such Exercise Notice is subsequently corrected to the satisfaction of the Principal Agent, it shall be deemed to be a new Exercise Notice submitted at the time such correction is delivered to the Principal Agent and copied to such Clearing Agent.

The Principal Agent shall use all reasonable endeavours promptly to notify the relevant Securityholder if it has determined that an Exercise Notice is incomplete or not in proper form. In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, neither the Issuer nor the Principal Agent shall be liable to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in connection with such determination or the notification of such determination to a Securityholder.

3.7. Delivery of an Exercise Notice

Neither the Issuer nor the Agents shall under any circumstances be liable for any acts or defaults of any Clearing Agent in relation to the performance of its duties in relation to the Securities.

3.10. Minimum Exercise Amount

Where a Minimum Exercise Amount has been specified in Product Condition 1, the number of Securities exercised on any Exercise Date, as determined by the Calculation Agent, must not be less than the Minimum Exercise Amount or, if a number in excess of the Minimum Exercise Amount and if an Integral Exercise Amount has been specified in Product Condition 1, an integral multiple of the Integral Exercise Amount. Any purported exercise of Securities in breach of this provision shall be void and of no effect.

3.11. Maximum Exercise Amount

Where a Maximum Exercise Amount has been specified in Product Condition 1, if the Calculation Agent determines that the number of Securities being exercised on any Exercise Date by any Securityholder or a group of Securityholders (whether or not acting in concert) exceeds the Maximum Exercise Amount (a number equal to the Maximum Exercise Amount being the "Quota"), the Issuer may deem the Exercise Date for the first Quota of such Securities, selected on the basis of the chronological order in which the relevant Exercise Notices have been delivered, to be such day and the Exercise Date for each additional Quota of such Securities (and any remaining number thereof), selected in the same way as above, to be each of the succeeding Exercise Dates until all such Securities have been attributed with an Exercise Date, provided, however, that for any such Securities for which the Exercise Date would thereby fall after the last occurring Exercise Date, such last occurring Exercise Date shall be deemed to be the Exercise Date. In any case where more than the Quota of Securities are exercised on the same day by Securityholder(s), the determination of the chronological order of settlement in respect of such Securities shall be at the sole discretion of the Issuer.

The Securities are only exercisable on the Exercise Date. Any Security with respect to which no Exercise Notice has been delivered in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 at or prior to 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Exercise Date shall be void. Any Exercise Notice delivered in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 prior to the Exercise Date shall be deemed to have been validly delivered on the Exercise Date.

The Issuer has the unconditional and irrevocable right (the “Redemption Right”), upon delivery of the Redemption Notice (as defined below) by the Issuer, to redeem the Securities in whole, but not in part.

“Redemption Notice” means the irrevocable notice given by the Issuer to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4.1 that the Issuer will exercise its Redemption Right, which notice shall specify the Redemption Date.

3.2. Settlement

Each Security upon due exercise entitles its holder to receive from the Issuer, the Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses to be paid to the account specified in the relevant Exercise Notice for value on the Settlement Date.

If the Issuer exercises its Redemption Right, each Security, upon due delivery of a duly completed Settlement Notice by the Securityholder to the Principal Agent with a copy to the Clearing Agent in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 for Exercise Notices at or prior to 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Redemption Date, entitles its holder to receive from the Issuer the Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses to be paid to the account specified in the relevant Settlement Notice for value on the relevant Settlement Date.

The Settlement Notice shall contain the same specifications as set out in Product Condition 3.4 for an Exercise Notice.

In case of an exercise by the Issuer of its Redemption Right, all references to an “Exercise Notice” in any Product Condition, shall be deemed also to apply for a “Settlement Notice”.

If a duly completed Settlement Notice is not delivered and copied in accordance with Product Condition 3.4 by 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Redemption Date, then the Cash Settlement Amount will, subject as provided below, be paid as soon as practicable after the original Settlement Date (and such date of payment shall be deemed to be, for such Securities, the Settlement Date). If a Settlement Notice has not been delivered and copied with respect to a Security in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 at or prior to 10.00 a.m. (Central European Time) on the thirtieth calendar day after the Redemption Date, then the holder of such Security shall have no right to receive the Cash Settlement Amount in respect of such Security and the Issuer’s obligations in respect of such Security shall be cancelled.

For the avoidance of doubt, in circumstances where either (i) payment of the Cash Settlement Amount is made after the original Settlement Date due to the delivery and/or copying of a Settlement Notice after 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Redemption Date as provided above or (ii) the Issuer's obligations are cancelled as provided above, the relevant Securityholder(s) shall not be entitled to any payment, whether interest or otherwise, as a result thereof.

[If a notice period of more than six months is to be observed, as provided for under the definition of "Redemption Date", insert:

Where the Issuer has exercised the Redemption Right, it shall give notice to the Securityholders not more than 60 days and not less than 30 days before the Redemption Date reminding Securityholders of such exercise of the Redemption Right and the requirement to deliver a Settlement Notice as provided herein.]

Subject as provided below, payment of the Cash Settlement Amount will be made by an Agent on behalf of the Issuer by credit or transfer to the relevant Clearing Agent for the account of the relevant Securityholder which, if an Exercise Notice is required, shall be the account specified in such Exercise Notice, such payment to be made in accordance with the rules of such Clearing Agent.

The Issuer will be discharged of its payment obligations by payment to, or to the order of, the relevant Clearing Agent in respect of the amount so paid. Each of the persons shown in the records of a Clearing Agent as the holder of a particular number of the Securities must look solely to the relevant Clearing Agent for his share of each such payment so made by the Issuer to, or to the order of, the relevant Clearing Agent.

All payments will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment and subject to the provisions of General Conditions 6.

If a payment of any amount to be paid to a Securityholder, according to the rules of the relevant Clearing Agent, cannot be made in Settlement Currency, such payment shall be made in the currency principally used by the relevant Clearing Agent for payments to securityholders holding accounts with such Clearing Agent, following a conversion of the relevant amount from the Settlement Currency, using the rate of exchange determined by the Calculation Agent by reference to such sources as the Calculation Agent may reasonably determine to be appropriate.

3.3. General

In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, none of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent and any Agent shall have any responsibility for any errors or omissions in the calculation of any amount payable hereunder or in any other determination pursuant to the provisions hereof. The purchase and/or holding of Securities does not confer on any holder of any Securities any rights (whether in respect of voting, distributions or otherwise) in relation to the Underlying or any asset of any kind whatsoever by reference to which the Cash Settlement Amount is calculated.

3.4. Exercise Notice

Securities may only be exercised by the delivery of a duly completed Exercise Notice to the Principal Agent, with a copy to the relevant Clearing Agent. The form of the Exercise Notice may be obtained during normal business hours from the specified office of each Agent.

An Exercise Notice shall:

- (8) specify the number of Securities being exercised;
- (9) specify the number of the account with the relevant Clearing Agent to be debited with the Securities being exercised;

- (10) irrevocably instruct and authorise the relevant Clearing Agent to debit on or before the Settlement Date such account with such Securities and authorise the Principal Agent to so direct the relevant Clearing Agent on behalf of the relevant Securityholder;
- (11) specify the number of the account with the relevant Clearing Agent to be credited with the Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses;
- (12) include an undertaking to pay all Securityholder Expenses and an authority to the relevant Clearing Agent to deduct an amount in respect thereof from any Cash Settlement Amount due to such Securityholder and/or to debit a specified account with the relevant Clearing Agent in respect thereof and to pay such Securityholder Expenses and authorise the Principal Agent to so direct the relevant Clearing Agent on behalf of the relevant Securityholder;
- (13) authorise the production of such notice in any applicable administrative or legal proceedings;
- (14) certify that neither the person exercising the Security nor any person on whose behalf the Security is being exercised is a U.S. person or a person within the United States. As used herein, “U.S. person” means (i) an individual who is a resident or a citizen of the United States; (ii) a corporation, partnership or other entity organised in or under the laws of the United States or any political subdivision thereof or which has its principal place of business in the United States; (iii) any estate or trust which is subject to United States federal income taxation regardless of the source of its income; (iv) any trust if a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and if one or more United States trustees have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust; (v) a pension plan for the employees, officers or principals of a corporation, partnership or other entity described in (ii) above; (vi) any entity organised principally for passive investment, 10 per cent. or more of the beneficial interests in which are held by persons described in (i) to (v) above if such entity was formed principally for the purpose of investment by such persons in a commodity pool the operator of which is exempt from certain requirements of Part 4 of the United States Commodity Futures Trading Commission’s regulations by virtue of its participants being non-U.S. persons; or (vii) any other “U.S. person” as such term may be defined in Regulation S under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or in regulations adopted under the United States Commodity Exchange Act.

3.5. Verification

In respect of each Exercise Notice, the relevant Securityholder must provide evidence reasonably satisfactory to the Principal Agent of its holding of such Securities.

3.6. Determinations

Failure properly to complete and deliver an Exercise Notice, including a copy thereof, as provided above, may result in such notice being treated as null and void. Any determination as to whether an Exercise Notice has been properly completed and delivered, including a copy thereof, shall be made by the Principal Agent and shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer and the relevant Securityholder. Subject as set out below, any Exercise Notice so determined to be incomplete or not in proper form or not delivered to the Principal Agent and which is not copied to the relevant Clearing Agent as provided in the Conditions shall be void.

If such Exercise Notice is subsequently corrected to the satisfaction of the Principal Agent, it shall be deemed to be a new Exercise Notice submitted at the time such correction is delivered to the Principal Agent and copied to such Clearing Agent.

The Principal Agent shall use all reasonable endeavours promptly to notify the relevant Securityholder if it has determined that an Exercise Notice is incomplete or not in proper form. In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, neither the Issuer nor the Principal Agent shall be liable to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in connection with such determination or the notification of such determination to a Securityholder.

3.7. Delivery of an Exercise Notice

Delivery of an Exercise Notice shall constitute an irrevocable election by the relevant Securityholder to exercise the Securities specified and no Exercise Notice may be withdrawn after receipt by the Principal Agent as provided above. After the delivery of an Exercise Notice the Securities which are the subject of such notice may not be transferred.

3.8. Securityholder Expenses

In respect of each Security, all Securityholder Expenses in respect thereof shall be for the account of the relevant Securityholder and where any Cash Settlement Amount and/or other amount in respect of a Security is payable no payment shall be made until all Securityholder Expenses in respect thereof have been paid to the satisfaction of the Issuer.

3.9. Exercise and Settlement Risk

Exercise and settlement of the Securities is subject to all applicable laws, regulations and practices in force at all relevant times, and neither the Issuer nor any Agent shall incur any liability whatsoever if it is unable to effect the transactions contemplated, after using all reasonable efforts, as a result of any such laws, regulations or practices. Neither the Issuer nor the Agents shall under any circumstances be liable for any acts or defaults of any Clearing Agent in relation to the performance of its duties in relation to the Securities.

Clause 3 Warrants & Certificates Cash only, Non-European Type, Non-Automatic Exercise, Issuer Redemption Right

Type: Non-European (i.e. American & Bermudan)

Exercise: Non Automatic

3. Exercise and Redemption

3.1. Exercise and Redemption

The Securities are exercisable on any Exercise Date. Any Security with respect to which an Exercise Notice has been delivered after 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on any day shall be deemed to have been exercised on the next following Exercise Date, if any. Any Security with respect to which no Exercise Notice has been delivered in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 at or prior to 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the last occurring Exercise Date shall be void.

The Issuer has the unconditional and irrevocable right (the “Redemption Right”), upon delivery of the Redemption Notice (as defined below) by the Issuer, to redeem the Securities in whole, but not in part.

“Redemption Notice” means the irrevocable notice given by the Issuer to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4.1 that the Issuer will exercise its Redemption Right, which notice shall specify the Redemption Date.

Subject to Product Condition 3.8, the exercise by the Issuer of the Redemption Right shall not preclude Securityholders from exercising Securities on any Exercise Date up to and excluding the Redemption Date or from selling or transferring Securities which sale or transfer, as the case may be, is effective on any day up to but excluding the Redemption Date. In such case, any Exercise Notice delivered to the Principal Agent, or copied to the Clearing Agent, in each case after 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the last Exercise Date prior to the Redemption Date shall be void.

3.2. Settlement

Each Security upon due exercise entitles its holder to receive from the Issuer, the Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses to be paid to the account specified in the relevant Exercise Notice for value on the relevant Settlement Date.

If the Issuer exercises its Redemption Right, each Security, upon due delivery of a duly completed Settlement Notice by the Securityholder to the Principal Agent with a copy to the Clearing Agent in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 for Exercise Notices at or prior to 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Redemption Date, entitles its holder to receive from the Issuer the Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses to be paid to the account specified in the relevant Settlement Notice for value on the relevant Settlement Date.

The Settlement Notice shall contain the same specifications as set out in Product Condition 3.4 for an Exercise Notice.

In case of an exercise by the Issuer of its Redemption Right, all references to an “Exercise Notice” in any Product Condition, shall be deemed also to apply for a “Settlement Notice”.

If a duly completed Settlement Notice is not delivered and copied in accordance with Product Condition 3.4 by 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Redemption Date, then the Cash Settlement Amount will, subject as provided below, be paid as soon as practicable after the original Settlement Date (and such date of payment shall be deemed to be, for such Securities, the Settlement Date). If a Settlement Notice has not been delivered and copied with respect to a Security in the manner set out in Product Condition 3.4 at or prior to 10.00 a.m. (Central European Time) on the thirtieth calendar day after the Redemption Date, then the holder of such Security shall have no right to receive the Cash Settlement Amount in respect of such Security and the Issuer's obligations in respect of such Security shall be cancelled.

For the avoidance of doubt, in circumstances where either (i) payment of the Cash Settlement Amount is made after the original Settlement Date due to the delivery and/or copying of a Settlement Notice after 10.00 a.m. Central European Time on the Redemption Date as provided above or (ii) the Issuer's obligations are cancelled as provided above, the relevant Securityholder(s) shall not be entitled to any payment, whether interest or otherwise, as a result thereof.

[If a notice period of more than six months is to be observed, as provided for under the definition of "Redemption Date", insert:

Where the Issuer has exercised the Redemption Right, it shall give notice to the Securityholders not more than 60 days and not less than 30 days before the Redemption Date reminding Securityholders of such exercise of the Redemption Right and the requirement to deliver a Settlement Notice as provided herein.]

Subject as provided below, payment of the Cash Settlement Amount will be made by an Agent on behalf of the Issuer by credit or transfer to the relevant Clearing Agent for the account of the relevant Securityholder which, if an Exercise Notice is required, shall be the account specified in such Exercise Notice, such payment to be made in accordance with the rules of such Clearing Agent.

The Issuer will be discharged of its payment obligations by payment to, or to the order of, the relevant Clearing Agent in respect of the amount so paid. Each of the persons shown in the records of a Clearing Agent as the holder of a particular number of the Securities must look solely to the relevant Clearing Agent for his share of each such payment so made by the Issuer to, or to the order of, the relevant Clearing Agent.

All payments will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment and subject to the provisions of General Conditions 6.

If a payment of any amount to be paid to a Securityholder, according to the rules of the relevant Clearing Agent, cannot be made in Settlement Currency, such payment shall be made in the currency principally used by the relevant Clearing Agent for payments to securityholders holding accounts with such Clearing Agent, following a conversion of the relevant amount from the Settlement Currency, using the rate of exchange determined by the Calculation Agent by reference to such sources as the Calculation Agent may reasonably determine to be appropriate.

3.3. General

In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, none of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent and any Agent shall have any responsibility for any errors or omissions in the calculation of any amount payable hereunder or in any other determination pursuant to the provisions hereof. The purchase and/or holding of Securities does not confer on any holder of any Securities any rights (whether in respect of voting, distributions or otherwise) in relation to the Underlying or any asset of any kind whatsoever by reference to which the Cash Settlement Amount is calculated.

3.4. Exercise Notice

Securities may only be exercised by the delivery of a duly completed Exercise Notice to the Principal Agent, with a copy to the relevant Clearing Agent. The form of the Exercise Notice may be obtained during normal business hours from the specified office of each Agent.

An Exercise Notice shall:

- (1) specify the number of Securities being exercised;
- (8) specify the number of the account with the relevant Clearing Agent to be debited with the Securities being exercised;
- (9) irrevocably instruct and authorise the relevant Clearing Agent to debit on or before the Settlement Date such account with such Securities and authorise the Principal Agent to so direct the relevant Clearing Agent on behalf of the relevant Securityholder;
- (10) specify the number of the account with the relevant Clearing Agent to be credited with the Cash Settlement Amount less any Securityholder Expenses;
- (11) include an undertaking to pay all Securityholder Expenses and an authority to the relevant Clearing Agent to deduct an amount in respect thereof from any Cash Settlement Amount due to such Securityholder and/or to debit a specified account with the relevant Clearing Agent in respect thereof and to pay such Securityholder Expenses and authorise the Principal Agent to so direct the relevant Clearing Agent on behalf of the relevant Securityholder;
- (12) authorise the production of such notice in any applicable administrative or legal proceedings;
- (13) certify that neither the person exercising the Security nor any person on whose behalf the Security is being exercised is a U.S. person or a person within the United States. As used herein, "U.S. person" means (i) an individual who is a resident or a citizen of the United States; (ii) a corporation, partnership or other entity organised in or under the laws of the United States or any political subdivision thereof or which has its principal place of business in the United States; (iii) any estate or trust which is subject to United States federal income taxation regardless of the source of its income; (iv) any trust if a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and if one or more United States trustees have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust; (v) a pension plan for the employees, officers or principals of a corporation, partnership or other entity described in (ii) above; (vi) any entity organised principally for passive investment, 10 per cent. or more of the beneficial interests in which are held by persons described in (i) to (v) above if such entity was formed principally for the purpose of investment by such persons in a commodity pool the operator of which is exempt from certain requirements of Part 4 of the United States Commodity Futures Trading Commission's regulations by virtue of its participants being non-U.S. persons; or (vii) any other "U.S. person" as such term may be defined in Regulation S under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or in regulations adopted under the United States Commodity Exchange Act.

3.5. Verification

In respect of each Exercise Notice, the relevant Securityholder must provide evidence reasonably satisfactory to the Principal Agent of its holding of such Securities.

3.6. Determinations

Failure properly to complete and deliver an Exercise Notice, including a copy thereof, as provided above, may result in such notice being treated as null and void. Any determination as to whether an Exercise Notice has been properly completed and delivered, including a copy thereof, shall be made by the Principal Agent and shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer and the relevant Securityholder. Subject as set out below, any Exercise Notice so determined to be incomplete or not in proper form or not delivered to the Principal Agent and which is not copied to the relevant Clearing Agent as provided in the Conditions shall be void.

If such Exercise Notice is subsequently corrected to the satisfaction of the Principal Agent, it shall be deemed to be a new Exercise Notice submitted at the time such correction is delivered to the Principal Agent and copied to such Clearing Agent.

The Principal Agent shall use all reasonable endeavours promptly to notify the relevant Securityholder if it has determined that an Exercise Notice is incomplete or not in proper form. In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, neither the Issuer nor the Principal Agent shall be liable to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in connection with such determination or the notification of such determination to a Securityholder.

3.7. Delivery of an Exercise Notice

Delivery of an Exercise Notice shall constitute an irrevocable election by the relevant Securityholder to exercise the Securities specified and no Exercise Notice may be withdrawn after receipt by the Principal Agent as provided above. After the delivery of an Exercise Notice the Securities which are the subject of such notice may not be transferred.

3.8. Securityholder Expenses

In respect of each Security, all Securityholder Expenses in respect thereof shall be for the account of the relevant Securityholder and where any Cash Settlement Amount and/or other amount in respect of a Security is payable no payment shall be made until all Securityholder Expenses in respect thereof have been paid to the satisfaction of the Issuer.

3.9. Exercise and Settlement Risk

Exercise and settlement of the Securities is subject to all applicable laws, regulations and practices in force at all relevant times, and neither the Issuer nor any Agent shall incur any liability whatsoever if it is unable to effect the transactions contemplated, after using all reasonable efforts, as a result of any such laws, regulations or practices. Neither the Issuer nor the Agents shall under any circumstances be liable for any acts or defaults of any Clearing Agent in relation to the performance of its duties in relation to the Securities.

3.10. Minimum Exercise Amount

Where a Minimum Exercise Amount has been specified in Product Condition 1, the number of Securities exercised on any Exercise Date, as determined by the Calculation Agent, must not be less than the Minimum Exercise Amount or, if a number in excess of the Minimum Exercise Amount and if an Integral Exercise Amount has been specified in Product Condition 1, an integral multiple of the Integral Exercise Amount. Any purported exercise of Securities in breach of this provision shall be void and of no effect.

3.11. Maximum Exercise Amount

Where a Maximum Exercise Amount has been specified in Product Condition 1, if the Calculation Agent determines that the number of Securities being exercised on any Exercise Date by any Securityholder or a group of Securityholders (whether or not acting in concert) exceeds the Maximum Exercise Amount (a number equal to the Maximum Exercise Amount being the "Quota"), the Issuer may deem the Exercise Date for the first Quota of such Securities, selected on the basis of the chronological order in which the relevant Exercise Notices have been delivered, to be such day and the Exercise Date for each additional Quota of such Securities (and any remaining number thereof), selected in the same way as above, to be each of the succeeding Exercise Dates until all such Securities have been attributed with an Exercise Date, provided, however, that for any such Securities for which the Exercise Date would thereby fall after the last occurring Exercise Date, such last occurring Exercise Date shall be deemed to be the Exercise Date. In any case where more than the Quota of Securities are exercised on the same day by Securityholder(s), the determination of the chronological order of settlement in respect of such Securities shall be at the sole discretion of the Issuer.

Clause 3 Notes Cash Only

3.9. Redemption and Settlement Risk

3.7. Delivery of the Physical Settlement Amount

If Physical Settlement applies, the delivery of the Physical Settlement Amount shall be made at the risk of the relevant Securityholder and shall be transferred to the Clearing Agent specified in the Product Conditions for delivery to the relevant Securityholder;

PROVIDED THAT the Issuer determines in its sole discretion that delivery of all or any of the Physical Settlement Units, as the case may be, is impractical, illegal or unduly onerous to the Issuer, then the Issuer shall have the option to deliver the relevant Physical Settlement Units in such other commercially reasonable manner as the Issuer shall determine to be appropriate for such delivery and shall notify to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4. The Physical Settlement Amount shall be evidenced in such manner as the Issuer determines to be customary for the relevant Physical Settlement Units. The Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4 of any determination made by it pursuant to paragraph 4.1.3.1 or 4.1.3.2 below.

4.1.3.1 If an Index is:

4.1.3.1.3 not calculated and announced by the relevant Index Sponsor but is calculated and published by a successor sponsor (the "Successor Sponsor") acceptable to the Calculation Agent; or

4.1.3.2.1 on or prior to any date with respect to which the Calculation Agent is required by the Product Conditions to determine the level of an Index, the relevant Index Sponsor or, if applicable, the Successor Sponsor (i) makes or announces that it will make a material change in the formula for or the method of calculating that Index or in any other way materially modifies that Index (other than a modification prescribed in that formula or method to maintain that Index in the event of changes in constituent stock and capitalisation and other routine events) (an "Index Modification") or (ii) permanently cancels that Index (an "Index Cancellation") or (iii) fails to calculate and announce that Index (an "Index Disruption") and, in each case, Product Condition 4.1.3.1.1 or 4.1.3.1.2 does not apply, then the Calculation Agent shall substitute that Index (the "Disrupted Index") in the Basket with a Replacement Basket Constituent (as defined below) on the effective date of such event. Accordingly:

- (i.) the Replacement Basket Constituent and its sponsor will be deemed a "Basket Constituent" and a "Index Sponsor" respectively,
- (ii.) the Calculation Agent will adjust the Coupon Reference Level for such Replacement Basket Constituent so that the ratio of the Specified Spot Price for that Replacement Basket Constituent to the Coupon Reference Level for the Replacement Basket Constituent equals the ratio of the Specified Spot Price for the Disrupted Index to the Coupon Reference Level for the Disrupted Share immediately prior to the occurrence of such event, and, if necessary, the Calculation Agent will adjust any other relevant terms accordingly;

4.1.3 Potential Adjustment Events

Following the declaration by a Share Company of the terms of any Potential Adjustment Event, the Calculation Agent will determine whether such Potential Adjustment Event has a dilutive or concentrative or other effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Share and, if so, will (1) make the corresponding adjustment, if any, to any one or more of the Conditions as the Calculation Agent determines appropriate to account for that dilutive or concentrative or other effect; and (2) determine the effective date of that adjustment. The Calculation Agent may, but need not, determine the appropriate adjustment by reference to the adjustment in respect of such Potential Adjustment Event made by a Related Exchange to options contracts or futures contracts on the relevant Share traded on that Related Exchange.

Any adjustment or replacement made to account for a Potential Adjustment Event may take into account, as the Calculation Agent deems appropriate, any tax, duty, withholding, deduction or other charge whatsoever (including but not limited to a change in the tax consequences) for the Issuer and/or, if applicable, any Affiliate as a result of the Potential Adjustment Event. Such change in tax consequences may include, but are not limited to, any changes resulting from any hedging arrangements carried out by the Issuer and/or, if applicable, any Affiliate in relation to the Securities.

adjustment made to the Conditions and giving brief details of the Potential Adjustment Event.

The Calculation Agent may, but need not, determine the appropriate adjustment by reference to the adjustment in respect of the Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-Listing, Nationalisation or Insolvency made by an Related Exchange to options contracts or futures contracts on the Share traded on that Related Exchange any adjustment or replacement made to account for a Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-Listing, Nationalisation or Insolvency may take into account, as the Calculation Agent deems appropriate, any tax, duty, withholding, deduction or other change whatsoever (including but not limited to a change in the tax consequences) for the Issuer and/or, if applicable, any Affiliates as a result of the Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-Listing, Nationalisation or Insolvency. Upon the occurrence of a Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-Listing, Nationalisation or Insolvency, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4 stating the occurrence of the Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-Listing, Nationalisation or Insolvency, as the case may be, giving details thereof and the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto. However, Securityholders should be aware that there may necessarily be some delay between the time at which any of the above events occurs and the time at which it is reported to Securityholders.

"De-Listing" means, for any Share for which the Reference Source is an exchange or a trading system or a quotation system, the Reference Source announces that pursuant to the rules of such Reference Source, such Share ceases (or will cease) to be listed, traded or publicly quoted on the Reference Source for any reason (other than a Merger Event or Tender Offer) and is not immediately re-listed, re-traded or re-

4.1.3 Potential Adjustment Events

Following the declaration by a Share Company of the terms of any Potential Adjustment Event, the Calculation Agent will determine whether such Potential Adjustment Event has a dilutive or concentrative or other effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Share and, if so, will (1) make the corresponding adjustment, if any, to any one or more of the Conditions as the Calculation Agent determines appropriate to account for that dilutive or concentrative or other effect; and (2) determine the effective date of that adjustment. The Calculation Agent may, but need not, determine the appropriate adjustment by reference to the adjustment in respect of such Potential Adjustment Event made by a Related Exchange to options contracts or futures contracts on the relevant Share traded on that Related Exchange.

Any adjustment or replacement made to account for a Potential Adjustment Event may take into account, as the Calculation Agent deems appropriate, any tax, duty, withholding, deduction or other change whatsoever (including but not limited to a change in the tax consequences) for the Issuer and/or, if applicable, any Affiliate as a result of the Potential Adjustment Event. Such change in tax consequences may include, but are not limited to, any changes resulting from any hedging arrangements carried out by the Issuer and/or, if applicable, any Affiliate in relation to the Securities. Upon making any such adjustment, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4, stating the adjustment made to the Conditions and giving brief details of the Potential Adjustment Event.

"Potential Adjustment Event" means any of the following:

- 4.1.3.1 a subdivision, consolidation or reclassification of relevant Shares (unless it has resulted in a Merger Event) or a free distribution or dividend of any such Shares to existing holders by way of bonus, capitalisation or similar issue;
- 4.1.3.2 a distribution, issue or dividend to existing holders of the relevant Shares of (1) such Shares, or (2) other share capital or securities granting the right to payment of dividends and/or the proceeds of liquidation of the Share Company equally or proportionately with such payments to holders of such Shares, or (3) share capital or other securities of another issuer as a result of a "spin-off" or other similar transaction, or (4) any other type of securities, rights or warrants or other assets, in any case for payment (in cash or in other consideration) at less than the prevailing market price as determined by the Calculation Agent;

- 4.1.3.6 in respect of a Share Company, an event that results in any shareholder rights being distributed, or becoming separated from shares of common stock or other shares of the capital stock of such Share Company pursuant to a shareholder rights plan or arrangement directed against hostile takeovers that provides upon the occurrence of certain events for a distribution of preferred stock, warrants, debt instruments or stock rights at a price below their market value as determined by the Calculation Agent;
- 4.1.3.7 any redemption of shareholder rights referred to in 4.1.3.6 above; and
- 4.1.3.8 any other event that may have a diluting or concentrative or other effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Shares.

4.1.4. Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-Listing, Nationalisation and Insolvency

If a De-Listing occurs in relation to a Share (such Share being a "Disrupted Share"), the Calculation Agent shall substitute the Disrupted Share in the Basket with a Replacement Basket Constituent (as defined below) on the effective date for such De-Listing (the "De-Listing Date"), whereupon:

- (i.) the Replacement Basket Constituent and its issuer will be deemed a "Basket Constituent" and a "Share Company" respectively,
- (ii.) the Calculation Agent will adjust the Coupon Reference Level for such Replacement Basket Constituent so that the ratio of the Specified Spot Price for that Replacement Basket Constituent to the Coupon Reference Level for the Replacement Basket Constituent equals the ratio of the Specified Spot

Price for the Disrupted Share to the Coupon Reference Level for the Disrupted Share immediately prior to the De-Listing Date, and

- (iii.) if necessary, the Calculation Agent will adjust any other relevant terms accordingly.

If a Share-for-Share Merger Event or a Share-for-Combined Merger Event occurs in relation to a Share (such Share being a “Disrupted Share”) and the Issuer of the New Basket Constituents is not already a Share Company, then, on or after the relevant Merger Date, the Calculation Agent shall adjust the Basket to include the relevant quantity of the New Basket Constituents to which a holder of the Share immediately prior to the occurrence of the Merger Event would be entitled upon consummation of the Merger Event. Accordingly:

- (i.) the New Basket Constituent and its issuer will be deemed a "Basket Constituent" and a "Share Company" respectively
- (ii.) the Calculation Agent will adjust the Coupon Reference Level for such New Basket Constituent so that the ratio of the Specified Spot Price for that New Basket Constituent to the Coupon Reference Level for the New Basket Constituent equals the ratio of the Specified Spot Price for the Disrupted Share to the Coupon Reference Level for the Disrupted Share immediately prior to the occurrence of the Merger Event, and
- (iii.) if necessary, the Calculation Agent will adjust any other relevant terms accordingly.

If a Share-for-Other Merger Event, or a Share-for-Share Merger Event or a Share-for-Combined Merger Event where the issuer of the New Basket Constituents is a Share Company, occurs in relation to a Share (such Share being a “Disrupted Share”), then, on or after the relevant Merger Date, the Calculation Agent shall adjust the Basket by substituting the Disrupted Share in the Basket with a Replacement Share (as defined below) upon consummation of the Merger Event. Accordingly:

- (i.) the Replacement Basket Constituent and its issuer will be deemed a "Basket Constituent" and a "Share Company" respectively,
- (ii.) the Calculation Agent will adjust the Coupon Reference Level for such Replacement Basket Constituent so that the ratio of the Specified Spot Price for that Replacement Basket Constituent to the Coupon Reference Level for the Replacement Basket Constituent equals the ratio of the Specified Spot Price for the Disrupted Share to the Coupon Reference Level for the Disrupted Share immediately prior to the occurrence of the Merger Event, and
- (iii.) if necessary, the Calculation Agent will adjust any other relevant terms accordingly;

If a Nationalisation or Insolvency occurs in relation to a Share (such Share being a “Disrupted Share”), the Calculation Agent shall substitute the Disrupted Share in the Basket with a Replacement Basket Constituent (as defined below) on the effective date of such event. Accordingly:

- (iii.) the Replacement Basket Constituent and its issuer will be deemed a "Basket Constituent" and a "Share Company" respectively,
- (iv.) the Calculation Agent will adjust the Coupon Reference Level for such Replacement Basket Constituent so that the ratio of the Specified Spot Price for that Replacement Basket Constituent to the Coupon Reference Level for the Replacement Basket Constituent equals the ratio of the Specified Spot Price for the Disrupted Share to the Coupon Reference Level for the Disrupted

Share immediately prior to the occurrence of such event, and, if necessary, the Calculation Agent will adjust any other relevant terms accordingly;

Upon the occurrence of a Merger Event, De-Listing, Nationalisation or Insolvency, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4 stating the occurrence of the Merger Event, De-Listing, Nationalisation or Insolvency, as the case may be, giving details thereof and the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto. However, Securityholders should be aware that there may necessarily be some delay between the time at which any of the above events occur and the time at which it is notified to Securityholders.

4.1.3 Potential Adjustment Events

Following the declaration by a Share Company of the terms of any Potential Adjustment Event, the Calculation Agent will determine whether such Potential Adjustment Event has a dilutive or concentrative or other effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Share and, if so, will (1) make the corresponding adjustment, if any, to any one or more of the Conditions as the Calculation Agent determines appropriate to account for that dilutive or concentrative or other effect; and (2) determine the effective date of that adjustment. The Calculation Agent may, but need not, determine the appropriate adjustment by reference to the adjustment in respect of such Potential Adjustment Event made by a Related Exchange to options contracts or futures contracts on the relevant Share traded on that Related Exchange.

Any adjustment or replacement made to account for a Potential Adjustment Event may take into account, as the Calculation Agent deems appropriate, any tax, duty, withholding, deduction or other change whatsoever (including but not limited to a change in the tax consequences) for the Issuer and/or, if applicable, any Affiliate as a result of the Potential Adjustment Event. Such change in tax consequences may include, but are not limited to, any changes resulting from any hedging arrangements carried out by the Issuer and/or, if applicable, any Affiliate in relation to the Securities.

Upon making any such adjustment, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4, stating the adjustment made to the Conditions and giving brief details of the Potential Adjustment Event.

"Potential Adjustment Event" means any of the following:

- 4.1.3.6 in respect of a Share Company, an event that results in any shareholder rights being distributed, or becoming separated from shares of common stock or other shares of the capital stock of such Share Company pursuant to a shareholder rights plan or arrangement directed against hostile takeovers that provides upon the occurrence of certain events for a distribution of preferred stock, warrants, debt instruments or stock rights at a price below their market value as determined by the Calculation Agent;
- 4.1.3.7 any redemption of shareholder rights referred to in 4.1.3.6 above; and
- 4.1.3.8 any other event that may have a diluting or concentrative or other effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Shares.

4.1.4. Merger Event, Tender Offer, De-Listing, Nationalisation and Insolvency

- (A) If a De-Listing occurs in relation to a Share (such Share being a "Disrupted Share"), the Calculation Agent shall substitute the Disrupted Share in the Basket with a Replacement Basket Constituent (as defined below) on the effective date for such De-Listing as determined by the Calculation Agent (the "Replacement Date"), whereupon:
 - (i) the Replacement Basket Constituent and its issuer will be deemed a "Basket Constituent" and a "Share Company" respectively; and
 - (ii) the Calculation Agent will adjust such other provisions of the Conditions as it deems necessary.
- (B) If a Share-for-Share Merger Event or a Share-for-Combined Merger Event or a Share-for-Share Tender Offer or a Share-for-Combined Tender Offer occurs in relation to a Share other than a Reverse Merger (such Share being a “Disrupted Share”) and the issuer of the New Basket Constituent is not already a Share Company, then provided that the New Basket Constituents are, as of the Merger Date or Tender Date, promptly scheduled to be, (a) publicly quoted, traded or listed on an exchange or quotation system acceptable to the Calculation Agent and (b) not subject to any currency exchange controls, trading restrictions or other trading limitations the Calculation Agent shall substitute the Disrupted Share in the Basket with the New Basket Constituent on the Merger Date or Tender Date, as the case may be, as determined by the Calculation Agent (in each case the “Replacement Date”), whereupon:

- (i) the New Basket Constituent and its issuer will be deemed a "Basket Constituent" and a "Share Company" respectively; and
- (ii) the Calculation Agent will adjust such other provisions of the Conditions as it deems necessary.

(C) If a Merger Event or a Tender Offer occurs, which Merger Event or Tender Offer, as the case may be, does not fall within the substitution provisions of (B) above, in relation to a Share (such Share being a “Disrupted Share”), then the Calculation Agent shall substitute the Disrupted Share in the Basket with a Replacement Basket Constituent (as defined below) on the Merger Date or Tender Date, as the case may be, as determined by the Calculation Agent (in each case, the “Replacement Date”), whereupon:

- (i) the Replacement Basket Constituent and its issuer will be deemed a "Basket Constituent" and a "Share Company" respectively; and
- (ii) the Calculation Agent will adjust such other provisions of the Conditions as it deems necessary, provided that, in the case of a Reverse Merger, the Calculation Agent may at its discretion elect instead to make such adjustments to the Conditions as it deems appropriate to account for the Reverse Merger and determine the effective date of those adjustments.

(D) If a Nationalisation or Insolvency occurs in relation to a Share (such Share being a “Disrupted Share”), the Calculation Agent shall substitute the Disrupted Share in the Basket with a Replacement Basket Constituent (as defined below) on the effective date of such event as determined by the Calculation Agent (the “Replacement Date”), whereupon:

- (i) the Replacement Basket Constituent and its issuer will be deemed a "Basket Constituent" and a "Share Company" respectively; and
- (ii) the Calculation Agent will adjust such other provisions of the Conditions as it deems necessary.

Upon the occurrence of a De-Listing, Merger Event, Tender Offer Nationalisation or Insolvency, the Calculation Agent will determine the Preceding Reference Level (as defined in "Performance Factor", in Product Condition 1) for such Replacement Basket Constituent or such New Basket Constituent as:

$$A \times \frac{B}{C}$$

where:

A equals the Reference Level for the Replacement Basket Constituent or the New Basket Constituent, as the case may be, on the Replacement Date;

B equals the Reference Level for the Disrupted Share on (i) in respect of the first Observation Date, the Initial Valuation Date; and (ii) in respect of each Observation Date other than the first Observation Date, [●] [the immediately preceding Observation Date]; and

C equals the Reference Level for the Disrupted Share on the Replacement Date, all subject as provided in the definition of Reference Level in Product Condition 1.

The determination of the Preceding Reference Level shall be used in the determination of the Performance Factor of such Replacement Basket Constituent or New Basket Constituent as a Basket Constituent pursuant to the provisions of Product Condition 1.

Upon the occurrence of a Merger Event, De-Listing, Tender Offer, Nationalisation or Insolvency, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4 stating the occurrence of the Merger Event, De-Listing, Tender Offer, Nationalisation or Insolvency, as the case may be, giving details thereof and the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto. However, Securityholders should be aware that there may necessarily be some delay between the time at which any of the above events occur and the time at which it is notified to Securityholders.

“Replacement Basket Constituent” means[, in the determination of the Calculation Agent in its sole discretion, the share with the highest free-float capitalisation in the same Industry Sector and the same Region as that of the Disrupted Share on the relevant Replacement Date, such free-float capitalisation as announced by MSCI or, if not announced, as determined by the calculation Agent in a comparable manner to MSCI, provided that such share is not a Share.] [●]

In respect of each Merger Event or Tender Offer, the following terms have the meanings given below:

- (i) "Share-for-Share" means, (i) in respect of a Merger Event or Tender Offer, that the consideration for the relevant Share consists (or, at the option of the holder of such Shares, may consist) solely of New Basket Constituents and (ii) a Reverse Merger, and "Share-for-Share Merger Event" and "Share-for-Share Tender Offer" shall be construed accordingly;

The Securities constitute unsubordinated, unsecured contractual obligations of the Issuer and rank pari passu in all respects with each other.

2. Early Exercise, Redemption or Termination for Extraordinary Reasons, Illegality and Force Majeure

If the Issuer determines that, for reasons beyond its control, the performance of its obligations under the Securities has become illegal or impractical in whole or in part for any reason, or the Issuer determines that, for reasons beyond its control, it is no longer legal or practical for it to maintain its hedging arrangements with respect to the Securities for any reason, the Issuer may at its discretion and without obligation deem exercised, redeem or terminate the Securities early by giving notice to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4.

Should any one or more of the provisions contained in the Conditions be or become invalid, the validity of the remaining provisions shall not in any way be affected thereby.

If the Issuer exercises, redeems or terminates the Securities early, then the Issuer will, if and to the extent permitted by applicable law, pay an amount to each Securityholder in respect of each Security held by such holder equal to the fair market value of a Security notwithstanding such illegality or impracticality less the cost to the Issuer of unwinding any underlying related hedging arrangements, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in its sole and absolute discretion. Payment will be made in such manner as shall be notified to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4.

3. Purchases

The Issuer may, but is not obliged to, at any time purchase Securities at any price in the open market or by tender or private agreement. Any Securities so purchased may be held or resold or surrendered for cancellation.

4. Notices

4.1. Validity

Notices to the Securityholders will be valid if delivered to the Clearing Agent(s) for communication by the Clearing Agent(s) to the Securityholders provided that so long as the Securities are listed on any stock exchange or publicly offered in any jurisdiction, any notice to the Securityholders shall be published in accordance with the rules and regulations of each such stock exchange and each such jurisdiction. In the Federal Republic of Germany it is expected that any notices to the Securityholders will normally be published in the Börsen-Zeitung.

4.2. Delivery

Notices given pursuant to 4.1 above will become effective on, if delivered to the Clearing Agent(s), the third day after such delivery to the Clearing Agent or all the Clearing Agents (if more than one) or, if published (whether or not also so given), on the date of such publication, or, if published more than once, on the date of the first such publication or, if required to be published in more than one newspaper, on the date of the first such publication in all the required newspapers.

5. Agents, Calculation Agent, Determinations and Modifications

5.1. Agents

The Issuer reserves the right at any time to vary or terminate the appointment of any Agent and to appoint additional Agents, provided that no termination of appointment of the Principal Agent shall become effective until a replacement Principal Agent shall have been appointed and provided that, if and to the extent that any of the Securities are listed on any stock exchange or publicly offered in any jurisdiction, there shall be an Agent having a specified office in each country if so required by the rules and regulations of each such stock exchange and the securities regulators in each such jurisdiction. Notice of any appointment, or termination of appointment, or any change in the specified office, of any Agent will be given to Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4. Each Agent acts solely as agent of the Issuer and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Securityholders. Any calculations or determinations in respect of the Securities made by an Agent shall (save in the case of manifest error) be final, conclusive and binding on the Securityholders.

5.2. Calculation Agent

The Issuer shall undertake the duties of calculation agent (the “Calculation Agent” which expression shall include any successor calculation agent) in respect of the Securities unless the Issuer decides to appoint a successor Calculation Agent in accordance with the provisions below.

The Issuer reserves the right at any time to appoint another institution as the Calculation Agent, provided that no termination of appointment of the existing Calculation Agent shall become effective until a replacement Calculation Agent shall have been appointed. Notice of any such termination or appointment will be given to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4.

The Calculation Agent (except where it is the Issuer) acts solely as agent of the Issuer and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Securityholders. Any calculations or determinations in respect of the Securities made by the Calculation Agent shall (save in the case of manifest error) be final, conclusive and binding on the Securityholders.

The Calculation Agent may, with the consent of the Issuer, delegate any of its obligations and functions to a third party as it deems appropriate.

5.3. Determinations by the Issuer

Any determination made by the Issuer pursuant to the Conditions shall (save in the case of manifest error) be final, conclusive and binding on the Securityholders.

5.4. Modifications

The Issuer may, to the extent permitted by applicable law, modify the Conditions without the consent of the Securityholders or any of them in any manner which the Issuer may deem reasonably necessary in order to maintain or preserve the intended commercial purpose of the Conditions if such modification does not materially adversely affect the interests of the Securityholders or is of a formal, minor or technical nature or intended to correct a manifest error or to cure, correct or supplement any defective provision contained therein. Notice of any such modification will be given to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4 but failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such modification.

6. Taxation

In relation to each Security the relevant Securityholder shall pay all Securityholder Expenses as provided in the Product Conditions. All payments or, as the case may be, deliveries in respect of the Securities will be subject in all cases to all applicable fiscal and other laws and regulations (including, where applicable, laws requiring the deduction or withholding for, or on account of, any tax, duty or other charge whatsoever). The Issuer shall not be liable for or otherwise obliged to pay, and the relevant Securityholder shall be liable for and/or pay, any tax, duty, charge, withholding or other payment whatsoever which may arise as a result of, or in connection with, the ownership, any transfer, any payment and/or any delivery in respect of the Securities held by such Securityholder. The Issuer shall have the right, but shall not be obliged, to withhold or deduct from any amount payable or, as the case may be, any delivery due to the Securityholder such amount or portion as shall be necessary to account for or to pay any such tax, duty, charge, withholding or other payment. Each Securityholder shall indemnify the Issuer against any loss, cost or other liability whatsoever sustained or incurred by the Issuer in respect of any such tax, duty, charge, withholding or other payment as referred to above in respect of the Securities of such holder.

7. Further Issues

The Issuer shall be at liberty from time to time without the consent of Securityholders or any of them to create and issue further securities so as to be consolidated and form a single series with the Securities.

8. Substitution

1. 8.1. Substitution of Issuer

The Issuer, or any previous substituted company, may at any time, without the consent of the Securityholders substitute for itself as principal obligor under the Securities any company (the “Substitute”), being any subsidiary or affiliate of the Issuer, subject to:

- 8.1.1. the obligations of the Substitute under the Securities being guaranteed by Deutsche Bank AG (unless it is the Substitute);
- 8.1.2. all actions, conditions and things required to be taken, fulfilled and done (including the obtaining of any necessary consents) to ensure that the Securities represent legal, valid and binding obligations of the Substitute having been taken, fulfilled and done and being in full force and effect;
- 8.1.3. the Issuer shall have given at least 30 days’ prior notice of the date of such substitution to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4.

8.2. Substitution of Office

The Issuer shall have the right upon notice to Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4 to change the office through which it is acting for the purpose of the Securities, the date of such change to be specified in such notice provided that no change can take place prior to the giving of such notice.

9. Replacement of Securities

Should any Security be lost, stolen, mutilated, defaced or destroyed, it may be replaced at the specified office of the Principal Agent (or such other place of which notice shall have been given in accordance with General Condition 4) upon payment by the claimant of the expenses incurred in connection therewith and on such terms as to evidence and as to indemnity as the Issuer may reasonably require. Mutilated or defaced Securities must be surrendered before replacements will be issued

10. Adjustments for European Monetary Union

10.1. Redenomination

The Issuer may, without the consent of the Securityholders, on giving notice to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4 elect that, with effect from the Adjustment Date specified in the notice, certain terms of the Securities shall be redenominated in euro;

The election will have effect as follows:

10.1.1. where the Settlement Currency is the National Currency Unit of a country which is participating in the third stage of European Economic and Monetary Union, whether as from 1999 or after such date, such Settlement Currency shall be deemed to be an amount of euro converted from the original Settlement Currency into euro at the Established Rate, subject to such provisions (if any) as to rounding as the Issuer may decide and as may be specified in the notice, and after the Adjustment Date, all payments in respect of the Securities will be made solely in euro as though references in the Securities to the Settlement Currency were to euro;

10.1.2. where the Conditions contain a rate of exchange or any of the Conditions are expressed in a currency (the "Original Currency") of a country which is participating in the third stage of European Economic and Monetary Union, whether as from 1999 or after such date, such rate of exchange and/or any other terms of the Conditions shall be deemed to be expressed in or, in the case of a rate of exchange, converted for or, as the case may be into, euro at the Established Rate; and

10.1.3. such other changes shall be made to the Conditions as the Issuer may decide to conform them to conventions then applicable to instruments expressed in euro.

10.2. Adjustment to Conditions

The Issuer may, without the consent of the Securityholders, on giving notice to the Securityholders in accordance with General Condition 4 make such adjustments to the Conditions as the Issuer may determine to be appropriate to account for the effect of the third stage of European Economic and Monetary Union pursuant to the Treaty on the Conditions.

10.3. Euro Conversion Costs, etc.

Notwithstanding Condition 10.1 and/or Condition 10.2, none of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent and any Agent shall be liable to any Securityholder or other person for any commissions, costs, losses or expenses in relation to or resulting from the transfer of euro or any currency conversion or rounding effected in connection therewith.

10.4. Definitions
