U.S. Federal Income Tax Matters:	New U.S. federal income tax laws were recently enacted by The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act. The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act provides for significant changes to U.S. tax law, some of which could have an adverse impact on the business, financial condition and results of operations of the Issuer or its affiliates, or an adverse impact on investors. The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act is complex and new (and it lacks administrative guidance); thus, the impact of certain aspects of its provisions on the Issuer or its affiliates, or on investors, is currently unclear. In addition, the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act added Section 451 to the Code. Accrual method United States persons (as defined in the Prospectus Supplement) that prepare an "applicable financial statement" (as defined in Section 451 of the Code) generally would be required to include certain items of income, such as original issue discount ("OID") and market discount, no later than the time such amounts are reflected on such a financial statement. The application of this rule to income of a debt instrument with OID is effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2018. This could result in an acceleration of income recognition for income items differing from that which would otherwise result from the rules described in the Prospectus Supplement under the caption "United States Federal Income Taxation." Investors should consult their tax advisors with regard to interest, OID, market discount and premium matters concerning their notes.
